BOSTON AMERICAN

THE WEATHER — Boston and Vicinity: Generally fair tonight and tomorrow; temperature tonight; Wednesday unsettled, probably showers; moderate south to west winds.
Sun rises at 5:16; sets at 6:52.
Moon rises at 9:41 p. m.
High tide at 1:23 a. m.; 1:55 p. m.
Temperature: Maximum, 85 at 11 a. m. minimum, 69 at 6 a. m.; average 82.
Light all vehicles at 9:32 p. m.

LARGEST EVENING CIRCULATION IN NEW ENGLAND

COMPLETE STOCKS NIGHT

VOL. 19—No. 84 Entered at Boston, Mass., Postoffice as Second Class Matter BOSTON, TUESDAY, JULY 11, 1922 Registered U. S. Patent Office PRICE THREE CENTS

MERCHANTS LIMITED EXPRESS STONED

SHERIFFS INVADE GIRL'S BEDROOM

SUICIDE'S LOVE NOTES

Today

Another War, Big, Soon Silly Siamese You Drift In, Not Out How Rich Are We?

—By Arthur Brisbane

(Copyright, 1922 Star Co.)

When the armistice was signed it was thought the world would forget the war and start building. The building hasn't begun, and this is the most discouraging day since the armistice was signed, with all the yelling and horn blowing.

France is making up her mind about seizing the Ruhr, which contains what remains of Germany's good coal and iron deposits. If that is done, another war, a big one, and as soon as possible, is as certain as the rising of the sun.

"French bonds break, the franc drops in value," you read in the financial report.

Nations in Europe are like Siamese twins, but instead of being only twins, they are linked together in groups of triplets—France, England, Italy on the west; Austria, Germany and Russia on the east; Denmark, Norway and Sweden on the north; Belgium, Holland and Switzerland in between; Greece, Turkey and the Balkans southeast.

The same industrial blood flows through all. Let all beware if one dies. They are sitting around now watching several of their brothers and sisters slowly dying. If they had sense they would help them instead of hammering them on the head.

This country, like Europe, is in a bad situation. Two strikes, either of which might upset the nation and lead to disaster, are drifting along, apparently with no plan anywhere.

Railroad owners and coal mine owners have been led to understand that the government is "with them." But the government doesn't show it by deeds.

In war the head of the nation takes charge, says "the nation is threatened and something has got to be done."

When you have strikes that would stop railroads, close mines, bring on hard times, perhaps lawlessness and revolution, here and there, that means war in industry.

Somebody should take charge of that. It is easy enough to drift INTO trouble, but you rarely drift OUT of it.

Late yesterday it was announced unofficially that President Harding would submit definite plans of arbitration to settle the coal strike. He would ask the men to accept arbitration, and meanwhile go back to work at the old wages.

That, at least, is something definite. And it is reasonable. Where arbitration is refused, there is no possibility of any settlement except by violence, in acts or by injury to industry and the country.

New York is the richest State in money; you knew that. The total income of its citizens, according to the National Bureau of Economic Research, last year was more than nine thousand million dollars.

Nevada, according to the figures, has the smallest income, only sixty-five millions. But many a good Nevada million figures in New York's income.

In New York, opposite the big park, live the gentlemen whose brains and fingers reach out into all States and take profits.

The total income of the nation is sixty-two thousand seven hundred million dollars. A very rich nation, but the average for all its inhabitants is only $627. That is not so much.

Mr. Jesse O. Wood, of the Ku Klux organization, has gone abroad "hoping to arrange a world-wide alliance of Caucasian Protestants."

Mr. Wood, it is to be hoped, will have a pleasant trip, but he won't form any world-wide organization of Caucasian Protestants. He might as well start a rope factory at the edge of the sea, expecting to use the sand for raw material. What is a Caucasian Protestant?

Lord Curzon, of Kedleston, who married Mary Leiter, of

Continued on Page 7, Column 8.

National Shoe Style Show July 10-15 Mechanics Building
NOW ON
More than a Show—an education. A huge industry.
In Actual Operation
Leather Tanning—Shoe, Last and Pattern Making—Box and Carton Factory—Rubber and Canvas Shoe Making—Weaving Linings.
STYLE EXPOSITION
Tues.—Wed.—Thurs. Eves.
150 LIVING MODELS
ADMISSION 55c
10 A. M. to 10:30 P. M.

COLLEGE STUDENT ENDS GAY CAREER

Many Girls in Life of Youth Who Plunged 3 Stories to Death in South End

A pile of photographs of a charming blonde girl of Boston and a packet of letters telling of a love that was not sure enough to venture at marriage were left behind by Paine De Flemister, army flyer and Boston student, when he leaped from the third floor of his room at No. 94 West Newton street to the sidewalk and death below early this morning.

The letters were signed "Florence." They bore the address, No. 374 Dorchester street, South Boston. The photographs were those of Miss Florence Forsling, who resides at that address.

But when the young woman, who is a striking blonde, was told of the suicide by reporters for the Boston American today, she turned away with the statement:

"I don't know him."

"Don't know the man who has your letters and pictures?"

LEFT MANY LETTERS.

"Well, I might have known him, but I don't remember him."

There were other pictures, of other pretty girls, heaps of them in the rooms of the youth, who was a student at Laskey Commercial College.

And there were other letters, treasured for many a day, from other girls. They dealt with mild flirtations.

But the letters from Florence dealt with a passionate love. Paine De Flemister bought Florence an engagement ring. He wanted her to elope when he was called to war. She refused to marry him because she thought he might be killed and leave a war orphan, or maimed and impossible to support a wife and child. But returned from war and still Florence remained cold to his passionate advances.

Here is the story in the letters from Florence to Paine:

I know just what you are saying now. You are saying that I cannot care for you! If you only knew. I once let you feel my love as you say, but—will let it pass. Marriage is not a little thing—it is one big problem! I want to be perfectly sure that you love me and me alone!

You are also saying now—I know you are—that, well, even if I do get wounded, etc., my people could take care of you! I am more than sure they could and would, but, dear, how would I feel and how would you feel?

You have given be a diamond dear, let that shine for awhile and think over my side of the question! If you ever love anyone better than me be frank and tell me so and I will be frank with you and tell you so if I do meet such a party which I know I shall not!

Do continue writing to the Baby Doll, because dear, haven't you a sneaky feeling way down deep that some day things are coming right this way we want them to?

This is such a preachy little note, but do read my love between the lines dear, and don't give me up.

Continued on Page 5, Column 1.

MIXIT—BURGUNDY FLAVOR. No skill to make it—ask your dealer. The name Hafferafer guarantees quality.—Advt.

Student Who Ended Life and Girl Friend Letters in Dead Youth's Room Revealed He Had Many Fair Admirers

FIGURES IN COLLEGE SUICIDE.

Paine De Flemister, student who jumped to death from West Newton street window, and Miss Florence Forsling, one of his young women friends whose letters were found in his room. Young De Flemister's act came as the tragic climax to a gay life from which he had just broken away.

State Board to Probe Curley

SHERIFFS WALK IN ON GIRL

Invade Chamber Where She Is Asleep and Make Her Get Up and Dress

Pawtucket, July 11.—Deputy sheriffs armed with notices to evict Lonsdale mill tenants today walked into the bedroom of pretty Doris Remington, twenty years old, who was sleeping, ordered her to dress and later caused her to quit her home.

Miss Remington announced her intention of complaining to the police of what she terms "an outrage."

Five families were evicted by sheriffs today. They were: John Block, No. 38 Main street, and four children; Michael Pyblo and four children; John Pollitt and four children; Thomas Lavin and five children.

Continued on Page 4, Column 4.

BOSTON EXPRESS STONED

Windows of Merchants' Limited Broken While Passing Through New Haven

The Merchants' Limited from Boston, bound for New York, was stoned and windows broken last night while in the "cut" in New Haven, it was reported today.

Bloomington, Ill., July 11 (By the Associated Press).—More than 300 shots exchanged by State guardsmen and snipers marked the first night's control of the Chicago and Alton shops by troops.

Lieutenant-Colonel Charles W. Nunan, who is in charge of the guards in the shops, predicted this morning that today will be the decisive day. After a round of the sentry posts at 7 a. m., he said last night's sniping was merely to test out the mettle of the soldiers.

Colonel Culbertson denied that more than four shots were fired last night. Someone, he said, fired at a sentry with a shotgun, and the sentry fired three times in the direction of the flash.

Seven citizens living near the shops, however, telegraphed Governor Small that approximately 200 shots were fired in the direction of their homes last night, and they asked that the militiamen be restrained for further shooting.

Ultimatum by Local Track Workers

Representatives of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employes in New England will meet officials of the New England railroads today or tomorrow, and present to them an ultimatum drafted at a secret meeting of that union held in Boston.

At the secret meeting, held at No. 67 Canal street, it was voted to demand that the railway managers abolish the recent decision of the Railway Labor Board, which ordered a cut from one to five cents per hour in the pay of maintenance of way employes. Demand will also be made for a restoration of the wage scale existing prior to July 1.

The ultimatum drafted at the meeting makes no mention of a strike by the union in case the demands are not complied with, but it is generally believed that this will become a probability if the demands are refused by the railroad operators.

Labor leaders in charge of the strike of railway shopmen report growing sympathy with the strikers is growing throughout the New England States.

Many merchants, ministers and storekeepers have arrayed themselves on the side of the shopmen, they assert, and further declare that ministers are attending their meetings and addressing the strikers, while merchants are refusing to sell blankets, tools and provisions to the strike breakers, and have announced their willingness to extend unlimited credit to the families of the strikers.

Executives of the three roads entering Boston, the New Haven, Boston & Albany, and Boston & Maine, have issued statements that their trains are running on time, both through and local. In addition, they

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Peanuts Are Given High Protection by Senate Vote

Washington, July 11.—Party lines were cast aside when the Democratic opposition to the McCumber tariff bill split over the question of protecting the peanut industry.

By a vote of 52 to 13 the House rates of 3 cents a pound on unshelled peanuts and 4 cents a pound on shelled peanuts were restored.

Both rates were three times as high as the duties originally imposed by the Senate Committee.

WIFE ILL, CHILDREN ON HANDS, TAKES GAS

New York, July 11.—When Mrs. Daniel Ladwith of No. 246 Ninetieth street returned from Harlem Hospital to surprise her husband who had been left in charge of their five children during the five weeks she had been under treatment, she found him near death as a result of gas poisoning. Ladwith told police that caring for the home and the children had been too much for him.

SEIZE LIQUOR IN EX-POLICEMAN'S HOME

Patrick J. Fay, an ex-policeman, was visited unexpectedly by Sergeant Lordan and officers of the Fields Corner Station, who found five gallons of distilled liquor there, according to Lordan. Fay was not arrested, but the liquor was confiscated.

ARREST MAYOR WHEN COURTHOUSE BLEW UP

Rome, July 11.—Arrested on a charge of manufacturing bombs, Filadelfo Castro, mayor of Lentini, Sicily, blew up the Courthouse, killing all the occupants, says a dispatch to the Central News. Numerous bombs were found in the home of the mayor, who was declared to have made them for the Socialist members of the municipal council.

TODAY'S BANK STATEMENT.

N. Y. bank clearings	$940,700,000
N. Y. bank balances	$69,800,000
Boston bank clearings	$53,000,000
Boston bank balances	$14,000,000
N. Y. Fed. Reserve Bank	$39,200,000

LOMASNEY FEUD IS REVIVED

Special Commission to Delve Into Acts of Mayor's Present Term of Office

A searching inquiry of James M. Curley's already short term as Mayor, a complete investigation of the City of Boston finances and a revival of the bitter feud between Mayor Curley and Martin M. Lomasney, are in the making as a result of the creation of the special State commission "to investigate problems relating to municipal expenditures and taxation."

So broad is the power conferred on the special commission that it will be enabled to delve into every nook and cranny of the city of Boston's most intimate affairs.

Ostensibly, the purpose of the State-wide probe is to devise means of cutting down the high tax rates and lavish expenditures of all the cities and towns of the State, but the State investigators are expected to swoop down upon Boston and pry into the Curley administration in the same manner that the Republicans at Albany sent a special committee of probers to embarrass Mayor Hylan.

LOMASNEY TO SERVE.

The fact that Representative Lomasney consented to serve as one of the nine probers is taken as an indication that he is eager to carry on the battle with Mayor Curley which began when the Mayor said he ought to be driven out of the city and which resulted in the passage of the Lomasney order to send the evidence of the Finance Commission's investigation of Mayor Curley's first term to Attorney-General Allen "for such action as he may

Turn Over

DOVER QUITS AS MELLON'S AIDE

Washington, July 11.—Information was received at the Capitol from Treasury officials today that Elmer Dover of Tacoma, Wash., Assistant Secretary of the Treasury in charge of customs and internal revenue and one of the principals in the Blair-Dover controversy, had submitted his resignation, effective July 15.

CAR RIDERS GIVE SNAKE WIDE BERTH

New York, July 11.—Some careless woman let her pet black snake on the Gates avenue elevated station in Brooklyn. He was a cute snake with big eyes and a tail that waved many greetings to 100 persons on the platform. He was not crowded off—in fact, the passengers did their waiting at some distance. Then along came Patrolman Sandercker. He looked the snake in the eye and then smashed it on the head.

EXPECT BIELASKI TO APPEAR IN COURT

Mexico City, July 11 (By the Associated Press).—Bruce Bielaski will probably be called within forty-eight hours to appear before the Cuernavaca court, which is investigating his recent kidnaping, to supplement the deposition he made last week before a local judge. Arrest of the former American official is not expected, but it is believed he may be "requested" to go to Cuernavaca to assist in the final work of investigation.

IRISH REBELS KIDNAP GIRLS FOR SERVANTS

London, July 11.—Republican Irregulars in County Donegal, Ireland, have kidnaped twelve girls, using them as servants, according to a Central News dispatch from there this afternoon. Many young women are reported in flight from County Donegal, fearing seizure.

By DANIEL O'CONNELL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

Dublin, July 11.—Desultory fighting broke out in Dublin early today, but the Free State troops were successful in restoring order. Regulars were twice attacked from ambush.

A sharp engagement was fought between regulars and Republican rebels at Loughrea. The regulars were victorious.

Fresh disorders are reported from the Free State-Ulster frontier, but the regulars hold the chief strategic positions and control practically all the border on its southern side.

The Free State troops continue their systematic advance through the south, clearing out small guerrilla bands that attempt to offer resistance.

Clonmel has been isolated and the real situation there is in doubt.

Irregulars are again active in the Dundalk region, where they destroyed a number of railroad bridges on Monday.

A report was circulated here that R. C. Barton and other leaders of the Republican rebels, who were captured in the battle of Dublin had escaped from jail, but it is not confirmed.

FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE Keeps every blab during wave weather.—Advt.

JUDGE PIERCE ACCEPTS FREE SERVICES OF COUNSEL

Justice Edward P. Pierce, whose acceptance of gifts of flowers, cordwood and vegetables was the basis of the attempt to remove him from the Supreme Court, also accepted gifts of free lawyers' services in his fight against the removal charges, according to the returns of expenses made today under the lobby laws.

Judge Pierce spent $290.94 for expenses during the trial before the legislative investigation committee which exonerated him of wrongdoing.

All the money went for clerical expenses and stenographic reports. The returns show that Attorney George L. Mayberry and former Attorney-General Herbert Parker, who defended him, did not charge for their services.

PARKER IS PAID $600.

Other returns today showed that Parker was paid $600 by Charles L. Ridgway, the Revere Beach amusement promoter, for his work on the bill to improve street railway service to the beach.

Burdett & Wardwell, the State street law firm, recorded the receipt of $15,000 for services to the Massachusetts Electric & Gas Corporation, which was defeated in the attempt to put through the bill to permit the gas and electric corporations to capitalize $30,000,000 of premiums.

The county commissioners of Barnstable and Franklin counties reported payments of $100 each to George Fred Williams for representing them in opposition to Governor Cox's attempt to gain State control over the county penal institutions. Payments in excess of $2,000 to Williams by other counties had already been recorded.

The Boston Elevated Street Railway reported an annual salary of $12,000 for General Counsel H. Ware Barnum and $7,500 to Assistant Counsel Charles W. Mulcahy, who both represented the L at the State House.

OTHER EXPENSES FILED.

Attorney Alfred E. Lunt was paid $1,250 by the Massachusetts Industrial Protective Association in the futile campaign to break down the minimum wage laws. Charles J. Hodnon received $1,800 as legislative agent of the American Federation of Labor.

George P. Drury, a Republican candidate for Attorney-General, was paid $75 for representing the opposition of the Massachusetts Civic Alliance to the bill which grants George Rollins a new trial on the murder charge.

Day Baker received $1,000 for legislative work from the Massachusetts Automobile Dealers and Garage Association, got $2,500 from the Plum Island Beach Company for work in favor of their bills. The National Board of Fire Underwriters paid $1,500 to Attorney Claude L. Allen.

C. A. Burdette Will

The will of the late Charles A. Burdette, who died July 4th, was filed for probate at East Cambridge. The will disposes of an estate valued at $106,000. There are no public bequests. The entire estate is willed to Mrs. Anna E. Burdett, the widow, who, with a brother of the deceased, Fred H. Burdette, is made executor of the estate.

REVIVAL OF CURLEY-LOMASNEY FEUD SEEN IN NEW PROBE

INQUIRY BY STATE BOARD

Continued From First Page

deem necessary in the public interest."

The resolve creating the special commission was passed by the Legislature as a result of the abnormal increases in local taxes that have come the past two years, many of them resulting from war costs.

President Allen has already appointed two Senators to the commission and Speaker Young has named four Representatives, including Mr. Lomasney, whose consent to serve was doubtlessly obtained before he was appointed. As soon as Governor Cox appoints three members, the commission will begin its work.

That no doubt exists of the power of the commission to poke its finger into every bit of Boston's business may be seen from this statement in the law which created the commission:

POWERS OF COURT.

"It shall be the duty of the commission to investigate and consider city and town expenditures and tax levies, the functions and duties of cities and towns and the possibility of reducing or controlling municipal expenditures and taxes."

Another power conferred on the commission is this:

"The commission shall be furnished with suitable rooms in the State House, may hold public hearing, may require by summonses the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of books and papers relating to any matter under investigation, and may administer oaths to any witnesses testifying before it.

"A witness who gives false testimony or who fails to appear when duly summoned shall be subject to the same penalties to which a witness before a court is subject for so offending."

Citizens Open Fire at Mining Co.'s Big Searchlight

Steubenville, O., July 11 (By International News Service).—A rifle battle, in which more than 200 shots were fired, occurred early this morning, when citizens of, Warrenton and vicinity, this county, opened fire at a giant searchlight located at the Ohio River. The fire was returned by mine guards.

Residents of Warrenton and vicinity have organized to stop the playing of the searchlight on their homes and property at night. The light is operated by the mining company which is operating on a non-union basis.

City Hall Swamped by Rush to Pay Water Bills

So great was the rush to pay water bills today that the city collector's office was swamped. Yesterday over 3,000 separate accounts were settled. Clerks were forced to work until 11 o'clock last night in order to catch up.

The amounts are small ones ranging from $5 to $100. The total amount collected was $12,264.31. Of this $10,447.82 was for 1922 and 1921 delinquents paid in $1,043; 1920, $747.99, and $34.26 was received for 1919 bills.

Long lines of men, women and children started early today to follow up the crush of yesterday as City Collector William M. McGorrow estimated that today's receipts would far outnumber those of yesterday.

BOSTON YOUTH IS DROWNED IN RIVER

Claremont, N. H., July 11.—James E. Higgins, eighteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Higgins of Charlestown, Mass., was drowned in six feet of water in the Sugar River. The lad was clad in a bathing suit and police believe he was stricken while bathing. He came here in 1920 as a draughtsman for a local firm.

U. S. WARSHIPS READY TO FIRE ON CHINESE

Shanghai, July 11.—British and American warships in Pearl River were ready for action today, when three Chinese cruisers, under command of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, former President of the Republic of South China, began bombarding Macos (Portuguese dependency) in the mouth of the Canton River, off the city of Canton.

It had been reported that Sun was in flight towards Hong Kong, but this proved untrue. Instead of fleeing, he executed a surprise movement during the night by abandoning his position at Whampoa, which had become untenable.

Taking all his troops on board the three cruisers, Sun went to the Canton harbor. Just at dawn the gunners on the cruisers began throwing shells into the forts on Macao Island. Under cover of the cannonading Sun's soldiers landed. It was then that the British and American warcraft were prepared for action, in the event their services were needed for protection of foreign lives and property.

During the bombardment some Russian and American warehouses were damaged.

Reinforcements are arriving for Dr. Sun and there are indications that an effort will be made to capture the city of Canton, former capital of South China.

ARREST TWO AT BALL GAME RIOT

Two men were arrested, several were injured and the collection box stolen as the result of an umpire's decision in a baseball game between the Malden Town Team and the Chelsea Progressives on Ferryway Green, Malden. The visitors led in the eighth inning, 3-1, and just when the home team had a chance to tie the score the umpire called the game off on account of darkness.

Malden fans, enraged at the lost chance for victory, rushed on to the field and a riot developed.

The men arrested were Louis Rosenblatt, twenty-three, of Central avenue, a Chelsea player, who was charged with assault and battery, and Hyman Wallinsky of No. 23 Harlon place, Boston, who was charged with failing to stop his automobile on the order of a policeman.

The appearance of reserve officers, with drawn guns and clubs, quickly calmed the excited rioters.

MRS. HITT WILL SHARE IN BROTHER'S ESTATE

Washington, July 11.—Mrs. Katherine Elkins Hitt will share in the estate of Richard Elkins, her brother, who died at Atlantic City on June 30, according to the will filed for probate today. Other beneficiaries are his brothers, Senator Davis Elkins, Stephen B. Elkins and Blaine Elkins, brothers of Mrs. Hitt. As no inventory was filed with the will, which is dated December 14, 1915, the value of the estate will not be known until the petition for probate is filed.

Mrs. Katherine E. Hitt (International News Reel)

Mr. Elkins was the son of the late Senator Stephen B. Elkins of West Virginia.

QUEBEC TO HAVE RADIUM INSTITUTE

Montreal, July 11.—Quebec will be the first province to create an institute for treatment with radium, according to an announcement by Premier Taschereau. The institute will be attached to l'Universite de Montreal. Arrangements are being completed to obtain the necessary quantity of radium to permit the establishment to operate. One gram of radium will be sufficient to start with and will cost over $100,000. The institute will be the property of the province.

FORMER POLICEMAN GUILTY NON-SUPPORT

Robert E Slesser, former police officer who resigned from the police department because he could make better wages in another position, was found guilty today of failing to support his wife Annie and tiny daughter Eleanor and given two weeks in which to get a job and make good, a plea of "no work" having been entered. Hearing was in Roxbury court.

MERCHANTS' LIMITED IS STONED

Continued From First Page

state that they have a liberal reserve of rolling stock and equipment.

Machine Guns in Place at Strike Centre

Chicago, July 11 (By the Associated Press).—Increasing disorders, curtailment of train services and additional troops on duty at several trouble centres marked the progress of the rail strike today. Ranks of the strikers also were recruited, as clerks on the Norfolk & Western were authorized to strike.

At Milwaukee, Wis., two Chicago & Northwestern Railroad guards were attacked by a band of twelve men armed with stones and clubs early this morning. The guards were found in a semi-conscious condition. In another disturbance one man was injured.

Eastern roads, including the Pennsylvania, the New York Central and the Delaware & Hudson, announced they had enough machinists, surplus locomotives and rolling stock to continue present service indefinitely.

The Santa Fe announced that it was "on top of the strike" and that the situation was improving steadily.

Fifty-four trains, six of them entering Pullmans, have been taken off the Wabash Railway, it was announced here today. Officials here said the curtailment was due to lack of coal coming from Kentucky and not due to the strike.

One hundred Pennsylvania Railroad section men quit work at Denison, O.

Fresh acts of violence occurred in California. At Roseville, fifteen miles from Sacramento, an employe of the Pacific Fruit Express was shot while on duty at a car-icing plant. Armed strike sympathisers were said to be occupying positions commanding the plant.

At Newcastle, Calif., attempts were made to dynamite one of the largest water tanks on the Southern Pacific system.

Stone Says Trainmen Do Not Intend to Strike

Cleveland, July 11 (By the International News Service).—Declaring that "we do not go on any sympathetic strikes" and branding as "unauthorized" printed reports that the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers were preparing to file protests with the Interstate Commerce Commission imposing upon members of the striking shopcraft unions, Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhoods, told International News Service today that the situation so far as his organization was concerned remained as when the strike order became effective July 1.

"No order has yet been issued to the men and no protest has been filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission," Mr. Stone said. "We will meet every issue as it effects us as it comes up and not otherwise."

Railroad Signalmen Will Not Strike

Chicago, July 11.—The Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen will not strike, for the present at least, according to a statement issued this morning by D. W. Helt, president of the organization. Mr. Helt said the signalmen would take up all questions of disagreement with the roads separately and in case an understanding could not be arrived at, the matter would be taken up again with the United States Railroad Labor Board.

Clerks of Western Line Ignore Strike Order

Roanoke, Va. July 11.—Officials of the Norfolk & Western Railroad announced an hour after the time set for a strike of clerks, freight handlers, express and station employes of the road, that not a clerk had gone out.

Information as to the results at other points on the road of the strike call issued by Chairman C. H. Lane with the sanction of Grand President E. H. Fitzgerald, was not obtainable.

PATRICK HENRY RING IN LOOT OF BURGLARS

Spring Lake, N. J., July 11.—A diamond ring, once the property of Patrick Henry, was in the $5,500 loot obtained on June 30 by burglars who robbed the home of the patriot's great-great-grandson, William L. Royall, at No. 214 Tuttle avenue. An antique English hunting case, which formerly belonged to Chief Justice Marshall of the United States Supreme Court was also stolen.

WEYMOUTH TO PAY $6,000 CAR DEFICIT

The citizens of Weymouth voted unanimously to appropriate $6,000 to make good a deficit in the operation of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway lines in that town, for the coming year.

Girl Drug Sleuth Threatened With Death by Opium Band

Letters Warning Her of Dire Vengeance Received by Mae Cookson Following $100,000 Dope Raid.

Letters threatening her with death at the hands of traffickers in opium have been received by Miss Mae Cookson, the Federal investigator, to whose efforts the recent $100,000 opium layout raid in Boston's Chinatown was largely due.

Federal narcotic inspectors are on the trail of the authors of the anonymous communications, one of which reached the Boston American addressed to Miss Cookson.

LETTERS, OPIUM STAINED.

Several of the missives are stained with opium, and show finger prints, through which the Federal officers hope to be able to identify the senders. All of them were mailed in Boston, some at the Back Bay and some at the Harrison avenue postal station.

It is believed by the Federal narcotic authorities that several of the letters were written by the same person, a woman, who, until recently, was a frequent visitor to Chinatown.

The fact that this woman was generally known among the Chinese by the name of "Alice," and that several of the letters, including that addressed to the young investigator at the American, contained this name, leads to the belief that members of the cohorts of drug users to which this particular woman was connected, had a hand in framing the letters.

FINGER PRINTS OF WOMEN.

Experts who examined the letter say that most of the finger prints, showing plainly on the smooches of opium with which the letters are streaked, are those of women's hands.

The letter addressed to Miss Cookson at the Boston American office, was on a single sheet of plain white writing paper. It was written in bluish ink in a round hand, with an evident effort at disguise.

The letter, similar to the others received in minor details, read as follows:

"Dear Miss Cookson:

"We have read in the Boston American how, after accepting our hospitality, you squealed on us. We all know you and will get you sure sooner or later—so look out—Alice knows where you live and she will fix you right."

It was signed, "One you squealed on."

THREATS OVER PHONE.

Miss Cookson admitted last night that in addition to the letters she received several threatening messages over the telephone since the record-breaking raid, in which Dr. Erwin C. Ruth's Federal agents and Detective Caverly, Monahan and Conway of District Attorney O'Brien's "white squadron" arrested thirteen Chinese.

She and Federal Inspector Ralph A. Fry also admitted that since the big raid she has been under guard, day and night, the authorities fearing that the Chinese or the white women opium addicts might try to do away with her.

The dainty little sleuth denied, however, that she will give up her work because of the death threats.

"Use of Drugs No Higher Since Prohibition"

A statement issued by the local Internal Revenue Department today showed that 9,500 individuals and concerns have been registered in this State and given authority to distribute narcotics. These are in five classes, manufacturers, doctors, hospitals, veterinarians and other licensed authorities.

The statement cited that statistics in the Internal Revenue Department do not reveal any increase in the use of drugs as a result of prohibition.

It further states that some physicians have been found to abuse drug privileges, one who was discovered trafficking in opium being a user himself. The statement avers that certain persons formerly identified with liquor peddling have taken up the illicit sale of drugs.

POLICEMAN SHOT IN BUFFALO CAR STRIKE

Buffalo, N. Y., July 11.—The first casualty in the street car strike occurred when a special policeman, hired by the International Railway Company, was shot in the thigh by Patrolman Stanley Gorski of the Central station. The policeman shot was George Stanley, thirty years old. The shooting was the outgrowth of a disorderly gathering from which Stanley ran, after having fired a shot. Patrolman Gorski called upon him to halt. Failing to obey, Gorski fired at him.

SANCTION STRIKE OF DEPOT EMPLOYES

Cincinnati, O., July 11.—A strike of railway clerks, freight handlers, express and station employes on the Norfolk & Western railroad has been sanctioned by Grand President E. H. Fitzgerald, according to I. D. Mumby, assistant to Fitzgerald at the headquarters of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, here today.

Boston, Mass
July 7, 1922

Dear Miss Cookson
We have read in the Boston American how after accepting our hospitality you squealed on us. We all know you and will get you sure sooner or later - so look out - Alice knows where you live and she will fix you right
One you squealed on

MISS MAE COOKSON

NAVY YARD LAY-OFF PUT UP TO LODGE

United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge was bombarded today by navy yard workers for his failure to see that the Charlestown Navy Yard secured a proper allotment for new construction work which would have prevented the wholesale laying off of men now in effect.

In Washington urging him to action, or suffer the effects of his failure to act in the coming election, were James Kelleher and William McDonald, two of a committee of six representing irate workers of all crafts at the Charlestown yards, who are incensed that Boston has been the port picked on to make cuts in personnel while other navy yards are suffering no layoffs of men, and have plenty of money to carry on."

In Boston the remaining four members of the committee, John Dignan, Edward Hamilton, William Keavey and Edward Foley interviewed Governor Channing H. Cox, Mayor James M. Curley and representatives of various war veterans' organizations and were promised that instant pressure would be brought to bear on the Massachusetts senator to prevent further layoffs.

A week ago 10 per cent. of the Charlestown yard forces were laid off, 840 men in all. On August 1 another 10 per cent. cut has been ordered, which will effect more than 200 more men.

Last year's allotment from the Navy Department for new construction amounted to almost three-quarters of a million dollars. This year the allotment was but $150,000.

"Unless Senator Lodge acts instantly with the Bureau of Navigation," said members of the committee today, "hundreds of loyal yard workers will be out of work in the midst of winter with coal probably selling at unheard of prices and their families suffering in want."

CHEMICAL RECORDS GO TO GRAND JURY

Washington, July 11.—Francis P. Garvan, alien property custodian in the Wilson administration, now president of the Chemical Foundation, Inc., brought to Washington today the records and books of the foundation to present to the Grand Jury impanelled to investigate war graft. Mr. Garvan was unacquainted with the nature of the move by the Department of Justice in connection with the demand made on the Chemical Foundation by Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian, for the return of all former enemy owned patents which had been sold to the foundation when Mr. Garvan was alien property custodian.

'BLIND' PEDLAR HELD AS DRUG PURVEYOR

Portland, Me., July 11.—Portland's blind, deaf and dumb mending tape seller is missing from the streets today, and one of the most skilful drug drummers, a large quantity of morphine, a counterfeiting machine and a list of more than 500 young women addicts are in possession of government officials.

The "blind, deaf and dumb man" was arrested by Federal Narcotic Inspector Henry L. O'Malley, who trailed him through a dozen States. He is James C. Wilson, alias "Dr." James C. Baker, paroled last February from the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta after serving five years for a serious offence.

His wife, Mrs. Ida Wilson, was taken into custody with him. In their apartment at No. 88 Pleasant street was found thirty ounces of morphine, more than 100 counterfeit and forged government order blanks and a machine for making counterfeit blanks.

For weeks past wholesale drug houses throughout the country have been flooded with big orders for morphine signed "Dr. James C. Baker." Some were small big ones, and the "doctor" gave addresses ranging from Philadelphia to the Canadian line.

LARGE DRUG ORDERS.

Although apparently filled out and signed in proper form, the number of these orders attracted the attention of government sleuths, who check the wholesale drug houses, and Federal Inspector O'Malley was assigned to the case by Dr. Erwin C. Ruth.

O'Malley picked up the trail in Philadelphia. He followed Wilson and his wife to New York, to Boston, to Manchester, N. H., through the State of Vermont to Rouse's Point on the Canadian line and thence to this city, where, a fortnight ago, Wilson hired the Pleasant street apartment.

In every city Wilson, posing by day as a blind, deaf and dumb man selling mending tape, visited a large number of homes of drug addicts. It is claimed that he also made use of his disguise to peddle morphine tablets on the streets.

By night he would visit the postoffices of the various cities. Without his disguise, looking like a keen, but weary professional man, he would call for and receive packages of morphine sent by wholesale drug houses to "Dr. James C. Baker."

MANY GIRL CUSTOMERS.

O'Malley, formerly a secret service man in Europe, laid several traps for him in the various cities, but he was unable to get him with the goods on.

Last night when he visited the postoffice, O'Malley arrested him as he received a package of morphine from a St. Louis wholesale drug firm.

Although he submitted to arrest without a struggle, a fully loaded revolver, and a box of cartridges were found on him. The prisoner is said to have admitted that the greater part of his trade was done with young women.

He admitted being a drug addict himself. Immediately after his arrest he was arraigned before a United States commissioner and was held in $5,000.

TODAY

Continued From First Page

Chicago, when he was George Curzon, has been cured of insomnia by Coue system. Mr. Coue is a Frenchman who has persuaded the English and others that they can make themselves more successful by saying: "I am getting better and better every day." This form of self-hypnotism on waking and retiring seems to work well with certain individuals. The trouble with Europe is that Germany and some other nations are compelled to say: "I am getting worse and worse every day."

In Switzerland yesterday they sold German marks for one centime each. It takes five centimes to make one cent in our money. The mark used to be twenty-four cents. That tells the story of German money—and the Russian money is infinitely worse, also the Austrian.

And that interests the United States. For people with broken-down currency must buy from each other; they can't buy from us. Our money is too high, and that makes our goods too high.

A flying boat line is established between Cleveland and Detroit; a good thing for both cities, proof of energy in both.

The flying boat, before long, will go as far as the lakes and the rivers go, connecting all the Great Lake cities by air. And eventually all the cities of all the world will be connected by air.

The real navigable waters are no longer contained in oceans, seas, lakes and rivers. The air above us is now the ocean, and every city is a seaport.

Filene's Automatic Bargain BASEMENT

"Killing two birds with one stone"—Folks who walk thru daily get the advantage of advertised lots; also hundreds of unadvertised lots. Do YOU walk thru?—first price must be LOW or we lose ¼ after 12 selling days, ½ after 18 selling days, ¾ after 24 selling days. Goods given away to charitable institutions after 30 selling days.

☛ 20 to 22 inches of SILK
☛ fashion marked to look like full fashioned ☛ Ready Wednesday

3102 prs. ("2nds") SILK hosiery

WOMEN'S 69c

yes! even plenty of white, black, cordovan or sand sizes 8½ to 10

Fashion marks the seam to give the appearance of full-fashioned hosiery, 69c

good SILK for cost of lisle

Reinforced lisle top, heels, soles and toes, the appearance of a much more expensive full fashioned stocking—see the variety of colors you have to choose from—note the fine heavy appearance of the SILK, and see how well they are made, and buy two pairs at the usual price of a single pair.

Hundreds of other lots—NO MAIL ORDERS

LOVE LETTERS LEFT BY COLLEGE STUDENT WHO ENDS HIS LIFE

LEAPS 3 STORIES TO DEATH

Continued From First Page.

Write as often as you can and don't think ill of me. The war may soon be over. Comes here if you can before you go and do be careful of yourself.

X for daddy. If you really love me you will write!! Florence.

374 Dorchester Street.
South Boston, Mass.
August 5, 1918.

Dear Paine:

You dear, dear daddy!!! Can you stretch your imagination far enough to understand how very happy and glad I was to hear from my Dayton laddie and how very very sorry and worried I was because you had not written sooner?

I read your first letter about a hundred times (if not more) and carried it around almost everywhere with me in my bag. So you see how well you are appreciated and still thought of by "Baby Doll."

But my dear, sweetie, I understand perfectly as to your not writing me before. I wish I had one dear kiss from your dear lips now, Paine! You say you love me—but do you know how much I love you? Oh, dear, dear darling, Paine!

"A CLEAN DEARE PAL."

I should not wonder if your precious mother did worry about you! Who wouldn't? But, Paine, you know whose hands you're in, and trust and hope for the best for all of our own sakes! Do not get nervous or excited when flying—keep a cool head! I am sure that even will again be a lucky number and you will come back with medals galore pinned on your manly chest! Instead of! Oh Paine, if anything should happen to you in any way please ask your people to let us know—won't you, dear?

You've been a straight, decent fellow with me, Paine, and I thank you for it. It isn't often a girl meets a fellow, a clean, dear pal, like you, my darling, darling daddy! How could I think otherwise of you, dear?

As for my being a clean, decent and modest kid, I hope I am and will be always.

I will just remind you that my feelings haven't changed. Shall we keep in touch with each other you ask? Most certainly, because I hope that somewhere, sometime we are going to be together.

You do not hate to write to me, I know, because I love to write to you! Please do send me a picture of yourself.

The last night you were here you certainly didn't get a very warm reception because I was afraid, dear, that I would break down, and make matters worse for the both of us. The night before, as you say, you felt my love for you, but that was the only time, dear, I so far forgot myself to really show you my sincere feelings for you! I am a very queer duck.

Payne, I am hard to give in, but I don't think I mind your knowing that I loved you very much and still and always will.

WOULD BREAK HER HEART.

I know that if ever misfortune were mine you would be the first one I would turn to and that for another thing shows what kind of a MAN you are!

I realize fully how you feel about squeezing the lemon for blood when there is none in it. . . . . Payne, dear, why can't we wait until this terrible war is over and see just how things turn out!

I know how you would feel if you did have something happen to you so that you were wounded in any way or worse than that, to have me be with you like that. Understand dear, just how I mean this, dear!

Please do, or you will break my heart! How would I feel, dear, if I was a cripple and married you—wouldn't I feel like a leaden weight around your neck? You would not, of course, be that way to me, but I know how you would feel!

Then, dear, there will always be a possibility of children if we married, and maybe, if you never come back, without a father! You see I am very frank.

Please see my side, dear, and let me know just how you feel after reading this letter. You must remember that I think a whole lot of you when I wear your dear ring yet on the same finger and am very proud of the fact that you gave it to me!

WAITING FOR PICTURE.

Then, dear, we are both very young! Are you sure that you would consider me first of all the fair ladies? the way I feel now I would consider first, but what have I seen of this big world!

374 Dorchester Street.
South Boston, Mass.,
August 31, 1918.

Dearest:

Your dear letter again received and was as always very happy to hear from you. I knew you would understand just how I felt in my letter and am glad you considered it ideal.

It made me so happy to think that you cared enough about me to write! If you had been here at the time I got your letter you would surely have had enough sweetness from my lips (as you say) to last a year or more.

Paine, dear, I am still waiting for your picture. You know, your little Kitty hasn't got one picture of you at all yet. Have taken a few snap shots lately but as they didn't come out, they good will send one of the next good batch that is taken.

CALLS HIM SWEETHEART.

What are you doing now, I wonder, or rather whose little bear are you breaking now?

I suppose you are having a dandy time wherever you are and surely would like to take a peek at you!

Well, dear, although I have no further news for you of importance I will add that I still love by Western daddy. . . . Oh, Paine, dear, sweetheart, angel!

Write to me soon again and send me one of your pictures and be good and if you can't be good be careful!

Where's my picture now?

Florence.
374 Dorchester Street.
South Boston, Mass.
August 26, 1918.

My Dear Payne:

Your dear letter received and as usual more than glad to hear from you. I have been trying to answer this letter of yours for the past two days, but have not been able to snatch a moment until just now.

B. V. D.s. and chemises sure do make good window tapestries, or at least, I think they ought to.

Wish you were here to give me a few injections of gin and ginger ale, but throw out the life line, no such luck!

Had dinner at the Quincy House last night and it surely shows no ill effects from prohibition. They are going to have dancing there now. So come back and we'll shimmie and everything.

I don't believe there ever was a spark. I think it was always a flame! Florence.

GOING TO "KEEP STRAIGHT."

August 17, 1918.

Dear Payne:

It was surely, as you say, bad enough to see each other every night in the week without having a loving time than it is to be away from each other altogether. You can't imagine. I don't suppose you can, how a girl feels about things like that. Many a time I've just wanted to say, "Take me! I am yours!" But Paine, dear, things we do quickly we have plenty of time to think over slowly later.

I understand a fellow's side of the problem entirely and have often sympathized in my heart, way inside, daddy dear, with a fellow's feelings, and especially yours.

You say you want me to be your dear little wife and everything else dear and not less do you want me than I want to be yours. I know I will win out every time because I am going to try to keep straight and decent for you!

"OCEAN FULL OF LOVE."

374 Dorchester Street, South Boston, Mass., October 26, 1918.

Dearest Payne:

So you don't feel very good yet? I'm sorry for my dear sweetheart way out West. Am I the same sweet baby doll? That's not for me to say, but I hope I am.

You're not in earnest about Alaska, I hope. Then we would never see Mr. Payne any more. Are you still in the service or out of it?

Extract—no date.

Dear Payne:

Write soon, dear, and God love you and bless you, and you know the rest! Mama wanted me to send you all the love I could possibly spare from her, but I think I shall send you an ocean full of love with a kiss oh every wave this time! Write as often as you can.

De Flemister was twenty-five years old. He had been a veteran in the World war, and among his papers were letters written by girls in France.

Mrs. Cummins, landlady of the rooming house, said De Flemister told her recently he had gotten in with a fast crowd and was trying to break away. The boy confided his trouble to the landlady.

"I can't work, can't attend school and travel the pace they set me," he told her. "I've got to make my choice. I'm going to try to make it alone. If any of them call for me or phone me, I wish you'd tell them I'm not in. Or that I'm not living here any longer."

For a while, the landlady said, the student became a recluse, sitting in his room until early morning hours, reading letters and smoking cigarettes. Several months ago he left the place. Soon he was back again, looking haggard. Again he took Mrs. Cummins into his confidence.

DOG REVEALS SUICIDE.

"I'm through," he said. "I know when I've got a good home. I appreciate it, too. I've broken away from my fast friends and all the women I know. I'm going to stay here now for good."

He kept his word.

A collie dog first called attention to the tragedy. The dog's barking followed a dull thud heard on the sidewalk. Lodgers in adjoining houses rushed to the street. They found the crushed body of De Flemister, clad in his underwear. His head was on the curbstone and the rest of his body in the street.

The ambulance came with a harsh clangor and bore him away.

Upstairs the chambermaid cleaned out the cigarette ashes.

9 GIRL FRIENDS OF SUICIDE

PHOTOS OF THESE GIRLS IN YOUTH'S ROOM

Young Paine De Flemister, the college student who hurled himself to death in West Newton street today, had many women acquaintances. In his room pictures of these fair friends were found on all sides, tacked on the walls, adorning a bureau and hanging in frames.

Oh, but the U. S. Men Are Snappy Lovemakers!

New York, July 11.—The "perfect lover" is a big, broad-shouldered American, because he can make more love in a half an hour than a European can in a week.

The foregoing opinion was given by Miss Doris Christiansen, niece of William Christiansen, manager of the Gooseberry Fishing Club of Newport, R. I. She had returned from a six months' stay on the Continent. She was asked:

"What about the European as the perfect lover?"

"They are perfect only in fiction. American men make love snappy."

STOWAWAY BACK TO U. S. FOR THIRD TIME

New York, July 11.—For the third time since the war, Oscar Bigall, a young German, lost from all his kindred, landed on Ellis Island as a stowaway.

He had been deported only a few weeks ago and said that he had no sooner been landed in Bremen from the steamer Susquehanna than he ran across the docks and stowed away in the hold of the steamer George Washington, then about to leave for the United States.

Bigall is twenty-two, and was called the youngest soldier in the Prussian army, having enlisted when he was less than sixteen. He was a pet of General von der Goltz, and was wounded five times in the war.

He wrote an appealing letter to the captain of the George Washington, and begged the landing agent of the United States, William Dyke, to "please lay my case before the immigration authorities and tell them it will be a kind act for the sake of humanity if they will help me to get back with my father and mother."

"I cannot live without knowing at least where my mother is," said the young stowaway, when locked up with more than 100 other so-called hoboes of the high seas. "It is of no use to send me back to Germany, for I'm going to keep coming to the United States until I find my mother."

ACTOR DRUNK FOUR YEARS, SAYS WIFE

Los Angeles, Cal., July 11.—Though a favorite comedian on the screen, Leo Moran, film star, is a tragedian in his own home, according to Mrs. Esther Moran, who has filed suit for divorce on the ground of extreme cruelty.

Furthermore, she alleges that Moran has been intoxicated for the past four years. The complaint, which was prepared by Attorneys Ford & Bodkin, alleges that Moran draws a salary of $2,250 a week. Mrs. Moran wants $1,000 a month alimony, $2,500 attorney's fees, $150 court costs and the custody of a minor child. The community property is declared to consist of a $20,000 home on Plymouth boulevard, and a $3,500 limousine.

Bootleggers played an important part in the domestic affairs of the Moran family, according to the allegations in the complaint. Mrs. Moran's philosophy was that she had a right to spend dollar for dollar for clothes as he spent his money for "booze."

This, she alleges, aroused his ire and he accused her of being a spendthrift. She stated in the complaint for the past four years, during which time he had been under the influence of liquor, according to her assertion, he has spent "large sums" for intoxicants.

She further claims that she suffered a nervous breakdown in trying to keep up the pace set by her husband in playing night life.

BOARD OF INQUIRY ON SOLDIER'S DEATH

Camp Devens, July 11.—A board of inquiry of three officers of the 51st Infantry Brigade, now encamped here for Summer training, will investigate the death of Corporal Frederick W. Mealey of the service company of the 101st Infantry.

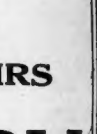
The body of the dead corporal, killed when the wheels of a water cart passed over him, has been sent under military escort to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Mealey, No. 102½ H street, South Boston.

ALLEN AGAIN FILES PAPERS FOR SENATE

President Frank G. Allen of the Senate has filed papers for the Republican nomination from his district. Representative George L. Richards of Malden has also filed renomination papers.

FILM STAR SAILS "DREAM IN WHITE"

New York, July 11.—Miss Marie E. Wells, motion picture actress, was among those sailing for Europe recently. Miss Wells is taking a pleasure trip to England, France and Germany, intending to spend the Summer abroad. She was acclaimed a "perfect dream in white" as she waved good-by to a crowd of admirers who came to the dock to see her off.



Miss Marie Wells
Photo by International News Real.

CONFERENCE OF NON-UNION COAL MEN

Washington, July 11.—Representatives of non-union coal operators will be called together the end of this week to consider means of dealing with smaller operators who are selling coal at prices in advance of the maximums recently reached by voluntary agreement, Secretary Hoover said today.

The coal strike situation marked time today pending decision of operators and miners in the anthracite and unionized bituminous fields as to acceptance of President Harding's proposal for the fixing of a new wage scale by arbitration and the immediate resumption of work meantime at the wage rates of March 31 last.

ELLIS WOULD GIVE UP STATE CONTRACT

The question of the George H. Ellis Company transferring to Wright and Potter, the State printing contract for two years will come before the Governor and Council at their regular session tomorrow. Mr. Ellis has signed the contract as of July 1, but because of the short period that the contract has to run, he has expressed the desire to transfer the work to Wright and Potter, the State printers, up to July 1.

Secretary of State Frederick W. Cook today stated the contract has been signed, but before the work can be transferred to another printer it must have the approval of the Governor and Council.

GEORGIA GOVERNOR TO UNMASK KLAN

Atlanta, Ga., July 11.—The Ku Klux Klan in Georgia must unmask, said Governor Thomas W. Hardwick, and if it doesn't do so voluntarily we will ask the General Assembly to pass a law making it a criminal offense to wear a mask in the State. The Governor made this statement in a letter to W. W. Rainey and said he had decided on this action to prevent the spread of mob violence.

MATHILDE MAY WAIT TO WED NEXT APRIL

New York, July 11.—Miss Mathilde McCormick is a guest of her grandfather, John D. Rockefeller, at Tarrytown.

It is said Miss McCormick has come to New York on a last attempt to influence her grandfather to consent to her marriage to Max Oser, the Swiss riding master. She will be a guest of the Rockefellers until the end of the week.

Harold F. McCormick will arrive here about Thursday in time to accompany his son, Fowler, and Mathilde on a trip abroad.

Whether or not Mathilde McCormick wins Mr. Rockefeller's consent it is now believed that she will wait until she attains her majority, next April, in order to marry Oser without any legal confusion.

BOAT CAPSIZES; 3 GIRLS AND BOY LOST

Three Rivers, Que., July 11.—Three young girls and one of their four boy companions were drowned in Lake St. Paul, near Beaucour, and the three other boys in the party swam to shore after the boat in which the seven were rowing had capsized. All were between fifteen and twenty-two years old.

Advertise Your Used Car to Sell It

If it is a good car, if it will give service, if it is in first-class repair, you can easily find a buyer for it by advertising it for sale in the "Automobile Exchange" columns of the American.

Here is a well-known market in which buyers and sellers of used cars meet each other and make deals of mutual advantage to both.

Describe your car in a want ad. Tell the make, the condition of the car, and if you think best, the selling price, then, for quick action, send it to the American with instructions to run it until a sale is effected. That will not be long, for

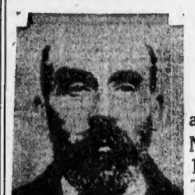
THE BOSTON AMERICAN IS Boston's Want Ad Directory Read for Profit—Use for Results Telephone Main 5180

COMING!

The First True and Complete Story of the

SECRET LOVE AFFAIRS Of

LANDRU



LANDRU

The Monster Who Won 283 WOMEN and Murdered No Less Than 15.

The official report of his amours and killings, together with his own ghastly diary

By the World's Greatest Criminologist-Author—

WILLIAM LE QUEUX

First Chapter in

FRIDAY'S BOSTON AMERICAN

PONZI LOOKS LIKE "PAYING GUEST" AT PLYMOUTH JAIL

Plymouth, July 10.—Charles Ponzi, former get-rich-quick genius, who has petitioned for a hearing looking toward release, is "living the life of Riley."

Serving a sentence of five years in Plymouth County jail for using the mails in a scheme to defraud, Ponzi actually resembles a paying guest in an exclusive Summer resort.

To be sure the resplendent garments which lead reporters with much originality to describe the "wizard" as dapper, are missing, together with fawn-colored spats and gems.

Furthermore, grouse, canvasbacks and caviar have no place on the menu, and an enforced regidence in even a Summer resort can become irksome. But it has many extenuating circumstances.

The jail, or institution, as Sheriff Earl P. Blake and his officers prefer to term it, is situated on a commanding eminence known as Obery Heights, overlooking Plymouth Bay.

LIKE SUMMER HOTEL

To the North lies Plymouth, filled with spots of historical interest, including the famous but somewhat depleted rock—a constant inspiration to anyone with a spark of patriotism smouldering within his bosom. Even Ponzi should be thrilled.

On the South, sweeping away for miles, are rolling, verdure-clad hills, merging into the sand dunes of the Cape far below. Directly in front is beautiful Plymouth Bay, with the New York boat furnishing a slightly moving picture as it passed the Twin lights.

The "institution" itself is a mighty cement and reinforced concrete structure, weathered by the sea breezes which sweep through it constantly during the Summer months.

It is flanked on one side by the vine-clad home of Sheriff Blake and on the other by a picturesque wooden structure which houses the jail officers.

The site is all that could be asked in a Summer hotel, and the surroundings are perfect. The institution is approached by a winding driveway entering through a gate that is never closed, the wall as a matter of fact being more ornamental than useful. It is only eight feet high and extends but a short distance up the road.

LIKE "BUCK" PRIVATES.

Below there is no wall to interfere with the view or give the impression to the inmates that they are cribbed, cabined or confined.

The grounds in front of the institution consist of rolling green lawns and flowering shrubbery. Tends in the rear is a good-sized farm on which all kinds of vegetables are raised for the consumption of the "boys." The inmates are always referred to as "the boys." There are no prisoners. On the farm are also fourteen cows, 200 hogs and some 2,000 chickens. What Summer resort could be better equipped?

Forbidding walls, donjon keeps and frowning, grim-faced guards are conspicuous by their absence from the "institution" where "Charlie" Ponzi is the star boarder. Instead are light, airy cellrooms, a sunshiny, spotlessly clean hospital, seldom occupied, as there is little or no sickness, and smiling, courteous jail officers.

It does not appear that one cell room is lighted artificially, but as a matter of fact the cells apparently are occupied only at night. During the day the "boys" wander about, smokin, chatting and joking, or engaged in light labor on the farm.

They wear blue shirts and bluish gray trousers, and are treated in a genial and healthy manner. Engaged at their tabors, they resemble nothing so much as a detail of "buck" privates, killing time while the sergeant's back is turned.

HONOR SYSTEM.

In fact the "boys" are allowed almost as much liberty as soldiers, the honor system being in vogue in the institution. Sheriff Blake, furthermore, is a humanitarian who believes in treating each man individually, and none of them are "crowded."

Ponzi, whose feats of financial legerdemain, caused financiers the world over to gasp in pop-eyed amazement, and brought anguish to thousands of homes, is official librarian at the institution. He is also custodian of supplies for the hospital, the key of which he carries, and acts as a sort of middleman for the boys whose finances permit them to purchase delicacies.

The library, an extremely important adjunct of the institution, especially during the Winter months, adjoins the hospital. It is a small room with one window, and contains about 600 volumes, all of which have been bound in paper and catalogued by the "wizard," who took a correspondence course in library work. He maintains a regular card catalogue system, and keeps an accurate record of each book.

Ponzi's desk is at the right of the entrance to the library, and at his left, occupying a conspicuous position on the wall, is a large photograph of his wife. Beneath the window is a box of carefully tended and flourishing geraniums.

NOTHING TO DO.

The wizard's famous golden smile is missing, but he retains one relic of his former grandeur—a gray checked vest. This vest is a special concession, to permit him to carry his pencils, pens and other librarian paraphernalia.

Ponzi's duties, as librarian being far from onerous, little reading being done by the "boys" during the warm weather, he has plenty of time on his hands. Part of it is devoted to taking the men's orders for sugar, tobacco, cigarettes or whatever else they may desire and can afford.

These orders are filled in town, and then turned over to Ponzi, who checks them and delivers them. The list is then sent to the jail office, where the items are charged against the sums to the credit of the inmates.

As custodian of hospital supplies the "wizard" has practically nothing to do, the only occupant of the hospital being his appendix, which was removed there and preserved in a bottle of alcohol. In fact, there is so little sickness at the institution that Ponzi is one of the wey men who have been patients in the hospital.

Last year it was necessary to perform another major operation on him, but he was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital by Officer Herman W. Power, who stood by while an ulcer was removed from the little man's stomach.

Upon his return to Obery Heights Ponzi immediately began to improve in health, and at present he is a much stronger man physically than when temporary master of millions. His face is fuller than it was in the hectic days of frenzied finance and his body has filled out. His black hair, however, is now iron gray and he bears but little resemblance to the material vision that flashed across the horizon a few years ago.

ANXIOUS TO GET OUT.

Plenty of good, wholesome food, salt air and sunshine have done much for Ponzi, and he has gotten them without cost to himself. Others pay plenty of money to obtain these advantages at Summer resorts.

When Ponzi first entered the jail he was an object of much curiosity, and visitors displayed more interest in attempting to see him than they did in viewing the Forefathers' Monument. They soon learned that Sheriff Blake would not permit one of his "boys" to be placed on exhibition and the visits dropped off.

Later, after the sheriff had studied Ponzi for a time, he placed the "wizard" on his honor, with the result that "Charlie" comes and goes as he pleases.

When the spirit moves he strolls out of the institution, and walks about the spacious grounds, where there is visible evidences that he is under restraint. He feasts his eyes on the bay and the hills to the south. He watches the "boys" baying or tending to the crops. Occasionally he rides in state with the sheriff. On Sundays or holidays he is visited by his faithful wife.

But he is not happy, and wants to be released. He knows only too well that the State is grimly waiting to get him into its clutches, and as he is eligible for release on July 30, he must move fast. Obery Heights is a beautiful place, but Ponzi, who for a time sat in the seats of the mighty, has had enough of it.

ONE OF EVICTED FAMILIES

DRIVEN OUT BY MILL OWNERS IN LONSDALE, R. I.

William Remington, his wife and seven of his nine children. The family was evicted by sheriffs despite the fact that Remington works in a mill where there is no strike on. The second child from the left is blind from a cataract. Doris Remington, the twenty-year-old daughter, has complained to the police that the evictors invaded her bedroom and forced her to get up and dress.

GIRL CHARGES GIANT NEGRO WHIPPED HER

James Henderson, colored, of Kendall street, Roxbury, was arraigned in Roxbury Court today charged with attacking Alberta Hogan, colored, with a horsewhip. The attack occurred in Sawyer street. It was the outcome, the Hogan girl charged, of her rescue of a colored girl the man attacked a week ago. Henderson is forty-four years old and a giant. The Hogan girl is but sixteen and diminutive.

In court today she presented a pathetic figure in contrast to the giant.

"He whipped me terribly," she told the court in a thin voice. A week ago I found him whipping Jennie Hamilton of Kendall street. I interfered and made him stop and he threatened he'd whip me and might even kill me.

"Yesterday when I was walking along the street I heard a noise and turned to find this man coming towards me with a horsewhip. 'I got you now,' he cried. 'I told you I'd get you for interfering with me and my sweetie. Take that,' and he hit me with the butt and of the whip. Then he lashed me with the lash."

She bared her arms and showed welts as thick as clothes line.

Her screams attracted the attention of police and she was taken to Roxbury Court, where she swore to a warrant, Henderson having fled when the officers arrived. He was arrested later at his home.

JOHN D.'S RIVAL AN 'AGITATOR' IN AMERICA

By International News Service.

Moscow, July 11.—"I am now sharing the world's richest oil markets with 'John D.', whose gunmen once chased me among the hills of Colorado," declared "Bill" Shatoff, former member of the Industrial Workers of the World in the United States, here today.

Shatoff, once classed by Americans as a dangerous agitator, is now the oil king of Russia.

"I came to Russia during the revolution and became chief of police in Petrograd during the struggle," said Shatoff. "Later on I became manager of the Siberian railroads and afterwards led the fighting against the 'white' bands in Ukraine. Since then I have been installed as the chief of the Naphtha Export Company, the government trust, which monopolizes the oil exports.

SAYS HE DODGED WIFE'S MISSILES

Worcester, July 11.—Mrs. Miriam Shear of Worcester threw a frying pan, a glass, a potted plant and a chair at her husband Albert A. Shear, a former Front street business man, according to Shear's charges in divorce proceedings in Superior Court he has brought against her, which she is contesting.

Shear charges cruel and abusive treatment in his bill. Mrs. Shear denies the allegation made by her husband, and in her answer charges him with cruelty and neglect to provide support.

Mr. and Mrs. Shear each seek the custody of a one and one-half-year-old daughter.

Conference Resumed

Washington, July 11 (By the Associated Press).—The Chilean-Peruvian conferences resumed its joint sessions today to complete details of its agreement for arbitration of the dispute over Tacna-Arica.

Blown Safe Excites Firemen Until It Is Explained

Firemen called to No. 258 Purchase street today were much excited by something they found on the third floor, where the small blaze had started.

In the office of the S. & F. Blacking Company the safe had been blown open. The door, twisted and broken, hung from a hinge. The firemen called up the police.

One of the members of the firm explained:

"A member of the firm died some time ago. He was the only one who had the combination to the safa. We had to get some papers in the safe. We had the safe blown open. That was the only way. Know any good junkman who wants to cart it away?"

GIRL'S ROOM IS INVADED

Continued From First Page

dren, and William Remington and nine children.

One of the Remington children is blinded by a cataract over his right eye. Remington, whose wages have been attached, claims that he works at a shop where no strike is in progress.

One hundred tents are due today from labor headquarters in Lonsdale.

They will be pitched on Grayson Plat in Lonsdale.

Several tenants already evicted are occupying the Cumberland town farm.

HOWARD TO HANDLE O'BRIEN PUBLICITY

Richard T. Howard, publisher of the Boston Review, a political weekly, announced today that he has been engaged by District Attorney O'Brien as publicity man, undoubtedly personally for the coming campaign. Paul J. Canty, former City Hall reporter, is attached to the district attorney's office also.

COUPLE IN FIGHT; POLICE FIND STILL

New York, July 11.—A quarrel between George Schmidt, superintendent of the Florida, in St. Nicholas avenue, and a woman, Mrs. Annie Suering, led to a discovery of a twenty-five-gallon still in operation in the basement.

NAME WILKERSON TO LANDIS' SEAT

Washington July 11.—James H. Wilkerson was nominated today by President Harding to be Federal judge for the northern Illinois district, succeeding former Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, who resigned several months ago, to become arbitrator of organized baseball.

START NEW DRIVE TO GET HOSPITAL

Six hundred persons who subscribed a total of $20,000 for a new hospital at Winthrop Center will be given their money back, it was decided at a meeting of members of teams which canvassed for subscriptions last Spring. The money was subscribed on the condition that $60,000 be raised. Canvassers failed to raise that amount. They will now endeavor to start new and raise $35,000 without conditions and take over the Metcalf Hospital, Winthrop street, Winthrop Center, and later remodel it. Chairman of the meeting held in the Center was G. Wallace Tibbetts.

FIND BODY IN JERRY'S PIT, CAMBRIDGE

On the evening of July 1, at the conclusion of a field day in Russell Field, North Cambridge, a man came out of some undergrowth and fell into Jerry's Pit, a pond in an abandoned clay pit.

For four days North Cambridge police went over ten pond with grappling irons, but no body was found, so the police branded the report of the drowning as a rumor.

Today the body of Cornelius Murphy, fifty-one, years old, of No. 227 Harvard street, Cambridge, was found floating in the water.

Death was declared due to accidental drowning.

Murphy was a machinist, employed at the Watertown Arsenal.

Identification was made by Cambridge Police Inspector Thomas Coady, a lifelong friend of the dead man.

MAN IS KILLED BY RIFLE

Judge Burke, in Municipal Court today, declared the death of Patrick Lynch, B. & M. employe, shot and instantly killed in the North Station when a rifle in the hands of a guard was accidentally discharged, an accident. He refused to issue a manslaughter warrant against Thomas M. Mortimer, a guard in the employ of the American Express Company.

The shooting occurred just as the Bangor special reached the North Station with its daily consignment of gold from Maine banks. Mortimer was picking his rifle up from an electric-driven station truck when it went off and Lynch fell dead. The bullet punctured his brain.

VETERAN ROBBED OF $40 WHILE BATHING

Fitchburg, July 11.—The police of Lunenburg and Fitchburg are investigating the disappearance of a pocketbook containing $40 at the Fitchburg and Leominster bathhouse at Whalon Park. A war veteran, whose name was not divulged by the police, went in bathing, leaving the money in his locker.

Tomatoes and Lettuce are plentiful

Season, and cover with Blue Ribbon Mayonnaise

Four sizes, 12c, 30c, 50c, 95c

RICHARD HELLMANN'S BLUE RIBBON MAYONNAISE

The screw-top, wide-mouth glass jars have many household uses.

YOUR BROKEN

Watch-Glass can be replaced with an Unbreakable Crystal

If your watchmaker fails to repair your watch and make it RELIABLE let us do it for you. Our watchmakers are competent to put in thorough order Ladies' tiny Swiss and American watches. Also to repair and adjust Gentlemen's high-grade watches to heat, cold and position. Out-of-town customers send watches by registered mail for estimate. WILSON BROS., Watchmakers, 95 Court St., Sculley Sq. When you want to buy a dependable watch see us.

EDITOR'S DEATH AVENGED BY DAUGHTER

Mexico City, July 11.—"I've avenged my darling father's death. Do now what you please with me."

Maria del Pilar Moreno, fifteen years old, handed a smoking pistol to an excited policeman and calmly gazed at the body of her father's murderer lashing about in the last of its death throes.

Four bullets the girl had fired into Deputy Francisco Tejeda Llorca, stepping out into the sunshine from his home.

GIRL'S FATHER KILLED.

Two months ago the man had killed the girl's father, Jesus Z. Moreno, editor of the El Heraldo de Mexico, following an editorial attack by the editor upon the deputy.

The death staggered Maria. But fifteen, she is matured as most girls at that age in tropical countries. She is pansy-eyed and beautiful, lithe and graceful with shapely arms and limbs. Educated and finished as becomes the daughters of Mexican educators and editors, she mourned in a quiet dignified manner, but there was a tragic depth to her sorrow. She and her father had been inseparable pals.

To friends she made no mention of revenge.

DRESSED AS PEASANT.

But today, heavily veiled and dressed in peasant garb, she waited at the driveway gate of the Llorca home. Out stepped the uniformed deputy unaware that death was but a step away. A motor purred at the foot of a brief flight of steps. Malaca stick and highly-polished military boots made quick little taps together as the man descended and stepped forward to the car. Then came four, quick little barks from an automatic gun and the deputy staggered forward with outstretched arms, every bullet imbedded in his body.

The chauffeur fled for police. They came as Llorca died.

AVENGED DEATH.

Over his body the pansy-eyed girl handed the death pistol.

"Do what you like with me," she said. "I have avenged my dear father's death. I told no one I would, but over his body I swore it to myself.

The shooting is as great a sensation as was the killing of the editor in May, which took place at the entrance to the Interior Department building. Llorca was an uncle of Adalberto Tejeda, Governor of Vera Cruz.

OFFICIALS SAY BANDIT ACTIONS OVERRATED

Mexico City, July 11 (By the Associated Press).—Dispatches to the American State Department from the Tuxpan oil region, telling of renewed activities by the bandit, Gorosave, are without confirmation here. Instead, official statements are, that rebel activities have been exaggerated and that the entire district is virtually tranquil. Local representatives of oil companies are inclined to believe the situation is not so peaceful as the government insists, although they lack direct word from Tampico.

TRAFFIC OFFICER HIT BY CAR IN BEVERLY

Beverly, July 11.—Motorcycle Officer Timothy J. Hayes is in the Beverly Hospital with a fracture of the skull and a broken nose, as a result of injuries he received when struck by an automobile which was driven by Eugene A. Buzzell, jr., of 56 Summer street. Hayes was standing astride of his motorcycle ordering a truck driver to turn on his rear light, when Buzzell's car struck him, dragging him several yards and finally throwing him to the ground and running over him.

NAVY RECRUITING STARTS AFTER LAYOFF

Washington, July 11.—After a year's suspension, recruiting for the navy, under orders published today, will be resumed. Sixty-five thousand men will have to enlist or re-enlist in the coming year to keep the navy up to the 86,000 men authorized under the navy appropriation bill.

Patrolman Pulled From Bed, Finds He Won Auto

Milford, July 11.—Patrolman Wallace A. O'Brien was awakened from a sound sleep by a pounding on the front door of his home.

Clad only in his pajamas and with a loaded revolver in his hand, the officer went to the door. Patrolman Thomas F. Malloy stood on the doorstep. An automobile was at the curbstone.

"Wallace," said Malloy, "you're a lucky guy, you've won the $1,600 auto at the Franklin G. A. R. raffle."

WHAT'S 2 BITS TO GINGER POP? JUST LISTEN!

Ginger-pop O'Kelly, a doryman on the schooner Dawn, in from George's flanita today, brought to the fish exchange a bottle containing a card addressed to the Bureau of Fisheries, Department of Commerce, and a request that a reward of twenty-five cents goes to the person who forwards the card to the bureau.

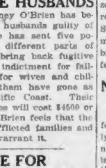
It was one of a number of bottles put over in southern waters to obtain data on ocean drifts.

"Here, young woman," said Ginger-pop to one of Manager Frank Witherell's clerks, "send this down to Herb Hoover and collect the munificent reward he's offerin' us pore, hardworkin' fishermen for doin' his errands.

"Just tell him I picked it up last Saturday seventy-five miles sou'east o' Highland light.

"On them lines at the bottom, where it says 'Res-marks,' you can say Ginger-pop O'Kelly thinks the United States government, in the matter of rewards, is jest about as liberal as Old Jawn D. shellin' out tips."

BANKER ON FORTIETH VOYAGE TO EUROPE



James Speyer

Photo by International News Reel.

New York, July 11.—James Speyer, prominent banker, is making his fortieth annual trip to Europe this Summer. For forty years he has made this annual pilgrimage to Europe, always combining business and pleasure on the trip.

STARTS ROUNDUP OF FUGITIVE HUSBANDS

District Attorney O'Brien has begun a drive on husbands guilty of non-support. He has sent five police officers to different parts of the country to bring back fugitive husbands under indictment for failing to provide for wives and children. Some of them have gone as far as the Pacific Coast. Their traveling expenses will cost $4500 or more, but Mr. O'Brien feels that the service to the afflicted families and the community warrant it.

HALT MOVE FOR REVOLT IN PORTUGAL

Paris, July 11. — Plans for a Monarchist revolution in Portugal, fixed for Sunday, were successfully crushed by the government's precautions, says a dispatch to Le Journal. About 100 persons were arrested, including Communalant Souza and many officers and Alvaro de Castro, former Premier.

INDIAN PRINCE SHIPMATE OF AMERICANS

New York, July 11.—Several notables were listed among the first cabin passengers of the steamship Berengaria which docked here.

James W. Gerard. Photo by International News Reel.

James W. Gerard, American Ambassador to Germany during the World War, was one of the first persons to step down the gang-plank. He was warmly greeted by some of his business associates in this country.

His Highness Maraja Pipla, Indian Prince, arrived on the same ship. The Prince, in his American-cut clothing, presented a very business-like appearance and his unaffected manner won him favor with his American consorts on the voyage. He will make a tour of America before he returns to his native land.

Maraja Pipla. Photo by International News Reel.

AMERICAN BEAUTY WEDS LONDON DIVINE

Mrs. Robert N. Le Cron. Photo by International News Reel.

London, July 11.—Miss Irene Mathews, one of the famous American beauties who recently appeared in "The League of Nations," has become the bride of Dr. Robert N. Le Cron, D. D.

They were married at the Marylebone Registry Office.

The doctor and his wife are now on their "honeymoon" trip.

EMPRESS ZITA SEEKS HOME IN BAVARIA

Prague, July 11.—Former Empress Zita of Austria-Hungary, who is being temporarily sheltered in Spain, is said to be endeavoring to obtain a home in Bavaria, provided she can obtain the consent of the Allies.

SAVES DROWNING GREENFIELD MAN

Greenfield, July 11.— Joseph Kazewski, employed by the town, was rescued from drowning by Eugene Sullivan of the engineering department. Kazewski was fixing the bridge at the swimming pool and fell in. Sullivan dove after him.

NO CLUE TO MISSING MAN WITH $100,000

New York, July 11.—The search for Alva C. Kendall, who mysteriously disappeared from his home Wednesday with $100,000 in his pockets, is puzzling the police, who admitted that no trace of his whereabouts had been found.

SEEKS LANDING FIELD IN FALL RIVER

Fall River, July 11.—Captain Jules S. Gottlieb, United States government inspector in the Air Service, is at present in this city, looking up different sites for the purpose of establishing a landing field here.

"American Beauty" ELECTRIC IRON

Buy this iron for what it will do. Of course its first cost is a little more than ordinary electric irons but its sturdy reliability makes it cheaper in the long run.

Sold by Dealers and Electrical Companies Everywhere.

American Electrical Heater Company, DETROIT

Oldest and Largest Exclusive Makers. Established 1896.

AMOSKEAG TO OPEN ALL ITS MILLS MONDAY

By CHARLES O. POWER.

Manchester, N. H., July 11.—The real test in the big textile strike in this city will come next Monday morning.

The strike leaders are preparing to meet it, the Amoskeag officials have their plans well laid to force it and the police force has been girding up its loins for several weeks to be able to cope with it.

From reliable sources information has come to the strike leaders that on the 17th the Amoskeag will throw open the gates and doors of all its mills and that a general invitation will be extended to the workers two or three days in advance to return during the week or consider themselves permanently separated from the employment lists.

STRIKERS NOT YIELDING.

This information is being passed around to the strikers. Reports coming to the leaders show that there is no apparent disposition on the part of the men or the women on strike to take advantage of such an offer from the company.

There is reason to believe the Amoskeag officials are convinced they made a mistake in choosing the Cocheco Mill, more commonly called the "Penitentiary," as the one to open first during the strike period.

More than a month ago the strikers were invited to return to that mill. There were more than 16,000 on strike at the time. The mill officials had talked a lot about intimidation of the workers by the strike leaders and declared that, with adequate police protection, they would swarm back to their old jobs.

PREVIOUS ATTEMPT FAILED.

Governor Brown made solemn announcement that he has reason to believe 3,000 were anxious to go back and requested the Amoskeag officials to open up to receive the 3,000 back into the fold. The company smugly advertised that it would follow the Governor's advice. Chief Michael J. Healy followed the play with the usual flourish of policemen and clubs when the mill opened.

Not 3,000, but something like 250 went back to work. The cry went up from the company's shouters that the strike pickets kept their number down. On the heels of that came the injunction doing away with all picketing and all possible restraint to those who wanted to go back to the mills. This injunction afforded strike-breakers protection of most sweeping scope.

And still the number employed in the Cocheco Mill remains about the same as the day it resumed operations.

TO OPEN ALL MILLS.

Not appreciating that the pride of working people can be hurt, the Amoskeag officials, in sizing up the situation, conclude that the blunder was one of location; that the Cocheco Mill is too far away from the homes of many strikers who want to get back to their machines and the pay envelope, no matter how long the hours or how closely shaved the wages.

So the thought has come to them, strike leaders have been told, that the proper thing to do is to open all the mills on an appointed day and make it convenient for all strikers to break faith with their unions by slipping into the mill closest to their homes. And next Monday is the appointed time.

This next move of the Amoskeag officials has been thought out very carefully, it has been explained to the strike leaders.

AMOSKEAG'S PLANS.

They know they cannot induce workers on strike in large numbers to desert their fellows, no matter how easy they make the way back to the mills. They hope to win a few in each section. Their prime object is to get some workers back, not to start up and keep going all the mills but, after a little while, to collect all they get back in this way in one mill and announce that it is operating with a full force on full time.

Chief Healy is increasing his police force without any regard for the police department budget. There is a plausible story in police circles that the chief is building up an eight-hour day for the bluecoats, is working out a three-platoon system so that the city may have police protection at all hours of the day and night.

Be that as it may, the taxpayers are watching the force grow with spasms of grouching.

BECKWITH'S FOR BICYCLES

CARLISLE BICYCLES

Equipped with coaster-brake, drop mudguards, roller chain, spring saddle and non-skid tires, 26 or 28-inch frames. Fully guaranteed. Regular value $45.00. Special 32.50

AGENTS FOR RANGER BICYCLES

Cash or Easy Payments

Sam'l J. Beckwith & Co.

170 Washington Street

Series (2) Mon. Open Sat. 7:30 11 P. M.

Won Smallest Foot Prize 25 Years Ago; Tries Again

MRS. JULIA PINKS

Dorchester woman who was awarded a diamond-studded pump by Virginia Harned in a smallest foot contest a quarter-century ago, and who is to enter a similar competition at the coming Shoe Style Show.

CINDERELLA OF DORCHESTER WEARS 2½-B

She wears a size 2½B shoe.
She has a Spanish arch.
She has a French instep.

Mrs. Julia Pinks, who won the last smallest foot contest she entered twenty-five years ago, has tossed her foot into the "ring" again. She is going to enter the smallest foot contest at the Shoe Style Show. If they have a shoe small enough for her, and show the flapper of the day that whatever else she may win she won't win any more smallest foot contests.

Twenty-five years ago, Mrs. Pinks, who lives at No. 125 Columbia road, Dorchester, entered a smallest foot contest being conducted by Virginia Harned, the old-time actress, at the Boston Theatre. She won a diamond-studded pump. Thinking her foot would grow, Mrs. Pink withdrew from all active competition. But she finds that today she can wear the same size shoe that she wore then.

Last year a size 4B foot won the Shoe Style Show smallest foot contest.

They may not have a size 2½B shoe at the show. Mrs. Pinks has to have her soles made to order when she wants a new pair, or go to New York where there is one store that carries such small sizes in stock. But Mrs. Pinks will be there to wear this small size if they have one.

BALE FALLS ON WORKMAN'S HEAD

Patrick J. Powers, 68 years old, of No. 26 Vine street, Charlestown, is at the Relief Hospital, suffering from contusions of the skull and hemorrhage of the brain, received by being struck on the head by a bale of rope, which dropped from a steam winch on the S. S. Dakarian at Pier 44, Hoosac Tunnel Docks, Charlestown, where he was working.

Breaks Hip by Fall

Patrick Doyle, thirty-two of No. 732 Shawmut avenue, working on the third floor of a building at Tremont and Elliot streets, fell to the street. He was taken to the City Hospital suffering from a fractured hip.

ASPIRIN

Say "Bayer" and Insist!

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting the genuine Bayer product prescribed by physicians over twenty-two years and proved safe by millions for

Colds	Headache
Toothache	Lumbago
Earache	Rheumatism
Neuralgia	Pain, Pain

Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proper directions. Handy boxes of twelve tablets cost few cents. Druggists also sell bottles of 24 and 100. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.

INSANITY FROM ALCOHOLISM INCREASES

"A remarkable increase in mental disorders resulting from alcoholism is a feature of this year's admission to the Danvers State Hospital for the treatment of mental diseases," according to Superintendent John B. MacDonald in his annual report submitted to Governor Cox and the Executive Council.

The incidence approaches closely that of pre-prohibition times, Superintendent MacDonald states. First admissions of alcoholics comprised 8.4 per cent. of the total first admissions, as against 4.7 per cent. for the previous year. Total admissions of alcoholics, including first admissions and recurrents, numbered 32 in 1920 and 53 in 1921.

MOONSHINE CAUSE.

"Moonshine whiskey and Jamaica ginger were, in the most cases, the kind of intoxicants responsible for these psychoses. Home brewed wine and hard cider figured in the same way in four or five cases. Practically all these patients stated that intoxicants of the home brewed variety were easily procurable in the localities where they lived, either by the gallon or by the bottle," Superintendent MacDonald states in his report.

Admissions for the year numbered 668, a total of 23 more than the previous year. Admissions of men showed an increase of 26, as compared with the previous year, while the women decreased by 15 for the corresponding period.

Referring to alcoholic patients, Superintendent MacDonald says:

"Of the total first admissions of alcoholics, only six were inebriates or cronic drunkards, three of whom were dependent chiefly upon others or upon public charity for support. Thirty-four were persons who drank more or less moderately in pre-prohibition times. Ten of these had records of arrests and fines for drunkenness.

TWO SUICIDES.

During the year there were two suicides, one of whom was an alcoholic patient who "snatched a razor from the barber's kit box and before the attendant was able to get hold of him, cut his throat, severing the jugular vein."

In the report the trustees complain that the "hospital" is seriously overcrowded, and it is unwise to point out that overcrowding of patients in a hospital of this kind is objectionable from the medical, humanitarian and every other point of view.

MOTORCYCLE OFFICER HIT BY AUTOMOBILE

Traffic Officer Timothy J. Hayes of the Beverly police, was injured when an automobile struck his motorcycle on Rantoul street, Beverly. He had stopped an automobile truck, because it had no rear lights, when the crash occurred. He was dragged thirty feet before he could disengage himself. The automobile was operated by Eugene A. Buzzell, Jr., of No. 58 Summer street, Revere. The officer was taken to the Beverly City Hospital, where it was found that he had suffered a fractured nose and cuts about the head and body.

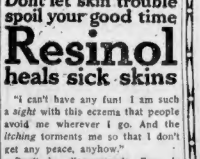
WOMAN KILLS MAN, THEN SHOOTS SELF

Columbus, O., July 11.—The lifeless bodies of Mrs. Alice Wink and Evan R. Jones, sixty-five years old, West Side dry goods merchant, were found by police in Mrs. Wink's residence.

In view of the fact that the body of Mrs. Wink was lying across that of Jones and a revolver lay on the floor near by, police expressed the opinion that Mrs. Wink murdered Jones and then committed suicide.

AUTO DRUNKS FINED $1,200 IN A WEEK

Attleboro, July 11.—In the campaign against drunken autoists, Alexander Thompson of Somerville was fined $100 in district court for operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. The five brought the total in fines for similar cases to $1200 in six days, establishing a court record.



Don't let skin trouble spoil your good time

Resinol heals sick skins

"I can't have any fun! I am such a sight with this eczema that people avoid me wherever I go. And the itching torments me so that I don't get any peace, anyhow."

Don't be discouraged! Even in severe, well-established cases of eczema, ringworm or similar skin-troubles, Resinol Ointment, aided by Resinol Soap, usually relieves the itching at once and quickly clears the eruption away.

Doctors prescribe the Resinol Treatment. All druggists sell Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap.

Not a Garment Sold or Reserved Before 9 A. M. Wednesday

Semi-Annual Markdowns

Suits—Coats—Dresses—Skirts Bathing Suits—Kimonos—Etc.

For Women and Misses

WOMEN OF BOSTON AND VICINITY will rejoice in another opportunity for the exciting shopping that our markdown sales consistently provide. It is possible at this time to buy clothes that count most at least cost because—as comparison and investigation will show—we have cut the prices for immediate clearance.

No Refunds, Exchanges, C. O. D. or Mail Orders All Sales Necessarily Final Please Do Not Ask to Have These Goods Sent on Approval

Markdowns of Women's Dresses

Regular and Extra Sizes

Of canton crepe, crepe de chine, taffeta, georgette, chiffon, voile, gingham, linen, Swiss muslin, tricotine and serge.

Dresses marked down to 7.85
Dresses marked down to 10.85
Dresses marked down to 14.85
Dresses marked down to 17.85
Dresses marked down to 24.85
Dresses marked down to 34.85

Markdowns of Women's Suits

Regular and Extra Sizes

Of imported and domestic tweeds, tricotines, Poiret twill, covert cloth, knitted fabrics and jersey.

Suits marked down to 5.85
Suits marked down to 14.85
Suits marked down to 19.85
Suits marked down to 24.85
Suits marked down to 34.85

Markdowns of Women's and Misses' Skirts

In tweed, homespun, wool eponge, baronet (fibre), cotton gabardine, sateen and silk.

Skirts marked down to 85c
Skirts marked down to 1.85
Skirts marked down to 5.85
Skirts marked down to 7.85
Skirts marked down to 12.85

Markdowns of Women's Coats and Wraps

Regular and Extra Sizes

In tweed, tricotine, velour, Poiret twill, bolivia, camel's hair, Alpine tweed, eponge, jersey, and crepe knit.

Coats marked down to 5.85
Coats marked down to 9.85
Coats marked down to 14.85
Coats marked down to 19.85
Coats marked down to 24.85
Coats marked down to 34.85
Coats marked down to 44.85

Markdowns of Individual Pieces

1 Misses' Canton and Velette Afternoon Dress, sand shade, now 45.00
1 Misses' Green Canton and Chenille Sport Dress 35.00
1 Misses' DuBarry Silk Sport Dress, tangerine and tan 45.00
1 Misses' Embroidered and Beaded Afternoon Dress, jade 55.00
1 Misses' Three-Piece Velette Sport Dress 35.00
1 Misses' Navy Blue Pandora Coat, embroidered in red 85.00
1 Misses' Mohawk Gerona Wrap 65.00
1 Misses' Lady Bird Gerona Coat 55.00
6 Women's Gerona and Panvelaine Coats and Wraps 55.00
1 Woman's Roshanara and Duvetyn Wrap 65.00
1 Woman's Tricotine Wrap 55.00
1 Woman's Black Gerona Coat 65.00
2 Women's Panvelaine Wraps 65.00
1 Woman's White Evening Gown 65.00
1 Woman's Black Evening Gown 65.00
2 Lace and Crepe Romaine Dresses 45.00
1 Extra Size White Georgette Dress 55.00
1 Extra Size Navy Georgette Dress 65.00
1 Extra Size Brown Georgette Dress 65.00
2 Women's Wool Marquisette Dresses 45.00
2 Women's Navy Kasha Faille Dresses 45.00

Markdowns of Economy Dresses

Misses' Dresses—In plain and striped gingham. Sizes 14, 16, 18. Marked down to 85c

Billie Burke Dresses—In blue striped gingham. Marked down to 85c

Coverall Dresses—In several styles, with self or rick-rack trimming. Marked down to 85c

Economy Dresses — Several broken lots, including checked and plaid ginghams and figured voiles, fitted and straight-line styles. Marked down to 1.85

"Wilfit Expansion Dresses"—In several styles. Marked down to 1.85

Economy Dresses—Women's and misses' sizes, in gingham, voile and striped tissue, with collars of organdie, pique or linene. Marked down to 1.85

Coverall Dresses of plain colored Japanese crepe, trimmed with cretonne. Marked down to 1.85

Economy Dresses—Women's and misses' sizes. Made of light and dark voile, and ginghams in plaids or checks. Marked down to 3.85

Economy Dresses — Straight-line models, in checked gingham, or voiles in light and dark colors, organdie trimmed. Women's and misses' sizes. Marked down to 4.85

Economy Dresses — Made from dark voiles, with white woven dots; light figured voiles and checked gingham, in women's and misses' sizes. Marked down to 5.85

Markdowns of Misses' Dresses

Dresses for every occasion—street, afternoon, evening and sport wear. Materials are Canton Crepe, Crepe de Chine, Georgette, Chiffon, Tricotine, Poiret Twill, Tweed, Jersey, Velour, Gingham, Voiles, Ratine and many others.

Misses' Sleeveless Dresses marked down to 2.85
Misses' Dresses marked down to 9.85
Misses' Dresses marked down to 14.85
Misses' Dresses marked down to 19.85
Misses' Dresses marked down to 24.85
Misses' Dresses marked down to 34.85

Markdowns of Misses' Coats

Materials are Homespun, Tweed, Tricotine, Velour, Bolivia, Plaid-Back Mixture, Normandy, Chinchilla and others.

Dress Coats—Polo Coats—Sport Coats Rain Coats—Capes—Wraps

Misses' Coats and Capes marked down to 9.85
Misses' Coats and Capes marked down to 14.85
Misses' Coats and Capes marked down to 19.85
Misses' Coats and Capes marked down to 24.85
Misses' Coats and Capes marked down to 34.85

Markdowns of Misses' Suits

Materials are Tricotine, Tweed, Poiret Twill, Jersey and Knitted Fabrics.

Misses' Suits marked down to 5.85
Misses' Suits marked down to 14.85
Misses' Suits marked down to 19.85
Misses' Suits marked down to 24.85

Markdowns of Women's and Misses' Kimonos and Bathing Suits

Bathing Suits, black surf cloth, colored sateen trimming. Sizes 16 to 42. Marked down to 85c

Bathing Suits, blue jersey cloth trimmed with orange. Marked down to 1.85

Woman's Kimono, cotton crepe, Japanese style, colored embroidery. Pink or lavender. Marked down to 3.85

20 Women's Kimonos, cotton crepe de chine. Breakfast style. Blue only. Marked down to 2.85

10 Women's Kimonos, silk crepe de chine. Slightly soiled. No two alike. Marked down to 7.85

12 Women's Kimonos, silk crepe de chine. Slightly soiled. No two alike. Marked down to 10.85

Also for Girls

Third Floor—Winter Street

Markdowns of Girls' Coats

Sizes 7 to 16

In tweeds, herringbones, velours, cheviots, taffetas and other materials.

Coats marked down to 4.85
Coats marked down to 9.85
Coats marked down to 14.85
Coats marked down to 18.85
Coats marked down to 24.85

Markdowns of Girls' Dresses

Sizes 8 to 16

In organdie, dotted Swiss, taffeta, eponge, shantung and other materials.

Dresses marked down to 4.85
Dresses marked down to 7.85
Dresses marked down to 9.85
Dresses marked down to 11.85
Dresses marked down to 14.85
Dresses marked down to 18.85

The Shepard Stores

REVEALS STORY OF BIRTH OF TROTTER 'LOVE CHILD'

The love affairs of "Mel" Trotter, Boston evangelist, are revealed in the suppressed affidavit of George W. Walker, former president of the mission in Grand Rapids, Mich., which Trotter founded. While the affidavit is being printed, the marital affairs and the amours of Trotter are being aired in a Grand Rapids court, in Mrs. Trotter's suit for divorce.

In the Boston American today is related the dramatic confession in the home of George E. Walker, head of the mission board, of the birth of the "mission love child" to Florence Moodey, the girl church worker.

Another installment of Mr. Walker's testimony follows:

Q.—What was the next you had to do with the domestic trouble of the Trotters? A.—Mrs. Trotter called up Mrs. Walker on the telephone. Mrs. Walker called upstairs to me and said: "Mrs. Trotter is crying and would like to come out and see you." I said: "Let her come out." This was the following morning.

Q.—The next morning? A.—Yes, sir. She got up there about 10 o'clock and her eyes were red and swollen. I asked: "Mother, what is the matter?"

Q.—How long did she stay? A.—Maybe an hour and a half.

Q.—What did you do after she left? A.—I think I either called the mission or had somebody call the mission and tell Mr. Trotter? I would like to see him before he left town. He was going out of town, he had told us. Mr. Trotter came in the house alone and up to my room.

Mr. Walker told Trotter he had repeated the story of Florence Moodey to the mission board during the latter part of March or in early April, 1921.

Q.—What did Trotter say to that? A.—He said, "You people went and had that meeting and either judged or didn't judge me. You should not have done that until I got home, so I could face it."

TRY TO FIX THINGS

Q.—What did you say? A.—Why, I said, "At the time we were trying to get a settlement and then we were going to ask you and Mrs. Trotter and Miss Moodey and Mr. Manuel and Stub all to come before us and try to get the whole matter arranged."

Q.—What did he say? A.—He said, "You went at it in a very unfair way to me."

Q.—What was Miss Moodey's attitude while you were asking her those questions on the occasion of her visit to your home? A.—She was all shaken up, weeping. That wasn't exactly all of the conversation I had with her, but it was all I told the board, I think.

Q.—I want to ask you this question: Whether there was anything said to her in that conversation as to whether she had ever disclosed to any one the name of the father of her child? A.—She said she had not, as it was a mission plan, and I asked her the question, "Do you know him?" She said, "You do, but if I told it would only break up another home."

Q.—Have you observed on the part of Mr. Trotter in and about the mission or elsewhere in the presence of his wife conduct toward other women which might greatly exasperate Mrs. Trotter? A.—Yes, at the time we got them together at my home.

KISSES IN MISSION.

Q.—What was there about that? A.—Mr. Trotter talked rather harshly to me and said, "George, you are going a little bit too far." Mr. Otte came up and said "No, Trotter, he is not, because I have been down there in the mission when you put your two hands on the cheeks of the other woman and kissed her. That would set my wife crazy if it had been me."

Q.—Aside from these instances that you have already related, did you observe any other instances on his part of imprudent or flippant conduct toward women other than his wife? A.—Only this kissing.

Q.—Aside from the incident you mentioned when Mr. Trotter asked you to provide a raise in Miss Moodey's pay and the three months' vacation, did he ever at any other time that you recall ask for money for her? A.—That was the only occasion.

Q.—You've told all you know against Mr. Trotter, haven't you? A.—No. If I were to tell all you would have to sit here throughout eternity.

Q.—Will you tell us who the women were whom Mr. Trotter kissed? A.—I don't know their names. It was at the Jenison Park picnic.

Q.—Surely, some one else must have seen the kissing? A.—I don't know. He was walking behind them and just did like this (indicating). He kissed them both.

Q.—Where were you? A.—Standing up opposite.

DIDN'T GET NAMES.

Q.—If those ladies had been known to you, you would have recognized them? A.—They were women I had seen around the mission. Had I wished, I could have easily gotten their names.

Q.—But it wasn't sufficiently important? A.—No.

Q.—You just carried the incident in your mind and told it at the meeting? A.—I just told you what might have led Mrs. Trotter to go crazy, if she were of an extremely sensitive nature. I know the Bible says, "Greet ye one another with a holy kiss."

Q.—You say Mr. Otte told about some kissing at the mission? A.—Yes.

Q.—Tell any of the details? A.—Only that Mr. Trotter reached over the bar and put his hands on their cheeks and kissed them.

In the next installment from the suppressed affidavit, printed exclusively in tomorrow's Boston American, Mr. Walker quotes Mrs. Trotter in her charge that "Mel" Trotter came to her in tears and confessed he was the father of the "mission love child."

"Help me out of this, Lottie," he is quoted as crying out, "I've been such a fool."

The tense moment in the domestic tragedy of the Trotters, together with the details of the strange place in the Trotter home held by Florence Moodey, the girl social worker and unmarried mother also will be told.

FOOTPRINTS OF BOY FEATURE MURDER TRIAL

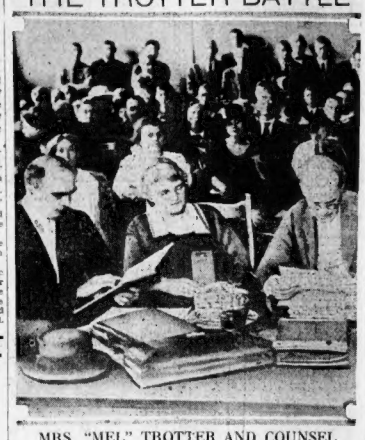
Morristown, N. J., July 11.—Footprints corresponding to the shoe measurements of Francis Kluxen, the fifteen-year-old Jersey youth on trial here for the murder of little Jassette Lawrence, eleven years old, will play a very conspicuous part in the prosecution's evidence against the boy, it developed.

In his opening address to the jury, Special Prosecutor J. Henry Harrison revealed footprints, the size of those made by young Kluxen, had been found leading from a log, behind which the slain child's body was discovered, to a hydrant some distance away.

Mr. Harrison also told the jury that the prosecution would show that the Kluxen boy spent most of the afternoon of the murder in and about Kluxen's woods; that he possessed a boy scout's knife, with which he had tried to extract a bullet from a tree in the woods; and that his clothing had been in the water. The prosecutor submitted that the boy's clothes could have been washed and the bloodstains removed by cold water after the murder.

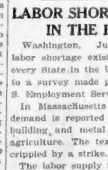
Another sensation sprung by the prosecutor in his address was the statement that handkerchiefs found near the little girl's body would be shown to have come from the Kluxen home.

ON THE FIRING LINE IN THE TROTTER BATTLE



MRS. "MEL" TROTTER AND COUNSEL.
(Photo Copyright by International News Reel.)
Photographed in the crowded courtroom at Grand Rapids, Mich. The attorneys for Mrs. Trotter are Fred Greb, at left, and Myron Walker, right.

CHILDREN PLAN BATTLE OVER CROKER WILL



Underwood & Underwood
Mrs. R. Croker

New York, July 11.—The will of Richard Croker, former Tammany leader, will be contested by three of his children, it became known today, when Howard Croker and Mrs. Ethel C. White announced they would join their brother, Richard Croker, Jr., in his action to break the document filed for probate Saturday at West Palm Beach, Fla.

Under the terms of the will, the Croker estate was left entirely to the widow, Mr. Croker's second wife, with the exception of a bequest to a daughter, Florence.

SUICIDE WAVE STARTS POISON SALE PROBE

New York, July 11.—Alarmed at the increase in deaths from bichloride of mercury in New York, inspectors of the department of health are making a sweeping investigation of the report that many drug stores are violating the city code in selling the poison without prescriptions from physicians.

The number of suicides from mercuric poisoning so far this year has already reached the total for the entire twelve months of 1921. The death in Bellevue Hospital on Sunday of Miss Margaret Bulkley, twenty-four, an actress made the fifteenth suicide during 1922 from swallowing the poison.

Miss Bulkley's death was the third from the poisoning in as many successive days at Bellevue Hospital. Anna Dunne, nineteen, a vaudeville actress, died Saturday from the effects of tablets she took July 2 in the Pennsylvania Terminal. On Friday Mrs. Rhea Richards died from the same poisoning.

This flurry of deaths has attracted the attention of health officials to the manner in which the poison is being procured from drug stores.

LONG PREDICTS JUMP IN NEXT TAX RATES

Henry F. Long, Commissioner of Corporation and Taxation, today notified the boards of assessors in the various municipalities as to the amounts they can credit against appropriations as receipts from the income tax. The tax upon incomes is distributed among the various communities and the assessors include the amounts this received before determining the new tax rates. It is expected that the tax rates in the cities and towns will be announced shortly. Mr. Long predicts that the rate will be at least 10 per cent. higher than last year.

(Photo by Underwood & Underwood)
Henry F. Long.

LABOR SHORTAGE IN THE BAY STATE

Washington, July 11.—Actual labor shortage exists in practically every State in the Union, according to a survey made public by the U. S. Employment Service.

In Massachusetts an increasing demand is reported for men in the building and metal trades, and in agriculture. The textile industry is crippled by a strike.

The labor supply in Illinois is reported equal to the demand.

Shortages in many lines are reported in Pennsylvania and in the Middle West. Most of the surpluses are reported in Southern States.

WANT TAGUE TO HOLD SEAT IN CONGRESS

Congressman Peter F. Tague has received a letter from the National Federation of Postoffice Clerks urging him to remain in Congress rather than accept a municipal office in the city of Boston. The letter, sent by Secretary-Treasurer Thomas F. Flaherty in behalf of the organization, stated, in part, that because Tague has always supported remedial legislation for the wage earners, in and out of government service, he should regood work.

Peter F. Tague.

HUGHES CABLES FOR RELEASE OF PASTOR

Chicopee, July 11.—Word has been received from secretary of State Hughes by Mayor Joseph M. Gribo, that the former has sent a cablegram to the American Embassy at Paris asking the FFrench government to bring about the release of the Rev. Victor Epinard, rector of St. Anne's Church, Fairview. It is said that the priest is being held by French authorities for evading military service.

YOUTH BADLY HURT; HIT BY BASEBALL

Frank A. Ross, twenty-two years old, of No. 242 East Foster street, Melrose, was seriously injured when he was hit on the head by a thrown ball while playing a game of baseball on the Carolina Avenue Playgrounds, Forest Hills. He was taken to the Forest Hills Hospital, where it is feared he has a fracture of the skull. His name is on the danger list.

ELKS SPEND HUGE SUM FOR CHARITY

Atlantic City, N. J., July 11.—The first executive business session of the annual convention of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks commenced today with Grand Exalted Ruler William Wallace Mountain presiding. An important report was that of the Elks National Memorial Headquarters Building Commission, headed by former Governor John K. Tener of Pennsylvania. According to the report of the grand secretary, Fred Robinson, charitable work done by the Elks since 1880 amounts to $13,730,433.20.

Sloan's Liniment

Just saturate a cotton wad with Sloan's!

Chases mosquitoes

Those pesky sleep robbers just hate Sloan's. Soak a wad of cotton in the Liniment. Then hang it on a string above your cot. No more mosquitoes. Use Sloan's for every aching muscle.

— it kills pain!

AYVAD'S WATER-WINGS

FOR SALE EVERYWHERE
LEARN TO SWIM NOW
GUARANTEED BY AYVAD MFG. CO. HOBOKEN, N.J.

BELIEVE ARMY CAMP SLAYER KILLED THREE

Norfolk, Va., July 11.—Five Federal secret service men are working in Norfolk, Newport News and Camp Eustis to solve the mystery surrounding the murder of Miss Rose Brady of Brooklyn, whose mutilated body was found at Camp Eustis.

The solution of the murder will also clear up the strange deaths of at least two other persons, the agents declare. They believe the same hand that slew Rose also killed Sergeant F. H. Crouse and perhaps a second girl who met a mysterious death near Newport News.

Russell A. Van Arsdale is under arrest in connection with the death of Miss Brady. He was employed at Camp Eustis, but on the day the girl's body was found he failed to appear for work.

When he was found at his home he was suffering from a wound in his hand which he said was caused by a snake bite. Imprints of teeth were found on the wood. The sleuths believe he was bitten by Miss Brady just before she was slain.

The girl was the victim of an attack. The condition of her body showed she fought hard to save her honor. The authorities say she could easily have bitten her assailant before she was clubbed to death with a piece of iron pipe.

'PETTING PARTIES' ARE APPROVED BY JUDGE

New York, July 11.—Petting parties and kissing are right and natural, in the opinion of Magistrate James V. Short. He said so in court when two sailors and two girls were brought before him on charges of indulging in double soul kisses in the park. But the judge qualified his statement.

"Kissing and loving are all right," he said, "in their proper place. These pastimes should be confined to the home under the supervision of parents." The magistrate ordered suspended sentences after he had given his views on the matter.

SLAYER SCHUTTE MAY BE REPRIEVED

Hartford, Conn., July 11.—Reports in official circles here have it that Governor Everett J. Lake will issue a reprieve for Emil Schutte, the Haddam storekeeper who is under sentence to hang on July 21 for the murders of Joseph Ball, Mrs. Ball and their son.

Counsel for Lake are pressing their claim of newly discovered evidence, particularly of an anonymous letter which is said to admit that Schutte was "framed" by a gang of moonshiners.

The Supreme Court has already ruled the trial was errorless, but Governor Lake is said to be sufficiently impressed with the alleged new evidence to grant a delay in the execution.

SEVERAL HURT WHEN AUTO GOES AMUCK

Pittsfield, July 11.—An automobile, owned and operated by Charles Kahn, of No. 13 Bobbins street, ran wild along the principal streets of the city and, after injuring several people, crashed through a large plate glass window. Charles Olisch, of No. 78 Cherry street, seventy-eight years old, was injured when struck by the machine, and Root's shoe store window was badly damaged. Kahn was arrested for operating a machine and endangering the lives of pedestrians.

MIDDLE WEST HIT HARD BY STORMS

Chicago, July 11 (By the Associated Press).—Middle Western States were recovering today from the effects of hail, rain and windstorms which swept over Iowa, Illinois, Missouri, South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas yesterday, causing extensive property damage and a small loss of lives. Heaviest damage, according to reports, occurred in South Dakota and Missouri. At St. Charles, S. D., one man was killed and scores injured.

Jordan Marsh Company

DRESS 1176 DRESS 1208 DRESS 1205 DRESS 1217

35c each number

GOWNS of 1922 are distinguished by their drapery, panels and long, bloused backs. The certainty that every telling line will be correct depends on the pattern.

Pictorial Review Patterns
For August

20 cents to 35 cents—None Higher

Each has its special Guide for Cutting and Construction

MRS. WHITNEY'S AUTO HANGS OVER CLIFF

Noted Sculptress in Peril on Precipice of Yellowstone

Cody, Wyo., July 11.—Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney of New York and a party of friends had a narrow escape in Yellowstone Park when a wheel came off their automobile on the edge of a precipice about a mile inside the park line.

They got word to the transportation company, which sent one of the big yellow buses to the rescue, and they came splashing into Cody in a pouring rain, drenched to the skin.

Mrs. Whitney was game, however and said she enjoyed the experience. Her private car was waiting at the station here, and she left for New York later. She came here from New York to confer with the local committee that has charge of plans to erect a memorial to Colonel William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill). As announced some time ago, the New York sculptress has the commission.

A contract has been drawn whereby Mrs. Whitney is to submit designs and complete the work. It was decided at the conference here that it is to be an equestrian statue in bronze with a base of native granite, which has a pinkish tinge.

The figures will be somewhat larger than life size. Buffalo Bill will be represented as he was when a plainsman and scout, about thirty years old, at the time of the Custer massacre. The horse will be the Cayuse stock, made famous in drawings by Remington and Schreyvogel.

MRS. HARRY PAYNE WHITNEY

She was rescued from death by park officers when a wheel came off her auto on a Yellowstone cliff. Her visit was to arrange for a memorial statue of Buffalo Bill, which she is to design.

U. S. FEEDS 10,000,000 PERSONS IN RUSSIA

Moscow, July 11 (By the Associated Press).—The American Relief Administration this week expects to reach the maximum of its famine relief program, supplying meals to 10,000,000 persons. The rationing will be gradually reduced as the harvest comes in, regardless of whether it is decided definitely to abandon the work in Russia after September.

Colonel William N. Haskell is leaving for Washington to confer with Secretary of Commerce Hoover regarding plans for the future. In his absence C. J. O. Quinn will head the organization.

U. S. HUSBANDS 'BABIES,' SAYS MRS. SANGER

By International News Service.

London, July 11.—"American husbands are just big babies, so far as the welfare of their wives is concerned, and therefore, most of the converts to birth control are influenced in their decision by the deleterious effect of large families upon the health of wives," Margaret Sanger of New York, America's chief exponent of limitation of births, told the international birth control conference here today.

Mrs. Sanger, who has just returned from a tour of China and Japan, said that her Oriental trip had been a great success. The only opposition she encountered, she said, was from the military officials in Japan and the supporters of the Japanese military party.

"The Japanese military men want a large population for cannon fodder for the war which I am certain is coming," continued the birth control leader. "It is necessary for Japan to find an outlet for her growing population. Everyone in Japan talks of war. It is obvious why the military men who are already making preparations for this war want large families."

ELLIS PRINTING CONTRACT SIGNED

The contract allotting State printing to the George H. Ellis Co. for two years has been signed by officials of the State and the company, including State Auditor Cook. This contract, which carries about $500,000 a year, was opposed by union printers and craftsmen, who asserted that the Ellis Company is committed to an open shop program, while Wright & Potter Company, which formerly had it, hires only union men.

State officials pointed out that the contract allows the company to sublet or assign it to another concern. It has been rumored that the Ellis concern would do this, turning the jobs over to the Wright & Potter Co. Officials of the Ellis Co. denied such a possibility, however.

Jordan Marsh Company

Store Hours 9 to 5—Store Closed Saturdays during July and August

Novelty Trimmings Made of Organdie are very effective for wash frocks---

White Organdie Petal Trimming—50c a yard (as pictured) used for trimming frocks and also for making roses.

Fagotting—Organdie 25c a yard (as pictured)
Used as insertion and in combination with the petal trimming. In the light summer colorings.

Embroidered Camisole Flouncings from St. Gall—59c a yard
12 inches wide—embroidered in dlet patterns on a good quality cambric.

Heavy Spanish All-Over Laces (made of fibre)
1.80 a yard
Fashion uses this lace very effectively to make entire dresses or in combination with other materials—also suitable for blouses and panel effects.
36 inches wide—In black, navy, brown, gray, orange, pink, champagne, jade, cream and white.

For Hair-Bows and Sashes—
All-Silk Brocaded Ribbons
49c a yard
7 Inches Wide
Colors are: Pink, blue, mais, orchid, coral, turquoise, old rose, navy, nile green and white.

Carved Ocean Pearl Buttons

(as pictured) large size
1.75 a dozen
Very smart this season for trimming pockets and belts of sports skirts.
In smaller sizes to match, 38c, 60c, 85c, 1.25 and 1.50 a dozen.

IN OUR SMALLWARES SECTION
Net Brassieres With Dress Shields
1.25 (pictured)

Particularly suitable to wear under kimono sleeve frocks. Made with double covered gum dress shields. Sizes 34 to 40.
Elastic Bathing Girdles with Garters—1.50
In three sizes, small, medium and large.

STRIKE STOPS BERLIN MONEY PRESSES

By International News Service.

Berlin, July 11.—Today's session of the Reichstag was one of the most fateful in the history of the young German republic. Unless an eleventh hour compromise is reached, it was regarded as virtually certain that Parliament would be dissolved and new elections ordered.

On account of the bitter feeling between the political factions many persons predict violence and bloodshed in the event of a general election, and some even forecast civil war.

Germany is skidding perilously near to the edge of an abyss from which yawns the crumbling of national entity and utter chaos. The plunge of the German mark, disorders in various cities, stormy scenes in Parliament, assassination, the strike of the Berlin printers and the threatened general strike in the Ruhr mining fields are mere symptoms of the impending cataclysm which only a miracle seems capable of averting.

A dangerous new development is the fact that the government had no money with which to pay the Ruhr miners on Saturday, because the strike of the printers stopped the money presses. The government is planning to get out if possible, some kind of emergency currency.

Leaders of the majority Socialists have issued an appeal against various secession movements. Meanwhile each day brings fresh disclosures of reactionary plots. The Municipal Post is printing a long list of organizations that are hostile to the Republic, as well as the men who are furnishing the money to keep these anti-Republican organizations alive. The list of names contains some of the most prominent in Germany.

DEMANDS LIQUOR BE GIVEN BACK

Counsel for Abram Robinovitz of Worcester today filed a petition in Federal Court here seeking recovery of 100 cases of whiskey which the petitioner claims is being unlawfully held by Elmer C. Potter, prohibition director.' Robinvitz claims he has authority to sell intoxicants under a special order granted by former Prohibition Director Daniel O Connell with the consent of the authorities of Worcester.

He says that he ordered the whiskey consignment from a New York concern which sent it by motor truck and that the truck was held up by dry agents between East Brookfield and Spencer and the whiskey seized.

The petitioner denies knowledge or ownership of sixteen gallons of gin which the dry agents claimed to have found on the truck with the whiskey.

MAIL PLANES TO SAVE $100,000 EACH MONTH

Chicago, July 11.—With airplanes Uncle Sam is going to try to save for New York and Chicago bankers the $100,000 lost every month through the idleness of money locked up in mail bags on railroad trains. Money-carrying mailplanes equipped with fireproof cockpits, are soon to be put into service.

BOSTON MAN FINED FOR AUTO SPEEDING

Fitchburg, July 11.—Russell Williams, No. 36 Peterboro street, Boston, was assessed $15 in District Court for speeding in this city June 3. The police allege he was going thirty-five miles an hour. He pleaded nolo.

Advertisement

How I Got Rid of Burning Feet

And Pains from Corns and Bunions Without Soaking, Powders, Plasters, Etc., After Suffering indescribable Foot Misery for 20 Years.

Prof. F. T. McIntyre, well known world tourist and lecturer, says: "For years I was compelled to wear shoes two sizes too large, to be able to walk with any comfort at all. I tried soaking my feet in medicated baths, powders, plasters and foot-treatments galore, but the burning calluses and sorenss refused to go, while the pains from corns and bunions continued to torture both mind and body, which upset my entire nervous system. One day, very fortunately, I met a lady from Egypt who gave me a little box of Gypsy Foot Relief, which she said was a secret from the desert. After using it a short time, the awful burning stopped, the callouses came off in chunks, leaving the skin of my feet clean and smooth, while the pains from corns and bunions seemed to disappear as if by magic. From that time, I said a joyful goodbye to over 20 years of indescribable foot misery. I would not take a hundred thousand dollars to again go through those years of agony. Now I feel like telling every foot sufferer to get a box of the wonderful Gypsy Foot Relief."

Note.—Gypsy Foot Relief, referred to by Mr. McIntyre, may be applied in a minute, without fuss or bother. And quick relief comes three minutes later, or the makers give back the small amount (or five). It is sold in this city by Mary's Drug Store, Kent's, Camilla's, Armstrong Co., C. E. Sawyer; EAST BOSTON, Park & Webster, C. H. Packard; SOUTH BOSTON, S. F. Chamberlain; CAMBRIDGE, Wilson Drug; CHELSEA, C. W. Freeman; JAMAICA PLAIN, F. B. Salisbury; ROXBURY, Blanton Drug; EVERETT, Kimball & Co.; MALDEN, Cowley & Collins; CHARLESTOWN, Sinnott & Salisbury; BELMONT, Hosmer; LYNN, Flint Drug, Anderson's, and other leading drug stores.

Famous Dancer Back From Paris With First Long Gown

(Photo by International News Reel)

IRENE CASTLE TREMAINE

New York, July 11.—Ears are coming out into the open.

Oh yes. Old stuff. But did you know that legs are, as it were, going under cover again?

Take the word of Mrs. Irene Castle Tremaine, the famous dancer, for it. She just returned to this village after a trip to Europe. She is wearing one of Paris' latest creations—and the skirt is back to its old pre-war level.

Ten inches from the ground will be a sufficient height for skirts after this, she predicts. But the ear—oh, it can emerge as freely as its owner wants it to.

WOMEN ACCUSE SPRINGFIELD 'PONZI'

Springfield, July 11.—Gontrand Cataldo, alleged Springfield "Ponzi," with headquarters in Boston, was faced by tear-stricken investors as his prosecution opened in the local court.

The witnesses who testified for the Commonwealth were mostly women. They told of investing their life savings with the "National Realty Trust," Cataldo's concern.

The defendant's self-given title was "manager." For his part in the alleged victimizing of poor, hard working people, he is being tried on a charge of grand larceny.

Mrs. Augusta Mauj, a star witness for the prosecution, declared that Cataldo and his salesman had woven fanciful tales of the government backing his project. She invested $500 expecting to receive ten per cent. dividends.

She said that Cataldo showed her a certificate with a large gold seal "given by the government to those who had $50,000 on deposit" and stated he owned banks in New York, Chicago, Pittsburgh and other cities.

Dominico Cipriano, former salesman for Cataldo, turned State's evidence. The witness admitted that he promised 10 per cent. without knowing how the company was to pay it.

The defence will open Thursday morning. Meanwhile alleged victims who have not yet testified are waiting for rebuttal that they may charge Cataldo with responsibility for their penniless condition and the taking of their savings of a lifetime.

FOUR PETITIONS IN BANKRUPTCY FILED

Two voluntary and two creditors' petitions in bankruptcy have been filed in the Federal court, the former by H. Glasser & Co., Inc., Springfield, clothing dealer, liabilities $10,231.78, assets $5,026, and by Marciano Cerullo, Boston, merchant, liabilities $5,508.84, no assets.

The creditors' petitions were filed against Budgell, Harrington & Co., Inc., Peabody, claims aggregating $1,765.23, and against the Araz Grocery Co., Boston, claims totaling $1,176.23.

Jailed For Theft

Fall River, July 11.—Doni Landry of New Bedford was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction for breaking, entering and larceny in this city.

ATTENDANTS IN TURK HAREMS ON STRIKE

Constantinople, July 11 (By the Associated Press).—Constantinople's harem attendants have gone on strike for more money and shorter hours.

Many of the capital's finest harems have been left unguarded and their owners are trying distractedly to find suitable substitutes for the strikers. Numbers of Russian refugees have volunteered their services, but it was found they were not fitted for the jobs.

The strikers insist that the "twenty-four hour day" and the unceasing vigil they are required to keep on the women of the harems justify better remuneration, especially during the present hard times.

Many of them protest that their wages have not been paid for more than a year, and in several instances they have appealed to the American Committee on Relief in the Near East for aid.

The fact is that their masters, who in most cases are officials or employes of the government, have not drawn salaries for months.

The strikers include the eunuchs and other attendants.

MISS WESTERN, ACTRESS, HAS VANISHED

New York, July 11.—Elsie Western, a vaudeville actress, has been missing for a month, it was revealed by her husband, Richmond W. Hutchins, an actor.

On June 14 she went on an uptown shopping trip and told him she would telephone at noon and tell him where to meet her. She did not call.

Mr. Hutchins said today he believes she is either held a prisoner or has been slain. She carried a handbag full of bills and checks for two trunks. The trunks have vanished.

Mr. Hutchins has employed private detectives, railroad sleuths and the city police in the quiet search he has conducted for a month.

SUSPECT TRIED TO GET EVIDENCE BACK

Daniel C. Hanafin, near-beer saloon owner in Market street, Brighton, was fined $150 and given a suspended sentence of three months in Brighton Court today, after being found guilty of selling intoxicants. Evidence was offered to show that Hanafin had leaped the bar and attempted to wrestle purchased evidence away from raiding policemen, after he discovered he was trapped.

DEATH STOPS MAN'S QUEST FOR BAKERY

All that prevented Matthew Howard, fifty-four years old, of No. 29 Kenwood Terrace, Lynn, from buying a bakery in Charlestown was death. He collapsed in a doorway at No. 93 Main street, Charlestown, and died in the Relief Hospital.

He lay unidentified until today when his nephew, John F. Howard, called and made known this uncle's quest. In the elder Howard's pockets were bank books showing savings of thousands.

MORE SWORDFISH IN, BUT PRICE STAYS UP

Although 670 big swordfish arrived in the South Boston fish market today, on top of yesterday's record catch of 1295, the price remained firm at 18 to 20 cents a pound. The excellent keeping qualities of the fish make it valuable for storage, and nearly all of today's receipts will go in storage. Fishermen are reaping rich harvests, owing to the big catches and high prices.

Advertisement

Be As Plump As You Please

Would you like to have a body deliciously alluring in its attractive curves? With soft, velvety checks, curving shoulders free from hollows and a beautifully filled-out well-rounded neck. These are easily secured. Just take two pleasant-tasting tablets of Ironized Yeast three times a day.

Yeast, as you know, puts clear, firm flesh exactly where it is lacking at present, imparting a beautiful plumpness to limb, bust and neck and bringing rich, rosy color to the cheeks. This is because it contains certain vital elements—essential to health yet lacking in the modern diet. These elements have a wonderful effect in building new cells and tissue. The secret "ironization" process used in Ironized Yeast enables the yeast to accomplish its results twice as quickly. Get Ironized Yeast today. The rapid improvement in your figure will astound and delight you. To try Ironized Yeast, entirely free, simply mail postal card for Famous 3-Day Test. Address Ironized Yeast Company, Dept. 83, Atlanta, Ga. Ironized Yeast is recommended and guaranteed by all good druggists.

IRONIZED YEAST Tablets

HOWITZERS SENT TO CAMP DEVENS

Six 155 millimeter howitzers will leave the Army Base, South Boston, for Camp Devens tomorrow to be used in the Summer training of the Citizens' Military Camp, which will open at this cantonment August 1st and continue through the month.

One hundred and thirty men of the Coast Artillery will take part in the training of the young men.

HOD CARRIER HELD SPEEDING TO WORK

Newark, N. J., July 11.—Charles Mason, a negro hod-carrier, was arrested for speeding in his automobile. He told the officer he was sorry, but as he was five minutes late to work, he stepped on the gas to make up time. He left $25 to insure his appearance in court.

QUINCY PUTS BAN ON JEWISH CEMETERY

Mayor Bradford of Quincy has vetoed the recent order passed by the City Council for a Jewish cemetery in Germantown.

In vetoing the order the Mayor said that some people were trying to make capital out of the dead, so that the proposed cemetery would become a burial place for the Jews of Greater Boston.

BRIDE OF A YEAR SEEKING DIVORCE

Mrs. Barbara H. Bailey, a Newton bride of a year, charges her husband with cruel and abusive treatment in a divorce action just filed.

She married Phillip A. Bailey of Middletown, Ct., after a brief courtship. She charges, in addition to the cruelty, that he failed to provide for her.

RUM RUNNERS BURN STOLEN MOTOR CAR

Worcester, July 11.—That the touring car of James L. Fitzgerald of No. 52 Eastern avenue, was used for bootlegging after it had been stolen from Lake avenue, Worcester on July 3, is the opinion of the police. The ruins of the burned car were found on a lonely road over the Connecticut line. Empty liquor bottles were found near the destroyed automobile.

Houghton & Dutton Company

TREMONT AND BEACON STS., BOSTON 9, MASS. WE GIVE AND REDEEM LEGAL STAMPS

Always the Unusual in Value-Giving Here. Here's a Special List of Extraordinary Values for Wednesday Only

No Mail, Phone or C. O. D. Orders on These Items

THRIFT DAY

Every Item at a Cut Price for Wednesday Only

Oil Cook Stoves

Wednesday Only 14.98

Acorn Blue flame, black Japan finish, brass burners, blue enameled chimneys, glass oil tank, producing a hot, intense flame.

BASEMENT

36 Inch Tricotine

Wednesday Only Yard 59c

Closely woven, good wearing quality, clear distinct cord, in navy blue and black only. Excellent for making serviceable skirts and children's dresses.

STREET FLOOR

Wide Wale Corduroy

Wednesday Only Yard 59c

Thick pile, light and dark colors, suitable for smoking jackets, bathrobes, kimonos, etc. We have but 1800 yards in lengths of 2 to 5 yards each.

STREET FLOOR

Men's Shirts

Wednesday Only 1.00

Made from good quality striped percale, in neat designs, with attached collars, tailored with the same care which is given more expensive garments. Sizes 14 to 17.

STREET FLOOR

Hand Bags

Wednesday Only 1.98

Silk Moire, made in four of the newest styles; nicely lined, fitted with change purse and mirror.

STREET FLOOR

500 Apron Dresses

Bought Special and Marked Very Special at 79c

Wednesday Only

A light, cool and practical dress for wear when doing your housework. They are made up in attractive colored striped and check percales, with trimmings of contrasting solid color material; others have rick rack braid trimming. The quality is exceptional, the skirt full and of a desirable length. You will appreciate the comfort of them.

THIRD FLOOR

Bead Necklaces

Wednesday Only 47c

An imitation pearl with fine lustre, graduated opera length, safety ring clasp.

STREET FLOOR

Gabardine Skirts

Wednesday Only 2.25

Serviceable quality, made with fancy slit pockets, large pearl button trimming, deep hems and broad belts, waist bands 25 to 32 inches, all lengths.

THIRD FLOOR

Voile Waists

Wednesday Only 1.65

Several dainty models with either long or short sleeves and trimmings of lace, embroidery or drawn-work. A sweater waist has a frill front. Sizes 36 to 46 and larger sizes 48 and 50.

THIRD FLOOR

Rocking Chairs

Wednesday Only 14.98

Mahogany finished frame, with spring seat and loose cushion, and back, upholstered in high grade fancy velour or tapestry. Choice of match are the same price. Wonderful value.

FIFTH FLOOR

New Sport Hats

Wednesday Only 1.49

The combinations and colors are so varied and attractive that any costume can be easily matched. Soft sport pullons, fibre and wool combinations, straw and ribbon combinations and novelty hats, embroidered with Milan hemp.

SECOND FLOOR

66 Pc. Dinner Sets

Wednesday Only 15.00

Fine American porcelain sets, decorated with choice border and spray patterns in all the latest designs. Complete service for eight people. The quantity is limited and the value very exceptional.

BASEMENT

Boys' Knickers

Wednesday Only 79c

New dark shade of khaki, belt loops, No. watch and two side pockets, tan linings, 8 to 17 years. Also some lighter shade khaki knickers made with double seats.

THIRD FLOOR

Women's Oxfords

Wednesday Only 1.95

Some pumps, white canvas, several styles. Goodyear welt and turned soles, medium or high heels, all sizes.

STREET FLOOR—REAR

Ruffled Curtains

Wednesday Only 85c

Sheer, soft finish scrim, full narrow ruffles, hemstitched bands and ruffled tiebacks.

FOURTH FLOOR

Children's Play Oxfords

Wednesday Only Pair 1.29

A stout, comfortable dark tan oxford, with heavy stitched soles, all leather, in sizes for misses and children up to size 2.

STREET FLOOR—REAR

Khaki Cloth

Wednesday Only Yard 12½c

36 inches wide, good, heavy weight, closely woven, in short lengths, suitable for boys' pants, blouses, overalls and many other purposes. Only 2000 yards in the lot.

STREET FLOOR

White Oil Cloth

Wednesday Only Yard 20c

45 inches wide, standard make of a quality that usually sells for 49c a yard. Owing to slight irregularities we are able to offer this limited quantity at this low price.

STREET FLOOR

Women's Extra Size Vests

Wednesday Only 3 for 50c

Cut on generous lines, giving absolute comfort. Swiss rib, seconds of a regular 35c quality. Sizes 40, 42 and 44.

STREET FLOOR

Military Brushes

Wednesday Only Pair 27c

Solid back, all bristle, aluminum face.

DRUG DEPT., SECOND FLOOR

6x9 Gold Seal Congoleum Squares

Wednesday Only 2.75

Attractive patterns, good colors. None sold to dealers.

FOURTH FLOOR

Shirtings

Wednesday Only Yard 15c

2500 yards in madras and colored crepe weaves, very desirable patterns, good wearing quality.

STREET FLOOR

Couch Hammocks

Wednesday Only 8.98

Good quality khaki colored duck, chain hung. National spring. Will last for years if given due care. Stands are $4.50 extra.

FOURTH FLOOR

RICHES FOUND IN HIDDEN WILL

Worcester, July 11.—An old musty bit of parchment, hidden in a cranny of the Jonas G. Clark homestead here for nearly 60 years, is expected to be the means of bringing a fortune to William Bacon Scofield and his sister, Mrs. E. D. Thayer.

Mr. Scofield is a Harvard graduate and is widely known as the author of the famous poem, "John the Orangeman." He will leave for Europe in a few weeks to investigate the affair.

The old Clark homestead on Elm street was recently sold by Mrs. Thayer to the local lodge of Elks. While workmen were renovating the place for the lodge they found a bundle of dusty papers in a corner. These they turned over to Mrs. Thayer for examination.

Neither Mrs. Thayer nor her brother had ever seen the papers before. They opened them in mild curiosity—and found that one was a will, under the terms of which their father, the late Jas. James Moore Scofield, was made heir to a huge estate in Scotland. A conservative estimate of the estate's value is said to be $1,000,000.

The will was drawn in Edinboro, Scotland, about seventy-five years ago, and neither the brother nor sister had ever heard of its existence. They took it to local attorneys, however, and were assured that, in all probability, it is still valid.

Betty Alden Names Most Smartly Gowned Matrons in Boston Society

By BETTY ALDEN.

MRS. ARTHUR L. RICHMOND.

Mrs. Hendricks Hallet Whitman.

Mrs. Thomas G. Stevenson.

Mrs. Lothrop M. Weld.

Mrs. Frank Wigglesworth.

Mrs. Oliver Ames, Jr.

Here they are—the six most smartly-groomed matrons of Boston's fashionable coterie. At least, that's the idea we entertain, in company with a good many other people whom we've been questioning.

Mrs. Arthur L. Richmond, the former Jessie Means, is surely entitled to honors when it comes to sartorial display. Ever since the daughter of Mrs. Arthur Little (Jessie Whitman Means) made her debut in 1918 she has been noted for her becoming costumes.

A slender young woman, of medium height, with fluffy hair of rather light brown and hazel eyes, she is most attractive looking. Her clothes are always well suited to her type, for she wears very dainty gowns and usually wide-brimmed, droopy hats. Especially attractive are her Summer frocks, with their soft materials and delicate colors.

It was just a year ago last June that society was bidden to the smart ceremonial which transformed Jessie Means into the bride of the young Harvard '18 man. The past Winter the young people have been making their home at No. 52 Brimmer street, and now I understand that they are to remain for the major portion of the Summer at "Spartivento," the Italian villa of Mrs. Richmond's mother at Beverly Farms. Which reminds me that the last time I saw the one-time Jessie Means she was gowned in a simple white frock, with a large-brimmed hat of black straw, the latter boasting a wreath of red flowers. Faithfully guarding her was her ever-present "pal," a tiny white sealyham, with the most beguiling of faces.

Both Mrs. Richmond and her spouse took part in Adelaide Whitman's "Why Not," presented for charity last March. Both sang and danced in the chorus of the first act and in the second act Arthur Richmond was one of the "turn-r-ible" bandits.

The other five most smartly-groomed matrons will be described in this column later on.

MRS. ARTHUR L. RICHMOND

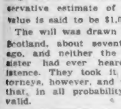
(Photo by Bachrach.)

Noted for her modish gowns is Mrs. Arthur L. Richmond (Jessie Means), who is spending the Summer with her mother, Mrs. Arthur Little, at the latter's Summer place at Beverly Farms.

MRS. GOULD BIDS NURSES GOOD-BYE

New York, July 11.—Stopping first to bid nurses, doctors, and many patients and the clerical force good-bye, Mrs. George Gould, Jr., left Roosevelt Hospital unaccompanied by her husband. She returned to her home, No. 964 Park avenue, fully recovered from an operation for appendicitis.

During the past few days, while convalescing, Mrs. Gould has spent much time visiting among the patients in the wards and distributed flowers and fruit that were sent to her. The patients were not told who she was until after she had bade them good-bye.



Mrs. George Gould, Jr.

(Photo by International News Reel.)

1,447 FAMILIES AIDED BY WELFARE SOCIETY

According to a report issued today 1,447 families were cared for by the Family Welfare Society for the month of June from the fourteen districts of the society. The report says that most calls were due to sickness and unemployment.

Advertisement

"Sylpho-Nathol Ended Our Sink Smells"

"Our kitchen sink became positively objectionable. We tried everything—poured in gallons of hot soda suds, ammonia, lye water. Nothing seemed to help. Finally, John sent for the plumber.

"He opened up the trap—the curved under the sink pipe, dear! That's where the smell came from! I never knew a sinkdrain could be so dreadful.

"After the plumber left, the odor was not so bad for a while, but then it grew worse.

"I'm so proud of my clean little kitchen. That sink made me too blue for anything.

"Last Thursday evening the Lynns were over and Mrs. Lynn came into the kitchen to help me with the coffee and sandwiches.

"'What a perfect dear of a kitchen you have,' she said, going over to rinse her hands at the sink—and then I saw her smile face.

"She is such a model housekeeper. I felt like crying. 'O isn't it too dreadful!'—I managed to say. 'And we've done everything'

"It was then she told me about Sylpho-Nathol.

"It didn't seem quite possible, but Mrs. Lynn had had a sink that smelled even worse, she said, than mine. And Sylpho-Nathol made it sweet and clean over night.

"Next morning I phoned the grocer to include a bottle of Sylpho-Nathol in my order. Following directions on the package, I put a teaspoonful into a quart of warm water and poured it down the disagreeable, pearly gray solution into the sink drain.

"From that minute, my sink has smelled just as sweet and clean as it always looked.

"I use Sylpho-Nathol by a lot of ways—for every water that can't stand boiling. It destroys all kinds of germs, as a sprinkle that cleans away dainty dusty, cellar smells for the laundry tubs, tea but drains and garbage cans. And, of course, I use it regularly in the bathroom, around the toilet fixtures, and as a weekly flush for the closet bowl.

Sylpho-Nathol is 4½ times stronger than Carbolic Acid—one fl. oz. to each liter. In the home in a rule of one fl. ounce to four heavy pails. 35c, 75c, $1.35. Complete directions are on the bottle. Your grocer or druggist has it. If he hasn't, he can get it easily. Just ask for it by name—"Sylpho-Nathol."

NEW YORK GIRL WEDS ELIOT WADSWORTH

Eliot Wadsworth, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, former vice-chairman of the American Red Cross and noted financier and engineer, was married to Mrs. Nancy Whitman Scull of Cedarhurst, L. I. The ceremony took place at the Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York.

Mr. Wadsworth was born in Boston on September 10, 1876, and was graduated from Harvard in 1898. During the war President Wilson made him a member of the war council of the Red Cross, and later he was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal.

He was at one time in charge of relief work in Poland and was a member of the Rockefeller Foundation War Relief Commission, which visited Europe during the war.

King Albert of Belgium appointed him a Commander of the Order of the Crown for his work in Belgium.

He is a member of the Somerset, Tennis and Racquet, Tavern and Harvard clubs, and is a director of many Hub banks.

Eliot Wadsworth

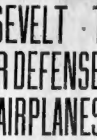
ROOSEVELT TO TOUR DEFENSES IN AIRPLANES

By Universal Service.

Washington, July 11.—Acting Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt will leave today for an inspection tour of Atlantic coast training stations and naval bases, using a naval seaplane for transportation. By flying the secretary will be able to accomplish an amount of work and to cover distance that would otherwise necessitate many days' absence from Washington.

Secretary Roosevelt will start his seaplane trip from Atlantic City, N. J., on Thursday morning. He will be met in Atlantic City by two F-5-L seaplanes, the large type of naval scouting planes. They will follow the coast line to New London, Ct., arriving in time for Mr. Roosevelt to inspect the submarine base the same day.

The following day the planes will carry the inspection party to Newport, R. I., where the training station and other naval activities will be visited. Mr. Roosevelt will visit the Naval War College Saturday morning. From Newport the return will be made to New York city.



Theo. Roosevelt

AMERICAN GIRL TO SHOW PARIS STYLES

New York, July 11.—For once Paris is going to be shown the latest in woman's fashions. Miss Amalie Blanchard, granddaughter of former Governor Blanchard of Louisiana, has "latest creations" of her own which, she promises, will make Parisienne and Parisiennes sit up and take notice. Miss Blanchard was among those sailing for Europe recently on the S. S. Majestic.

Amalie Blanchard

Photo by International News Reel.

FINGERLESS MAN CUTS HIS THROAT

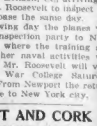
New York, July 11.—How Frederick Yulstein, twenty-five, managed to slash his throat with a razor remains a puzzle to physicians of Bellevue Hospital, where he is in a precarious condition. Yulstein has no fingers on either hand.

BELFAST AND CORK WEDDING NUPTIALS

Miss Nellie Riley of No. 3754 Washington street, Forest Hills, recently became bride from Cork, but really, she isn't so sure that the Republican irregulars are right in the little war now current in Ireland.

On the other hand, Hugh McGarry of No. 852 Huntington avenue, from Belfast a few years ago, admits that De Valera is a fine fellow, and for all he knows the Free Staters may be wrong. It isn't for him to decide.

Cork and Belfast were united in matrimony at St. Andrew's Church in Forest Hills, the Rev. Father Casey performing the ceremony. Miss Margaret Glynn of Kilkenny was bridesmaid and Joseph McGarry, a brother of the groom, was best man.



Miss Nellie Riley

Mctiarty.

OLD FARCE IS REVIVED AT ST. JAMES

"The Man from Mexico," another farce of the vintage of "My Friend from India," which was performed last week at the St. James, was presented there last night by Walter Perkins and the capable company which surrounds him.

Mr. Perkins is a survival of the old school of farces. These farces consisted of passing people off as strangers from India, Mexico, Peru and Greenland, and telling preposterous lies about them. Hiding embarrassing visitors in various rooms, slamming doors and deceiving wives were their principal ingredients.

They were funny enough in a downright sort of way and construction compare favorably with the bed room and pajama farce which happens to be the vogue at present.

"The Man from Mexico" is a good example of these extinct entertainments, and they had in their favor the fact that they demanded effective character acting.

Among the members of the supporting cast were Ralph Remley, who got a lot of fun out of the part of Col. Majors, and Harold Chase, whose German dialect, a form of humor gradually creeping back upon the stage, was amusing.

Dorothy Bernard, as the unlucky Clementina, Alice Byrne and Mildred Price performed acceptably, while Joan Batchelor, playing her first part on the stage, made an excellent impression.

NEW MUSICAL SHOW AT NORUMBEGA PARK

Greenwich Village, that Bohemian section of Manhattan which has furnished authors, playwrights, funmakers and others with so much material, has been called upon to provide the action in the musical comedy, entitled "The Greenwich Village Girl," which Bob Ott and his company of seventeen are presenting in the theatre at Norumbega Park the first half of this week.

Beginning Thursday the current show will give way to another musical play, entitled "My Mother," in which Bob Ott will play a straight part, forsaking dialect and burlesque makeup for the ifrst time in his seventeen years on the stage.

Other Theatres

MODERN AND BEACON—Betty Compson, in "Always the Woman," and George Walsh, in "Shipwrecked," are the two photoplays which form the week's bill at the Modern and Beacon Theatres. It is a program that runs the gamut of dramatic situations.

ORPHEUM THEATRE— Loew's Orpheum Theatre yesterday offered a bill of extraordinary merit both in the presentation of its photoplays and vaudeville. The feature photoplay was "The Yellow Stain," starring John Gilbert. In this production Gilbert portrays a young lawyer who takes up his practice in a small town among the timberlands of northern Michigan. From the start he is handicapped by the belligerent attitude of a village tyrant who endeavors to make away with him. Of course there is a girl, most admirably played by Claire Anderson. The picture is a vivid romance of love, duty and justice.

LOEW'S STATE—The bill this week presents two photoplays of multiple reels, each consisting of elements of popular appeal. The stellar attraction is "Our Leading Citizen," featuring Thomas Meighan. The story was written especially for Mr. Meighan by George Ade, America's most famous humorist, and depicts the life of a small town lawyer. The supporting cast is headed by Lois Wilson and Theodore Roberts.

GORDON'S OLYMPIA—A bill of about comedy of a type that was different was the delightful brand of amusement offered by Mazie Clifton and Billy De Rex, headliners, at Gordon's Olympia Theatre yesterday. These comedians skilfully avoided tawdriness and gave a refreshing trimmed with hilariously funny antics.

SCOLLAY SQUARE OLYMPIA—Betty Compson, Paramount star of "The Little Minister" and "The Green Temptation," and Tom Moore, famous for his romantic characterizations, in a new but welcome combination in Penrhyn Stanlaws' newest production, "Over the Border," which was finely presented at Gordon's Scollay Square Olympia Theatre yesterday.

GORDON'S STRAND—A popular European play that was a complete success, with a humdinger of a title, "Is Matrimony a Failure?" which opened at Gordon's Strand Theatre last evening and met with a rousing reception.

GORDON'S CENTRAL SQUARE—Wallace Reir has proven popular in all of the preceding automobile race stories in which he has appeared, but his latest, "Across the Continent," shown at Gordon's Central Square Theatre yesterday, is the uniquest of them all.

BOSTON THEATRE—The Boston Theatre is showing two unusual features this week. "Life's Greatest Question" is a story of the Northwest Mounted Police and the problem of what a wife should tell her husband of her past life. The big vaudeville attraction is Ben Welch, the famous character comedian.

LANCASTER THEATRE—Corinne Griffith's latest picture, "Island Wives," was shown yesterday at the Lancaster Theatre. Roy Stewart in "Heart of the North" is on the same program.

Vaudeville Bill at Keith's Viewed by Hamonry

BIG FIREWORKS SPECTACLE TOMORROW

A fleet of huge motor trucks arrived in Boston last night bearing the production of "Scrapping the Navy," the International Fireworks show, which will be given at Braves Field tomorrow and Wednesday nights.

John Serpico, president of the company and the greatest fireworks manufacturer in the world, arrived by train.

All day today and tomorrow a hundred men will work at Braves Field getting together the unusual and astonishing production.

Not for many years has a show of this kind been attempted. It will depict the historic sea fights of America from Paul Jones down to Dewey at Manila, and the scrapping of a great modern fleet.

It will open with an exhibition of daylight fireworks before seen here, and will close with a most extraordinary display of pyrotechnics.

ACTRESS GOES UNDER KNIFE OF SURGEON

New York, July 11.—Miss Mary Hay, an actress, who in private life is Mrs. Richard Barthelmess, wife of the screen actor, is in Roosevelt Hospital recovering from an operation which was reported to be successful.

Information as to its nature was refused. Friends believe the operation resulted from an injury Miss Hay received when she tripped and fell last February while appearing in "Marjolaine."

Mary Hay

Photo by Marceau.

WAR FINANCE LOANS TOTAL $237,000,000

Washington, June 11.—Books of the War Finance Corporation showed a total of $237,000,000 in loans outstanding at the close of the fiscal year, June 30, according to a summary of operations issued today by Managing Director Eugene Meyer.

When the corporation resumed operations in January, 1922, he stated he loans outstanding totaled $111,000,000 and since that time the corporation has authorized loans aggregating $262,000,000, of which $25,000,000 was to assist in financing exports and $210,000,000 for agricultural and livestock purposes.

PENNSYLVANIA COAL TAX UP TO HIGH COURT

By Associated Press.

Albany, N. Y., July 11.—Attorney-General Charles D. Newton took steps today to test in the United States Supreme Court the constitutionality of the Pennsylvania statute imposing a tonnage tax on anthracite coal.

The tax, the attorney-general alleges, will increase the cost of hard coal in all Eastern States dependent upon Pennsylvania for supplies. The Pennsylvania courts have upheld the validity of the State law authorizing its imposition.

Mr. Newton joined in an application to Chief Justice Moschzisker of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court for permission to carry the case to the Supreme Court of the United States and at the same time sent telegraphic appeal to the attorneys-general of New Jersey, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Delaware to co-operate in the movement.

"This tax," said the attorney-general, "directly hits the pocketbook of the heads of households in the Eastern States. Eventually the householder will be compelled to pay. That is the consensus of the law officers in the States which discussed this new levy."

WILL RACE ACROSS OCEAN IN KETCH

By The Associated Press.

New York, July 11.—William Washburn Nutting, editor of a marine magazine, announced today he had forwarded a reply to the Duke of Leinster in London, accepting his challenge to race across the Atlantic single-handed in a ketch.

Mr. Nutting said he was prepared to meet any of the conditions the Duke may propose and would build a suitable boat in 1923 if the English sportsman accepts. Mr. Nutting is a fellow of the Royal Geographical Society.

The Duke of Leinster's ketch is described as a lightly-rigged vessel of twelve tons with a 20-horsepower engine. He recently announced he intended to start a trip soon from the west coast of Ireland, with New York as the objective, in an endeavor to win a wager.

ARMED WOMAN KEEPS STRIKERS AT BAY

Chicago, July 11.—"I'll kill, if necessary," said Mrs. Julia Gabel, "Barbara Fritchie of Burnside," to railroad strikers who attacked her home when her husband refused to join them. Attack after attack made upon her home by the angry strikers were repulsed by Mrs. Gabel, who defied each renewed attack with a revolver and a heavy iron pike. The valiant Amazon was successful and forced the strikers to withdraw after they had stormed the house for several hours.

Mrs. Julia Gabel

Photo by International News Reel.

FRENCH DELEGATES TO STAY AT HAGUE

Paris, July 11 (By the Associated Press).—France has decided to keep her experts at The Hague until the end of the conference on Russian affairs there, it was announced in official circles today.

This decision, it was explained, does not mark any change in the attitude of the government, which now believes that no practical good will come of The Hague conference because of the position taken by Russia. The French experts, it was stated, will remain at The Hague and endeavor with other allies to seek some way out of the difficulty, but they do not look for success unless the Russians radically alter their stand.

FIRE CHIEFS PLAN NEW ORGANIZATION

Fire fighters from all over New England will meet here tomorrow to organize the New England Fire Chiefs' association. The organization will be formed along the lines of the International Association of Fire Fighters, and will hold regular conventions for the purpose of discussing problems that confront fire departments. The meeting will be held at No. 380 Devonshire street.

ARMY BALLOON TEAM WILL SAIL TOMORROW

Washington, July 11.—The army balloon team will sail tomorrow from New York to take part in the Gordon-Bennett international balloon race at Geneva, Aug. 6. The team is commanded by Major Oscar Westover, air service, and includes Lieutenants Charlton F. Bond and William E. Connelly.

MOROCCO REBELS ATTACK SPANIARDS

Madrid, July 11.—Renewed activities by the Moroccan rebels are reported in an official statement issued today. A Spanish convoy was attacked at Gorgues, in the Tetuan area, and in the ensuing fight the Spanish lost eleven killed and five wounded.

ESTABLISHED MARK CROSS LONDON ACTUAL MAKERS

89 Regent Street

For the convenience of Americans in London, purchases may be charged to home accounts.

Peace is raging over the world. Blessed are the Peace-Makers for they shall never be out of employment.

Cross Overnight Case

Of black cobra hide leather, lined throughout with exquisite colored silk. The long shirred pocket inside cover will hold gloves, etc., and two small pockets at sides for handkerchiefs. Ample space for wearing apparel. Three sizes. Specially priced, 14, 16, 18 inches.

$16.00, $17.00, $18.00

Formerly $21.00, $22.50, $24.00

Cross Wardrobe Trunk

For men and women. Fitted with garment hangers, laundry bag, shoe box and 4 spacious drawers, top one with lock fastening, metal bar locking other drawers; clothes compressor fitted with locking latch. Blue fibre covering and binding. Lined throughout with kerseline. Heavy nickel plated trimmings and brass lock. Ironing board (extra) can be attached at side, as shown; 2 sizes. Specially priced.

Full size $49.50

Pony size $46.50

Formerly $65.00, $62.00

Ironing board, cloth covered (as shown), extra $2.25

Cross Hand Bag

Best quality moire silk, in black, blue or brown; silk lined throughout. Conveniently arranged with framed coin compartment in center and attached mirror at back. Fancy round catch. Specially priced,

$4.75

Formerly $6.00

Cross Cigarette Case

This handy case will hold 20 cigarettes. Made of black pin and cobra grained seal leather. Silk lining. Gold medallion in center. When closed case measures 6x3¾ inches.

$10.00; tax 50c

Cross Picture Frame

An attractive decorated wood frame with gold or silver finish. Opening measures 6¾x8¾ inches $9.00

Everyday Cards
Dinner Cards
Stationery
Desk Sets
Fountain Pens
Shown on Main Floor.

Mark Cross
The World's Greatest Leather Store

145 Tremont Street
Between Temple Pl. and West St.
BOSTON, 11

404 Fifth Ave. 253 Broadway
NEW YORK
89 Regent Street
LONDON
Dealers Throughout the World

SINN FEIN BOY KICKED TO DEATH IN BELFAST

Further descriptions of the Orange reign of terror in Ulster are contained in today's instalment of the Irish Weekly Bulletins, published by the Dail Eireann.

The manner in which a boy was kicked to death by "well-meaning persons"; the admission of a soldier that "rifles were too mild—we ought to use bombs and do it right"; and the story of ghoulish profiteering in murder and extortion by Orangemen are contained in the recital of the charges of Sinn Fein.

The bulletins follow:

This incident from the daily reports is an almost hourly happening in Belfast:

"At 7:15 p. m. on Friday, 16th June, a group of boys were standing at Dunlewey street (Falls road). They were ordered off by the "Specials" in a Lancia car, and before they had time to get away, the Lancia car was driven on to the footpath, and tried to drive over them.

BOY KICKED TO DEATH.

"After this the Lancia car proceeded slowly up and down the Falls road. The 'Special' in front had a look of 'grim, dour' determination on his face, his eyes along the sights of his rifle, and his finger on the trigger. A sudden jolt and somebody may be shot dead."

In the case of the murdered Catholic youth, Hugh McDonnell, aged twenty, Saul street, who was taken off the Newtownards road tram at Mamel street, on the 21st of May, by "well-disposed" persons, this is the description given by his mother of the remains after the "well-disposed" persons had done with him: "He was kicked to pulp, all his body was a mass of bruises. It was riddled with bullets, and the Sign of the Cross was slashed on his throat with a knife." His mother is a widow, left with six children when a husband died. Another son, Andrew, joined up in the Highland Light Infantry, in 1915, and after serving four years was killed in action at the close of the war.

RIFLES "TOO MILD."

A Belfastman who recently completed a term of imprisonment on a political charge in the Crumlin Road Jail has made an affidavit from which we take this extract:

"I was in a cell at the rear of the prison. Two Special Constables, belonging to the platoon at the jail, were in the yard beneath the window. They were discussing the attack on the Mater Hospital.

No. 1 said:—"Rifles are no use for a stunt like that. Bombs would be the stuff to give 'em".

No. 2:—"It was a scandal to attack a place like that at all, with sick people in it."

No. 1:—"It was a scandal doing it unless it was done right, and a thing like that should be done with bombs. What about a raid?"

No. 2:—"Look at what the papers would say."

No. 1:—"Oh, never mind the papers, they are playing the game all right." (No. 1 had been one of the party told off for the firing operations on the Mater Hospital).

FANATICISM PLUS GREED.

The following is an extract from a Statutory Declaration made by an ex-Civil Servant in Belfast:—"I know a B Special, named ——, living at ——in Belfast. He is employed as manager of a public house. In addition to his public duties as 'Protector' of the Catholic minority there. For the past six months he has blossomed forth as a speculator in Catholic public houses. In this he has discovered a gold mine. Some time ago he showed me a cheque for £2,000, the proceeds of one deal.

"The modus operandi is quite simple. First the Catholic publican is threatened with being bombed out, burned out, or shot, or all three. Then this man, who is behind the scenes, comes along and buys the business for a song. He sells it to an Orangeman within a week at a pretty good profit. In this he has practically a monopoly.

PROFIT IN ATROCITY.

"Orangemen who do not belong to the murder gang are warned off from butting in on this business. There was an atrocious massacre of a Catholic family engaged in the liquor trade quite close to where this man lives. Now the instruments engaged in that massacre knew the lay of the house pretty well. Evidently they had been tutored by someone who knew it. It was only a short time before this massacre that I was shown the cheque for £2,000.

"The man was pretty pleased with himself at the time, and I should say was inclined to be a bit boastful. At all events, he confided to me and those present that he had other big deals coming off. From all the facts of the case I am morally certain he was instrumental in arranging the massacre as a preliminary to a further deal in the Catholic public houses. It is a noteworthy fact that when the police visited the home of the McMahons, after the massacre on the morning of the 28th of March, Mrs. McMahon's niece gave a description of the person in charge of the party who had murdered the men folk in the house half an hour earlier.

"The description of this person tallied in all particulars with the description of District Inspector —— one of the chiefs of the murder gang.

(To Be Continued)

FILES ANSWER IN $20,000 SUIT

Worcester, July 11.—Answers to interrogatories were filed in Superior Court by Jacob Resnick, Worcester taxicab driver, plaintiff in a $20,000 alleged alienation of affections case against Charles Divoli of Leominster.

Resnick says he lives at No. 19 Derby street, was married to Florence E. Resnick October 23, 1921, and that his wife left him December 12, 1921, for four weeks.

His answers a question as to the cause of her leaving by saying "Charles H. Divoli." He explains that Divoli met his wife in the post-office, later called her on the phone, made an appointment with her and then spoke to her disparagingly of the plaintiff, at the same time offering her material inducements to leave Resnick. Resnick claims, too, that Divoli urged Mrs. Resnick to institute divorce proceedings against him.

BOY DIES AS CHUM IS SAVED FROM RIVER

New York, July 11.—A life preserver attached to a rope thrown by James Luppo of Jamaica, saved the life of Herman Brown, nineteen, of Manhattan. The boy's companion, Rodney Thurmberg, eighteen, who was swimming with him in the East River, was drowned, despite the efforts of Brown and Luppo to save him. They had been carried beyond their depth by a strong tide and became exhausted trying to get back to the shore.

CLOVEN HOOFS HIDE BOOTLEGGER TRAIL

Atlanta, Ga., July 11.—Cloven hoofs, used to conceal the trail of the bootlegger, were recently found in a moonshine district. The hoofs were strapped on over ordinary boots. They leave a trail that closely resembles that of cattle.

DIES IN GIRL'S ARMS WHILE IN BATHING

Atlantic City, July 11.—Wesley Raymond was in bathing with Miss ViolaStelulis, when he was seized by heart failure and died in the arms of the young woman, just as he was taken out of the water by lifeguards

When Toe Dancer Blows in to Help, Flapper's Radio Party Is Upset

PUTTING THE "STATIC" IN THE RADIO

This is the best pitcha I ever took—first in history to show the radio station, the radio broadcasters and the static. Its a bit too static but you should have heard the music. When the reg'lar acks don't show up the operators have to broadcast their own songs. I caught Charlie Lahr, Art Moulton and Lloyd Kenfield singing "Send Me a Kiss by Wireless." They're hitting Hay Fever B flat.

With Most of the Stars Absent, Amateurs Fix Up Own Card of Broadcasting.

By THE FLAPPER.

"Don't do that!"

"Now what'd I do?" I asked. "I on'y jus' this minute came in—"

"Don't slam the door," Mr. Arthur Moulton scolded. Don't cha know this is a broadcasting station?"

"Sure," I said. "That's why I came up. Wanta see what's going on. Why're you so touchy, it's cat's sake?"

"Every time somebody slams that door it sounds like a bomb in New Hampshire," explained Mr. Moulton, instructor at the Eastern Radio Institute. "An' nobody ever misses. S'awful. Now, Miss La Rose, we're ready for you. Whadda you going to sing?

BAN ON MOTHER MACHREE

"I thought Mother Machree——"

"Well, think again," said Mr. Moulton, heartlessly, "everytime I hear that song I wonder why I took radio for a career."

"Well, how about, 'There's Music in the Air!'" suggested the mezzo soprano.

"Fine!" cried the radio man. "It'll be a good ad for us."

Mr. Charles A. Lahr, who was announcing, gave the signal for the song to start. The room became very quiet. Miss La Rose stepped up to the megaphone and threw back her head. The Monday night concert of "Waaj" was on.

Half way through the song the door flew open and a little gent with double glasses crashed in, slamming the door behind him.

"Don't DO that!" hollered Mr. Moulton.

"Hey, you out there, less noise," cautioned Charlie. "You're crabbin' our act. You sound like a lotta static."

Miss La Rose put her fingers to her ears so she could hear herself sing. The little man sat down meekly and waited.

"Wha'dds y' want?" growled Arthur Moulton, when the song ended.

WANTS TO RECITE

"I wanted to offer myself," replied the little man, looking over his double glasses. "I recite."

"Whadda ya know?" demanded the radio man.

"Four score an' seven years ago—G"

"Stop! The air's been full of that ever since the 4th."

"Or Gungha Din——"

"Still worse."

The little man wrinkled his noble brow in deep thought.

"I have it," he cried, suddenly. "I'll ask some riddles!"

"Give'm the air," cried Charlie, from behind the broadcasting screen.

"I guess I'll hafta be going," said the elocutionist.

"Oh, don't hurry away," said Mr. Moulton. "And don't slam the door when you go out."

"So dumb," sighed Charlie, "he thinks Henry Cabot Lodge is a branch of the Elks."

When "Waaj" had once more become quiet Miss La Rose offered to sing another song.

She was aiming for a high C when the door slammed violently.

"DON'T DO THAT!" screamed Mr. Moulton.

IN COMES FLAPPER.

A flapper with a pale blonde bob stood leaning against the door.

"I'm thertainly thorry if I dithturbed you," she said sweetly.

"Oh, not at all, nat-a-tall," murmured the radio instructor.

"Then why did you thay—"

"S-s-sh," shushed Mr. Moulton. "Look your lips—that's a good girl. Everything you say can be heard in Salem and Provincetown and Portland and dear knows where else."

"Yeth thir," said the flap.

When Miss La Rose had finished her song the boss turned to the little blonde flap.

"Now, what did YOU want?" he asked with a lotta patience.

"I wanta ack for the radio," said the flap. "I heard you needed talent."

"And so we do," said the radio man, brightening. "What can you do?"

The little flap beamed upon Mr. Moulton and said proudly: "I'm a toe danther!"

FALL RIVER GIRL ATTACKED BY ROBBER

Fall River, July 11.—Miss Edith Lane of No. 1582 Rodman street was brutally attacked by a man while on her way to her home. On Brayton avenue, near the school of that name, the man caught up to her, seized her and knocked her to the ground after forcing his hand over her mouth. He seized her purse containing a small sum of money and run off.

LOOK AT THREE $1 WINNING NIFTIES

TODAY'S WINNERS:

Are we late?
Oh, no.
Get the bait?
Yes, bo.
How's the boat?
So, so.
Will she float?
Guess so.
Any stuff?
Old Crow.
Good enough. Let's go.—DONALD R. TURNBULL, No. 121 M street, South Boston.

There was a young flapper from Lynn,
Who went out one day for a spin,
But, while turning the crank
She punctured the tank
N' burnt all the paint off 'er chin.
—JAMES CLAYMAN, No. 32 Leslie street, Mattapan.

Mary had a lil' lamb.
It was well trained no doubt
For every time her John came in
That lil' lamb went out.—KATHLEEN SMITH, No. 116 Oxford street, Portland, Me.

Send 'em to the Nifty Editor, Boston American.

ATTLEBORO FINES BREAK RECORDS

Attleboro, July 11.—Records were established in the Fourth District Court of Bristol, in the quarter ending June 30, when Clerk Edwin F. Thayer turned over to the city of Attleboro a check for $1,162.70 and to the town of North Attleboro a check for $794.84, covering the amount due for court fines. The fines are the largest since the establishment of the court in 1905, and are due from liquor cases.

Killed by Heater

New York, July 11.—Ida Malback, fourteen, drowned in the bathtub of her home at Rockaway when she was overcome by fumes from a hot water heater. Her mother found her lying under water in the tub.

MAYOR ENABLES DISABLED VETS GET OUTING

Departing from his rule that the city boats should not be used for private excursions, Mayor Curley gave his consent to a group of Dorchester young men and women for the use of a boat so that they could take 150 disabled soldiers for an outing at Rainsford Island next Sunday afternoon.

Catherine Smith.

The Mayor will supply the necessary funds from his own personal account to the Institutions Department which controls the boat service. It will cost $180 to run the steamer Monitor which will be the boat used.

The committee which prevailed upon the Mayor to take this action came from the Meeting House Hill section of Dorchester and was headed by Miss Catherine R. Smith, Miss Gladys A. Hanley, Miss Margaret Meghean and Miss Gladys Landry. They were assisted by Commander William Horneman, Dorchester Post V. F. W., Edward J. Feeley and J. Paul Canty.

Gladys Hanley

Automobiles will be needed for the transfer of patients from the Parker Hill Hospital to Eastern Avenue Wharf and all persons who would like to contribute their care should telephone to Secretary John F. Dowd of the committee for Americanization at City Hall.

An important thrift measure —reading and using the Boston American's "For Sale" columns when you want something in good used furniture, machinery and musical instruments. They give your money greater buying power.

THE BOSTON AMERICAN
Boston's Want Ad Directory
Read for Profit—Use for Results

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on the wrapper for over 30 years just to protect the coming generations. Do not be deceived. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but experiments that endanger the health of Children—Experience against Experiments.

Never attempt to relieve your baby with a remedy that you would use for yourself.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Comfort—The Mother's Friend.

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Store Hours: 9 A. M. to 5 P. M.

Jordan Marsh Company
Great Basement Store
The Famous Store Within a Store
For the Sale of the Best Expensive Merchandise

Honest Values in Honest Goods

Showing That You Can Economize on

Dress Accessories

Without Sacrificing Quality

Women's White Buck & Canvas PUMPS 3.95

A dainty, attractive pump for summer dress wear. With Louis and baby Louis heels, widths AAA to C. Very low priced!

White Wash Silk Petticoats, 2.39

Seasonable and serviceable, wash silk petticoats, panelled front and back. Lengths from 32 to 36 inches.

Muslin Night Gowns and White Skirts, 98c

Regular and extra sizes in muslin night gowns and white skirts. Also regular sizes in Windsor crepe gowns.

Good White Sateen Petticoats, 79c

White sateen petticoats, panel back and front. Excellent summer value.

Women's Cotton Union Suits

Regular and Extra sizes 69c

Low neck, sleeveless, shell knee union suits. All first quality.

Women's Ingrain Silk Hose

Heavy Quality 1.95

Full-fashioned, ingrain silk hose. Irregulars, in black only.

A Real Vacation Necessity

Dainty Net Guimpes

Dainty net guimpes with sleeves. Trimmed with lace and insertion. 1.00

Vestee Sets, in a variety of styles and materials.....50c

Sample Neckwear, dainty made, many styles.....50c

IF THE LANDLORD DOESN'T GET YOU, HIGH G. O. P. TARIFF WILL

WOMAN TERRIBLY
Burned in Melrose Fire! Miss Jane Garvey (inset at left) became confused when she sought to leap from a window in a fire swept room of her home, No. 28 Harvard street, and the flames ignited her clothing. She jumped after her brother, Francis (right inset), landing in a heap on the ground. She is on the danger list at Melrose Hospital.

CHAPTER NO. 2! MR. Public B. Darned is in for a hard day of it! Blame it on the Republican's new tariff bill. Public, depicted by Leon Errol of the "Sally" players, as a guest of the Copley-Plaza Hotel, awakens full o' pep. S'funny, but the G. O. P. boys failed to jump the tariff on that. Anyway, Public dons his Summer bathrobe and, gosh, the tariff on it has jumped 50 p. c.—dons his slippers and they've slipped up a mere 40 p. c.—walks over carpet and that's up 100 p. c. —closes the window and the window pane's tariff rise of 400 p. c. gives him a pain—adjusts the curtains, and he finds it has gone up 33 p. c. Public is now groggy on the ropes. But just wait and see what happens to him tomorrow. It's a terrific problem, 'cause Public is you and I.

SHE LOVES TO PLAY "30 love" on the beach! It requires a lots 'o sand, but Miss Rose Goverdinsky of Revere says a snappy game of tennis on the soothing sand is the only real way to develop the figure. It isn't very hard to figure out her secret, is it, girls?

PROPOSED 3-LEVEL "L" LOOP IN HEART OF CITY, AS SUBSTITUTE FOR PROPOSED LINDEN ST., ALLSTON LOOP.....

"US GIRLS" MUST HAVE the Advance Fashions! An ideal school wear costume for Fall is this charming little knitted dress of red and white wool, trimmed with a conventional flower design of the same material. Watch for an exclusive fashion hint for your ma tomorrow. (International News Reel)

DEEP SEA DIVING IN THE heart of the city! A diver excavating in 17 feet of water down 57 feet below the street level under the old John Hancock building at Devonshire and Milk streets, constitutes one of the most remarkable engineering feats ever attempted in Boston. For three weeks he will work there to lay a solid foundation. The diagram shows a cross-section of the caissons in which he is working. As fast as the diver removes the dirt from under them they are pushed lower.

TODAY'S WINSOME WATER WINNERS! CHECKS for $5 each will be mailed to these seafaring sylphs: Mary McDonald of No. 11 Westerly street, Jamaica Plain, top, and Gladys A. Savage of No. 23 Oakwood street, Dorchester. Send in your entry now. Address Sea Beauty Editor, Boston American.

NANTASKET MAY PUT
Taboo on Petting Dance Parties on the beach! Vacationists at the resort, particularly the matrons, call some of the beach dances there atrocious. Apparently, Washington, D. C., where this was taken, finds the sand prancing an interesting pastime. (International News Reel)

TENTS TO PROVIDE SHELTER FOR FAMILIES OF EVICTED STRIKERS AT LONSdale, R. I.! Although the Cumberland Town Council voted to open the town farm for among the evicted strikers who desired shelter, none of the textile folk applied for accommoda by the evicted Lonsdale families were, left to right, Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. McClellan and Mrs. Clellan. Inset shows John J. Thomas, who aided the homeless strikers.

"HEY, MISTER? Our Heads For Yuh?" A warm and expressive greeting to the American's Canvasman from Boston's future brokers, taxi-cab drivers, city officials and Democrats, as they cooled their rugged hoofies in the Frog Pond on the Common. Thereby proving that young Boston doesn't wait for Saturday night.

SHOOT YOUR OL' TIN TYPE BOX AGIN AND WE'LL STAND ON

BOSTON'S FASHIONABLE MISSES TURN TO THE
Dance For Summer Recreation! These three goddesses of rhythm were caught ente'ncte during a rehearsal at the popular "Marjarden" at Pobsters, R. I. Left to right, Frances Aldrich, Louise Brown and Alice Wood.

EDISON COSTS TRIPLE THOSE OF CLEVELAND

At the hearing before the Department of Public Utilities in the matter of the petition of the city of Boston and the Boston American to force a reduction in the rates charged for electricity by the Edison Electric Illuminating Co. of Boston, Leonard L. Elden, expert electrical engineer for the company, was again on the stand under cross-examination by Mr. Grenville S. MacFarland of counsel in the case.

Mr. MacFarland directed the cross-examination mainly to an endeavor to secure from Mr. Elden a logical explanation of the wide differences between the expenses of the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. of Cleveland, O., as returned to the Ohio Public Service Commission and the expenses claimed by the Edison Co for similar items.

DIFFERENCE IN EXPENSES.

It appeared from figures submitted to Mr. Elden that the total commercial expense of the Cleveland Company was $307,000, while that of the Edison Company was $622,000, and that these figures represented an expense of three times as much per kilowatt hour for the Edison Company as for the Cleveland Company.

Mr. MacFarland examined Mr. Elden as to the details making up these figures and while Mr. Elden attempted to explain some of them he was generally forced to admit that the way the Edison Company distributed its claimed expenses among certain items was likely to be one of the main causes of the startling difference.

Mr. MacFarland then took up the consideration of the general expenses of the company. The figures submitted were vastly larger for the Edison Company than for the Cleveland Company.

SOME PECULIAR REASONING.

Mr. Elden accounted for these differences by saying that the officers of the Edison company where much more efficient executives than those of the Cleveland Company. Asked the reason why he considered them better executives, Mr. Elden evaded any direct answer but after considerable sharp questioning by Mr. MacFarland, the reason appeared to be that while the Edison executives spend $7,000,000, the Cleveland executives spend about $5,000,000.

The Cleveland Company does about twice as much business as the Edison Company. Therefore, because the Edison Company spends about 50 per cent. more money to do 50 per cent. less business, they are more able an efficient executives than those of the Cleveland Company.

Another interesting point brought out by Mr. MacFarland was the very material difference between certain estimates of cost made by Mr. Wallis of the sales department of the Edison Company, who had previously testified, and Mr. Elden.

DIFFER AS TO FIGURES.

Mr. Wallis' testimony was that the cost of lamp renewals in Boston was 9-100 of a cent per kilowatt hour, while Mr. Elden estimated it at .80-100 of a cent. Mr. Elden admitted, however, that he did not know how the figure of Mr. Wallis was arrived at.

Mr. Wallis also had testified that the load factor of the Cleveland company was twenty-five per cent. better than for the Boston company, but Mr. Elden's testimony was to the effect that among those familiar with electric lighting business the Cleveland load factor would be considered only ten per cent. better than Boston.

Some discussion was also had as to the practice of the company in threatening to cut off the supply of electric current unless certain charges were promptly paid. It appeared that there is a petition before the commission filed by Mr MacFarland to prevent arbitrary action of the Edison company in this matter. It was decided that arguments on this petition would be heard by the commission of July 13

SEEKS DAMAGES FOR AUTO INJURIES

Greenfield, July 11.—A jury was empaneled in Superior Court in the case of George P. Bliss of Greenfield against the town of Colrain to recover for injuries received on July 11, 1920, in an accident caused, it is alleged, by a missing railing on a bridge on a sharp turn in the road Charles L. Deane, driver of the auto mobile at the time of the accident, died from injuries received when the car went over the bank.

BAY STATE RESERVES TO TRAIN AT CEVENS

The 84th division, organized reserves, from Massachusetts, will start their training Thursday at Camp Devens. The 76th division from Connecticut and Rhode Island will be in that camp, August 1-15. The 87th division from Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, August 16-30. The First and Eleventh corps are scheduled at the cantonment, September 1-15.

Railroad Man Dead

Milford, July 11.—Michael J Dowling, sixty-four-year-old track inspector, dropped dead of heart failure at work here today. He had been an employe of the B. & A. railroad for many years.

BEECHAM'S PILLS
The Safest and Best Family Medicine

Fresh From Paris—
Latest From Marie Suzanne

Paris, France.

The "separate" jacket is really not separate at all, but is designed with studied carelessness to differ from the skirt it accompanies in an exceedingly smart manner. Chanel uses quilted red satin materials, stitched with white thread, for the jacket worn over a frock of white serge with five tucks at each side and a serge girdle tied on the left side.

A smart Parisienne appeared on the Bois recently in a frock of dark blue serge with narrow bandings here and there of white organdie. With this was worn a white kid belt of the customary two-inch width. The very short sleeve and the gauntlet gloves go arm in arm, so to speak, in many summer frocks.

SAY CORBETT RUNS CHOICE APARTMENTS

F. A. Corbett, whose signature was attached to the six post-dated checks found in the office of the Water Income Branch of the City, by accountants, who are investigating the alleged tax scandal, is said to be the trustee of some of the choicest apartment houses in the Aberdeen section of Brighton

On the books in the assessor's office at City Hall the Aberdeen Realty Company is assessed for $426,200. On the books of the City Collector, the name of F. A. Corbett appears as the owner of the property. Besides this, he is assessed for a plot of vacant land in Lana Park road, Brighton for $26,800

DIFFERENCE IN AMOUNTS.

According to the post-dated checks found in the office of Superintendent Wilson of the Water Income Branch, he owes less than $1,000, but according to the records in the city collector's office he owes that office $3,023.88 for water service.

The oldest bill against Corbett is one for $28 for the second quarter of 1917 for property on Commonwealth avenue

In 1918, according to the records he paid none of the second quarter bills for property at Nos. 1704 16, 14 18 22 26 32, 34 38 and 1742 Commonwealth avenue which amounts to $145.60. Besides these, there are outstanding bills for 1918 on property at Nos. 130, 136, 140 and 142 Sutherland road, the total of which is $43.92

In the year 1919 he is charged with failure to pay the fourth quarter bill for water at No. 1710 Commonwealth avenue, the amount of which is $21

He is alleged, in 1920, to owe $248.12 on the property in Sutherland road and $899.58 on the Commonwealth avenue houses

PAID NOTHING THIS YEAR.

The records show that he still owes for the first three-quarters in 1921 on the Commonwealth avenue property which amounts to $947.76, and on the Sutherland road property, $169.73

He is also alleged to owe the city for the entire amount to date in 1922 for water rates.

Besides all this, he is also charged with twenty-five cents for every summons that has been issued on all overdue bills.

Advertisement

Best Home Treatment for All Hairy Growths
USE DELATONE

(The Modern Beauty)

Every woman should have a small package of delatone handy, for its timely use will keep the skin free from beauty-rearring hairy growths. To remove hair or fuzz from arms or neck, make a thick paste with some of the powdered delatone and water. Apply to hairy surface and after two or three minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be free from hair or blemish. To avoid disappointment, be sure you get real delatone and mix fresh.

FOUR MURPHYS SOUGHT BY OLD SOLDIER

Patrick Maloy, eighty-five year-old Civil War veteran, is searching for four cousins, one of whom he has not seen since the day he went off to war from their home in Prince Edward Island Richard, Patrick, Ann and Maggie Murphy, all of whom, Mr. Maloy thinks, are living or have friends in or around Boston

Patrick Maloy

The old veteran has just come from Pittsburgh to make his home with his daughter, Mrs. Mary Beard, of No. 35 Smith street, Roxbury

He last saw the eldest cousin, Richard, in 1861. Maggie and Ann he saw at Prince Edward Island twenty-five years ago, while he saw Patrick at Bourne, Mass., where he was working as a blacksmith, eight een years ago

Mr. Maloy served three years in the Civil War with the Second New Hampshire regiment. He then spent three years at sea on the man-of-war Manitoba. After seeing the world he came home and did electrical work for a while, finally going to Pittsburgh thirty years ago with the Westinghouse Electric Co.

DRIVER CATCHES FIRE AT WHEEL OF TRUCK

New York, July 11.—While sitting at the wheel of a truck John Barnes, of Hoboken, discovered the lower portions of his clothing afire. Fellow-workers pulled the burning clothing from him and called an ambulance. Barnes was painfully but not seriously burned.

Advertisement

Be Careful What You Wash Your Child's Hair With Use Mulsified Cocoanut

If you want to keep your child's hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply put two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup or glass with a little warm water, then moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It will make an abundance of rich cream lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.

BOTANY MIXED WITH MUSIC BY RADIO

Some novel features, by an entertainer appear on the radio program this evening of the Medford Hillside station.

AMRAD, WGI, MEDFORD

7:30—Bedtime story, "Some Ways of the Dandelion," by Oliver P. Jenkins; read by Miss Marion W. Parker, Instructor of Arts, Brookline High school.

7:45.—Late news flashes and final baseball scores, Boston American

8:00—Signor Gennaro Petrucci operatic baritone "Ombra Mais Fu," Handel; "How Do I Love Thee?" Ware; "Liebestraum Valse," Mos zkowsky, piano solo. "The Golden Calf," Gounod; "The Lost Chord," Sullivan. "La Favorita de Fem tempa," Frink, piano solo; "You and I," Ward

8:30—Walter C. Keyler, entertainer. Piano selections "Entertainer's Rag," "Barn Dance Medley," introducing famous jigs and reels, "Stars and Stripes Forever" Irish ballad "Mona Is Calling," violin impersonation, "Cavatina," with own piano accompaniment, Bonger; "It's Your Winning Wave," and "Autumn Time," Hawaiian guitar imitations, "Honolulu March," "Kokee March," "Waltz Medley," "Hawaiian Nights" Victor record, "The Sheik," ballad. "Flow'r of Love," impersonation of Victor record, "The Shiek," ballad. "You're the Same Old Southern Mammy."

WJZ, NEWARK.

10:00 a. m.—"Society of Electra Development," by William L. Goodwin. 7:00 p. m.—Bedtime story, 7:45—"Why the Tariff Should Be Taken Out of Politics," by Senator Joseph S. Freelinghuysen. 9:00—"Humorous Aspects of an Editor's Life," by E. O'Laughlin. 9:30—Recital by Madge North, contralto.

KDKA, EAST PITTSBURGH.

7:00—Weekly dress talk. 8:00—"Garden and Home Beautifying." 9:00—Elizabeth Reese Floyd soprano; Mary Austwex, contralto; Robert Johns, baritone. Program. Soprano solos, "I Will Extol Thee," Hills; "Dear Old Pals," "The Wind in the South," South; contralto solos, "His Lullaby," Bond; "The Old Fashioned Town," Squire Tenor solos, "Thine" Rhys; "Sailor's Grave," Sullivan Baritone solo, "Invictus," Huhn Quartet—"What from Yesterday," Donzatti; "Japanese Bandman," Bornford; "Good Night, Beloved," Pinsuti, "Briskly Dawn on the Wedding Day," Pretheroe "Flow Gently Dear," Dr. Parry Solo, "Concertino," Chamanade

WGY, SCHENECTADY.

8:45 p. m.—Concert program:

Piano solo—Valse	Moszwski
Violin solo—Meditation from The Almighty	Louis T. Krause.
Soprano solo—The Swallows	Cowen
	Helena Kolb
Tenor solo—Mother Machree	Ball
Violin solo—Serenade Mignon	Charles Stuart
	Van Goens
	Mr. Krause
Soprano solo—Long Ago	MacFarlane
In the Gloaming	Ma Thaer
	Helena Kolb
Piano solo—Fox Trot, Some Sunny Day	Myers
Violin solo—Waltz in A Major	Brahms
	Mr. Krause
Tenor solo—Sweet Eve's Reverie	Curtis
	Mr. Stuart
Violin solo—Prairie Flower	McMillan
	Helena Kolb
Piano solo—Valse de Lucert	Woodward

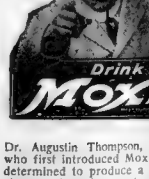
BOSTON OPENS WAR ON MOSQUITOE PEST

Boston's war on mosquitoes began today

Sanitary experts, business men and heads of women's and children's welfare organizations in the metropolitan district were to meet a Pierce Hall, Harvard, to discuss ways and means of obliterating the annoying pests.

Co-operative measures were to be discussed, while plans were under consideration looking toward a State-wide drive against mosquitoes.

If at all particular



Dr. Augustin Thompson, a well-known physician, who first introduced Moxie about fifty years ago, determined to produce a beverage, not only delicious to the palate, not only harmless, but also a real tonic and a gentle stimulant and real sustenance against the debilitating effect of excessive heat and work. The scientific amalgamation of distinctive ingredients produces a delicate aromatic flavor that is as inimitable as it was fifty years ago. The formula contains not one harmful ingredient. It is absolutely safe and wholesome for young or old, for sick or well. Moxie is the universal tonic beverage. Millions of healthy people use Moxie purely as an enjoyable, refreshing beverage; but it's used by others in ever-increasing numbers in hospitals, for convalescents, after operations. It is a known fact that a stomach which rejects pure water will retain Moxie with beneficial results.

May we suggest that at all times you have a few bottles of Moxie on ice?

HINT ALLEN MAY QUASH JUDGE PIERCE CASE

Attorney-General J. Weston Allen advised Dist. Attorney Thomas C. O'Brien to no. prosse the indictment against Justice Edward P. Pierce of Superior Court and meeting no bite refusal asked for the papers in the case and will unquestionably take such action himself.

The case of Justice Pierce had reached a climax that was what prompted Attorney-General Allen to consult District Attorney O'Brien about it through a representative late last week.

According to information this school today no friction occurred between Messrs Allen and O'Brien over the ruling.

ALLEN SILENT.

Assistant District Attorney Henry Fletcher was to have prosecuted the case. The consensus of opinion in legal and political circles today was that Attorney-General Allen would not accede to the Pierce indictment by exercising authority as District Attorney and thus relieve a superior officer.

But Mr. Allen has not given the slightest hint as to just what course he will pursue in the case. He told newspapermen that his purpose in procuring the transcript of evidence before the grand jury and other papers in the case was "to see what should be done."

The exoneration of Justice Pierce by the legislative committee that recently investigated the indictment against him in a somewhat peculiar status and put the district attorney and the attorney-general in an equally unpleasant position.

INDICTED WITH ALLEN.

Justice Pierce was indicted jointly with Attorney W. Edwin Ulmer on the charge of conspiracy to obstruct justice in connection with alleged irregularities involving Wahan Rose Commissioners. The true bills were returned by Suffolk Grand Jury under the regime of Joseph C. Pelletier, deposed district attorney.

At the same time the Grand Jury returned an indictment against Attorney-General Allen, charging him with larceny of $155.42 from a woman ward. Through his counsel, Assistant Attorneys-General Herbert Parker, Attorney-General Allen filed a plea in abatement attacking the validity of the indictment returned against him.

Grand jurors were called as witnesses. After a long and spirited hearing Judge Fessenden overruled the plea.

In his remarks, when awarded a degree of LL.D. at Harvard, Attorney-General Allen intimated, very clearly, that he feared an attempt had been made to discredit the judiciary.

LYONS RESIGNS AS PROSECUTOR'S AIDE

The resignation of Assistant District Attorney Daniel M. Lyons was announced today. He was one of Joseph C. Pelletier's staff and took an active part in the defence of his chief before the Supreme Court. Mr. Lyons had previously notified District Attorney O'Brien that if Mr. Pelletier announced his candidacy for the office, he felt duty bound to support him. Lyons's $5,000 berth has been filled by Frank L. Brier a former member of the House of Representatives from Dorchester. Mr. Brier is a member of Dorchester Lodge, A. F. & A. M., and vice president of Tri Mount Co-operative Bank. He was a member of the Republican State Committee 1917-18, and a trustee of Boston Infirmary Board from 1913 to 1918

R. H. White Co.

Mail Orders Filled—Boston 8. Telephone Orders Filled—Beach 3100

Wednesday and Thursday

Several Styles
Women's Figured Voile Dresses $4.69
Style illustrated has pleated side panels. Collar, cuffs and vestee of white organdie edged with lace.
Navy, Black, Brown
"Ready Made" Dresses, Second Floor

Wednesday and Thursday

Girls' White Middy Suits, $2.29
Sailor collar and full pleated skirt. Sizes 6 to 16.
Second Floor

Wednesday and Thursday

Surf Cloth Bathing Suits $4.35
Ruffled bloomer suit of black surf cloth, trimmed with contrasting color.
Sizes 38 to 46.
Second Floor

Wednesday and Thursday

Chambray House Dresses $2.49
Billie Burke style belted, cut full, with fullness pleated into yoke at back and front.
Blue, lavender, gray.
Sizes 36 to 46
House Dress Section, Second Floor

Wednesday and Thursday

Women's Glove Silk Bodice Vests, $1.70
Full length and width.
With self-straps. Pink and white.
Sizes 36 to 46.

Women's Glove Silk Bloomers, $2.05
Made with reinforced crotch. Sizes 5 to 9. Black, pink.
Street Floor, Center

Wednesday and Thursday

40-In. White Sport Tussah, $1.40
Suitable for Summer dresses or blouses.

32-In. Woven Stripe (Fiber Silk) Shirting 37c
Newest combinations.
Street Floor, Center

Wednesday and Thursday

"Omar" Indestructible Pearls
(Artificial)

$1.97
Small, graduated beads in desirable 30-inch length.
Solid gold clasp.
These pearls are guaranteed and may be washed in luke warm water with castile soap. This will preserve the lustre.
Walnut Room, Street Floor

Wednesday and Thursday

"New Era" Seamless Bleached Sheets, 92c Each
Torn size, 72x90 inches. For three-quarter or full size beds.

"Ripplette" Dimity Bed Sets, $3.67 a Set
White scalloped edge bed spread, extra large size, with cut corners, for double bed, and one-piece sham to match.

36-Inch "Indian Head" White Suiting, 23c Yard
Third Floor, South

Wednesday and Thursday

Boys' "Puritan" Khaki Sport Blouses 68c

Comfortable hot weather blouse with sport collar and short sleeves. Cut full. Well tailored.
Sizes 7 to 15 years.
Boys' Own Store, Second Floor

Wednesday and Thursday

Mahogany Finish Floor Lamps with Shade, $10.65

Fitted for two lights, with pull chain socket and six feet of silk cord and 24-inch shade. Silk covered, lined with seco. Finished with four-inch fringe. Various shapes.
Lamp Shades in rose, gold and blue.
Fourth Floor

Wednesday and Thursday

Silver Plated Iced Tea Spoons 89c Set of 6

7¾-inch length. Attractive design on handle. Guaranteed to wear satisfactorily.
Walnut Room, Street Floor

Wednesday and Thursday

Leather Sport Belts, 37c
With metal slides. Black, white. Also plain white.
Walnut Room, Street Floor

MUG: I WAS BORN WITH A PAIR OF BOXING GLOVES ON. McHUGH SQUARE CREW "MICKEY" BEN CONNIE "MURPH"

BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTS

PUG: YOU'RE GOIN' TO DIE THE SAME WAY... "HINK" FALLON "GEO" GALLAGHER "SCOUSINS"

DEMPSEY IS TO GET HUGE FORTUNE OUT OF FIVE BOUTS

WILLS BATTLE TO BE HELD NEXT YEAR

By JACK CONWAY.

Jack Dempsey will have a tough time getting enough money with which to buy coffee and sandwiches when he grows old. The youthful heavyweight champion has virtually completed arrangements for bouts which will net him $2,000,000. The contests will be staged over a period of fourteen months. Between matches Dempsey will show himself at exhibitions which will net him close to $100,000. This latter item should keep him in cigarette money.

The Wills bout is the climax for the Dempsey program. It will be staged some time next year, probably about Labor Day.

Now that "Tiger Jack" has agreed to take on the black challenger his stock has soared. He is looked upon as a regular fighting man who isn't afraid to clash with all-comers. Dempsey is going to capitalize this popularity by engaging in four minor bouts before he attempts the big hurdle.

Jess Willard, Bill Brennan, Harry Greb and Georges Carpentier are on the champion's calling list.

An estimate of what Dempsey will get out of the bouts now in the making follows:

Harry Wills	$700,000
Carpentier	500,000
Willard	400,000
Brennan	200,000
Greb	200,000
Total	$2,000,000

Not a poor outlook for fourteen months' work, we'll tell the world.

Wills Only Dangerous Man on Program

Of the men Dempsey is planning to fight, Wills is the only one who will cause him serious trouble.

Jess Willard is not a match for the title holder. Big Jess is past forty and a man of his years can not come back. Furthermore he's not a natural fighter. He's in the ring game merely for what he can get out of it. A manufactured fighter is often able to show to advantage when young, but he hasn't got a chance of walloping his way to glory when old Father Time is lingering on the doorsteps.

The Brennan bout is another soft one for Dempsey. "Tiger Jack" has already knocked out the Leo Flynn entry a couple of times. He hit Brennan so hard on the chin in their first match that Bill suffered a busted ankle. In the second engagement, Dempsey entered the ring out of condition, but finally won on a knockout in twelve rounds.

Greb Match Will Be for Eight Rounds

Dempsey's bout with Greb will be an eight-round affair if present plans go through. It would be impossible to stimulate interest in a Dempsey-Greb affair if it were to go fifteen rounds. It would be an other story again with the distance eight frames. There are a lot of people who figure that Greb is fast enough to keep out of Dempsey's way for eight sessions.

Carpentier Match Would Go Big in Europe

A Dempsey-Carpentier match is all cooked up for Europe for the early part of next Summer. London will probably stage the match. It will be argued that Carpentier, like Mlle. Lenglen, will be able to pound out a victory in Europe. There is too much of a difference in the weight of the two men to make this a real match. Dempsey will win easier than he did at Jersey City, but one can't blame him for snapping up the match as it will net him half a million or so.

Then will follow the tussle with Wills, the real test when Dempsey will have to put up the greatest battle of his career to avoid defeat. As we have already pointed out in these articles, the Dempsey-Wills bout will draw close to $3,000,000, of which amount Dempsey will get about $750,000.

As we once remarked, a right hand punch can knock down a fist more much quicker than a flock of college degrees.

Dempsey's Kayo! Now How About Harry Wills?

"Dempsey's knockout!"

That would be a fitting caption for today's pictures posed for the Boston American by James J. Corbett, former world's champion, and Battling McCreary, colored light heavyweight champion of New England.

It's a double punch.

A right to the body followed by a left hook to the jaw knocks the champion's opponents out of the picture.

How does Wills win his bouts?

Pictures in tomorrow's Boston American, posed for by Corbett and McCreary, will tell the story.

'DEMPSEY' K.O.'S 'WILLS' WITH DOUBLE PUNCH

"I'll show you how Dempsey MAY beat Harry Wills," declared James J. Corbett, former world's champion as he squared off for action with Battling McCreary at the Boston American's office. "Dempsey uses a double punch. He first drives his right to the body. He then lands in the vicinity of the heart and causes the champion's rival to topple forward. Corbett then illustrated the punch with McCreary as shown above.

"Dempsey doesn't waste any time after he has shot his right to the body," continued Corbett. "Like a bolt out of the well known blue, he rips his left to the jaw with crushing effect. It is a sort of a hook and it takes a wonderful fighter, to stand up under it. Dempsey's opponent, of course, is weak as a result of the right to the body and so when the left crashes to the jaw it usually a case of curtains." Corbett shows in the above picture how Dempsey uses his celebrated left. Maybe this double punch will knock out Wills. MAYBE!

ROBBIE KICKS ON BLOCKED RUNNER

St. Louis, July 10—Manager Wilbert Robinson of the Brooklyn Nationals will protest the game won by the Cardinals today, according to a statement he made at the time of the incident, because of the action of the bases in the third inning. With Flowers on second and Mitchell on first, Flowers tried to score from second on Janvrin's sacrifice fly to left in the outfield.

Manager Bob Coon charged that Catcher Ainsmith blocked the plate.

Kearns and Mullins Talk Over Bout Today

New York, July 11—Jack Kearns and Paddy Mullins, who handle the destinies of Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills, arranged to meet today in an other effort to arrive at an agreement for the pending heavyweight boxing championship match between the title holder and his negro challenger.

ALL-SCHOLASTIC TEAM PLAYS NEWTON.

BATTING ORDER.

All Scholastic.	Newton Legion.
Duffy, r.f.	Lonergan, l.f.
Johnson, 2b.	Bryson, 2b.
Casson, l.f.	Smith, r.f.
McCarthy, c.f.	Wilson, c.f.
McMenimar, c.	Donachine, ss.
Leary, ss.	McBrides, 3b.
Colburn 3b.	Curry, 1b.
Lane, 1b.	Neary, c.
McInerney, p	Hunt, p.

West Newton (omitted) will be the battle ground of the Boston All-Scholastic team tonight, with Newton Legion opposing them in a twilight contest. Jack Leary, formerly of Newton High, will appear in the "All" line up.

The schoolboys are much wroth up over the defeat handed them by the Lincoln Club of Somerville, which game they should have won.

Jack Leary.

Bill McKenney of Brighton High will take the mound for the All Stars, and if in shape is sure to prove troublesome for the Newton outfit. Hunt, last year with Norton's All-Stars, will oppose the schoolboys and will have Bill Seavy of Dartmouth on the receiving end.

PEPPER MARTIN WINS FROM DELMONT

By JACK CONWAY

Vincent (Pepper) Martin, running true to the grand old dope, won over Gene Delmont in a torrid ten-round bout at the Boston Arena.

Although Martin had a large lead on points, the result was in doubt until the affair ended as Delmont kept swinging kayo smashes from the floor at every opportunity. If one of them had connected with the right spot, Martin would have faded right out of the picture.

Martin is a vastly improved boxer over the form he displayed when battling around here two and three years ago. He cuts his punches much shorter, while he has the happy faculty of making his opponent miss by the proverbial inch.

A left hook to the jaw is still Martin's best wallop. He used it repeatedly on Delmont with telling effect.

Delmont relied chiefly upon a terrific right hand swing. He scored with this blow in the fifth frame, and Martin was very fortunate in being able to retain his feet. His wobbled around for a few seconds much like a perfectly good ocean liner after it has bumped into a mine.

Unfortunately for Delmont, he hasn't got a great deal of direction to his blows and so was unable to get over another smash which might have ended affairs right then and there.

Martin managed to weather the storm and in the next frame came back strong and boxed his way out front.

Pepper Had Margin in First Four Rounds

Martin had a snug margin in the first four rounds. By fast boxing he managed to keep out of the way of Delmont's right hand swings. Meanwhile he was busy piling up a lead by scoring with left hooks and right hand blows to the head and body.

Delmont spurted and took the honors in the fifth chapter. The sixth round saw Martin out front, while Delmont had the lead in the seventh.

Delmont pulled a Leach Cross stunt in the eighth and pretended he was groggy. He then opened up and whaled away with left and right hand socks.

The ninth and tenth chapters were merely parades for Martin. He whirled out front and made his victory a lead pipe cinch. Delmont floored to the canvas a couple of times after missing wild right hand swings.

Elkins and Martin Bout Declared "No Contest"

Referee Noah Perry declared the bout between K. O. Charley Elkins and Harry Martin "no contest" after five and a half rounds of milling. It was a miserable bout, but we personally thought the oys were trying. Elkins appeared all burnt out and couldn't seem to get any power behind his blows. Martin kept looking with his left, his best blow which isn't much of a punch to use against a southpaw.

Billy Shiya of Quincy won over Freddy Warren of South Boston in a brilliant eight-round bout. With about half of Quincy at the ringside cheering lustily, Shiya fought a great battle and banged out a fine victory. Warren made a good showing and was willing at all times to stand up and swap blows with his opponent.

Hilly Prince of Bridgeport won over Billy Meyers of Boston in eight sessions.

It was announced that the following all-star card would be put on at the Arena next Monday night, the profits to go to the Veterans of Foreign Wars: Charley Parker, South End, vs. Dinny Glynn, Roxbury, ten rounds; Mike Paulino, St. Paul, vs. Young Gould, Brockton, ten rounds; Pat McCarthy, Roxbury, vs. George Robinson, Cambridge, ten rounds; Jack Perry, Pittsburgh, vs. Eddie Shevlin, Roxbury, ten rounds.

TWIN ATHLETES ARE HARD TO DISTINGUISH

It has become an every day event in the movies and among comic artists to produce twins whom even a sweetheart can't tell apart, but rarely in sporting circles, does one bump into such a combination.

Representing the St. Alphonsus Association is one of the most remarkable set of twins in the sporting game. Eddie and Jimmy Starr.

Jimmy Starr

That anyone might think it easy to tell these boys apart, let us inform our readers that up to a short time ago they were exactly the same size, ran in the same events, and as the pictures disclose, look alike. Just to be different they alternate in running events at the track and as a rule each has his distinguishing mark known when event on is going to run.

Harry Hillman predicted a remark able athletic future for the Starr twins, would have consent to go to college, but the Roxbury lads preferred to confine their running to games which would not interfere with their business plans.

Jimmy took second place to "Jake" Driscoll on the Fourth of July at the Common games, losing to the Boston College marvel by inches. He has been scoring in all the meets in which he has competed. Eddie took first place in the two mile road race of the St. Alphonsus Association this Spring.

Eddie Starr

These boys compete regularly in running events from a quarter mile to ten miles, and followers of track know that they place almost every time they compete. The boys are forced to train at night after completing a day's work and long and that like to go to a dance, take in the ball games or other attractions that may be listed on the calendar, it goes without saying that Starr twins would have made a great name for themselves had they accepted Hillman's offer to go to college.

Jimmy Starr has given the tip that Brother Eddie is growing into a welterweight, and from now on it may not be so difficult to mistake the popular twins.

Race Card on the Speedway Today

Two-year-old trotting stake race.

Three-year-old trotting stake race.

2:30 trot.

2:15 trot.

2:18 trot.

2:10 trot.

JACKIE CLARKE FOLLOWS PACE AT REVERE

Jackie Clarke of Australia will make his appearance in a new role at the Revere track tomorrow night. "The Australian Bullet," as Jackie was known when he was giving Kramer battle for sprinting honors, is a pace follower.

On Wednesday night Jackie will endeavor to gain first place in the thirty-five-mile motor-paced race opposed to him will be George Wiley, Victor Linart and Charley Verkyn.

The supporting feature of the card is the annual sprint championship for the New England title. More than thirty-five entries have been received for this race.

Amateur and professional sprint races will precede the two features.

Delmont Fights Darcy

New York, July 11.—A slashing lightweight scrap has been arranged by Matchmaker Wagner to feature the Bayonne A. A. Friday night. This bout will bring together Johnny Darcy of Bayonne and Gene Delmont of Memphis over the twelve round route.

Riversides Want Games

The Riversides of Dedham desire games with the fastest amateur teams around Boston. Would like to hear from St. Bridgets of Lexington and St. Peter and Paul. July 16 is an open date. Games away from home preferred. Call Dedham 848 W.

AMATEUR DRIVERS HAVE FINE OPENING CARD

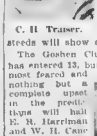
By FRED C. LANE.

The eighth annual interclub meeting of the Junior League of Amateur Driving Clubs opens today at the Charles River Speedway, Allston. It is the first day of a three-day meeting that lovers of horseflesh will journey miles to see.

Amateur horsemen from the leading driving clubs east of the Mississippi are here with their best nags. There are entries from the Nassau Driving Club of Minot, L. I.; the Road Horse Association of New Jersey, the Goshen Driving Club of New York and the Hartford Driving Association.

Those who attended the meet last year well remember the small margin by which the Metropolitan Driving Association, the Boston club, won the honors.

If the visiting organizations, the Nassau Driving Club and the Road Horse Association have entered the biggest list. Between 24 and 25 of their best steeds will show on the track during the three days.



C. H. Trasser.

The Goshen Club of New York has entered 13, but that club is the most feared and nothing but a complete upset in the predictions will halt E. R. Hartman and W. H. Cane and others from carrying away the beautiful gold trophies. The Newark club has two sweet pacers entered in Grace Worthy and Humfast, both credited with 2:12 in racing at the Weequahic Park. They are entered in the 2:35 trot, which has the largest entry on the day's card. Both will meet strong competition from Peter Langford, owned by George A. Graves of the Metropolitan Club and Alibis Todd, owned by W. J. McDonald, also of the local organization.

W. J. McDonald

Hopes of winning the three-year-old trot for the Mets will center on James Hennessey of George Hewster, but there is little doubt in the minds of close followers of the game that May Yo of the Goshen contingent will be heard from before this race is finished.

The first race of the day, the two-year-old trotting stake race, is called at 1:30 P. M.

The affair is open to the public free of charge. All the horses belong to amateur reinsmen and are now being housed at the Metropolitan Driving Club, which adjoins the track.

Murphy A. C. Wants Games

The Murphy A. C. of South Boston desires games with any 16-17-year-old teams in the State. St. Louis of Cambridge preferred. John Callahan, 156 K street, South Boston, or call S. B. 2668 R, 6-8 p. m.

Amusements. Amusements Amusements

TOMORROW BRAVES FIELD
COMMONWEALTH AVE., ALLSTON
TWO NIGHTS ONLY
EVE AT 8 — WED., JULY 12 THURS., JULY 13
STUPENDOUS, COLOSSAL, GIGANTIC FIREWORKS SHOW

SCRAPPING THE NAVY
Greatest Open Air Production Ever Made
A TWO-HOUR SHOW

Part 1—Daylight Fireworks—From 8:15 to 8:45. Something entirely new to Boston.
Part 2—Comic Fireworks, sidesplitting antics by amusing set pieces.
Part 3—Historic Naval Battles.
Part 4—Scrapping the Navy.
Part 5—Dawn of Peace.

Seats on Sale at Filene's and Steinert Hall, 162 Boylston St.
AFTER SIX O'CLOCK, WED. EVE., AT BRAVES FIELD BOX OFFICES
Popular Prices: Pavilion, 50c. Grandstand, $1.00 and $1.50. Box seats $2.00 plus tax.

COLONIAL Evs. at 8 Mats. Wed. and Sat. at 2
AU REVOIR WEEK
The Present Engagement Will Terminate
NEXT SATURDAY NIGHT!
ZIEGFELD TRIUMPH MARILYN MILLER LEON ERROL SALLY
AU REVOIR MATS. TOM'W & SAT.

NANTASKET BEACH PLYMOUTH
DAILY AND SUNDAY AT 10 A.M.
Leaves Rowes Wharf, Atlantic Ave., Boston
ROWES WHARF

ST. JAMES THEATRE
Direction The Shuberts
Beginning Mon. A Bonus—Last Week A Bonus
The MAN from MEXICO
WALTER PERRY'S

PROVINCETOWN
PILGRIMS' FIRST LANDING
100-mile trip to CAPE COD on large wireless equipped, iron steamship DOROTHY BRADFORD
Fare—Round Trip $2.00; One Way $1.25
Leaves Rowes Wharf, 400 Atlantic Ave., Boston, 9:30 A.M., Sundays and Holidays 10 A.M.
Daylight Saving Time
Stateroom Refreshments Orchestra
Tel. Congress 4125

LOEW'S STATE
MASSACHUSETTS AVE.—CONTINUOUS 1PM TO MIDNITE
AFTERNOONS 25¢ EVENINGS 35¢ & 50¢
THOMAS MEIGHAN
in GEO. ADE'S Famous Story
"OUR LEADING CITIZEN"
In Addition to MARIE PREVOST
in "HER NIGHT OF NIGHTS"
JOHNNY HINES COMEDY
Pathe News and Screen Snap Shots

LOEW'S ORPHEUM
CONTINUOUS—9:15AM TO 30 P.M.
JOHN GILBERT
in "THE YELLOW STAIN"
Vaudeville Headed by ARTHUR DE VOY & CO.
FLEMINGS, 4 DUKES, PHIL DAVIS, CHUCK & SILVAN, DON VALERIO & CO., and Others.
Latest News and Events

B. F. KEITH'S
Week of July 10 at 2 and 8. Tel. Beach 1234
Triumphant Vaudeville Engagement
MARY YOUNG & CO.
Beatrice Fairfax in a New Comedy Drama
RILEY & CLASON FRANCES ARMS
Jos. J. & Rose Morrison Adelaide Fox, Lew Hilton & Co., H. T. Mooney & Co., Bruce's Fable, Keith Events—GEORGE LE MAIRE—Extra!

BOSTON THEATRE Continuous
LIFE'S GREATEST QUESTION. BEN WELCH
CECILE B. DEMILLE Presents A Stupendous, Tense Production, The Brightest, A Comedy, Ross Alexander
"WHAT'S WRONG WITH MARRIAGE"
Extra! Extra! Extra!
"SMILIN' THROUGH" "CLAIRE WINDSOR" in "GRAND LARCENY." 3 Selected Vaudeville Acts

BOWDOIN SQ. THEATRE
Continuous from 10:30
NORMA TALMADGE in "SMILIN' THROUGH"
"GRAND LARCENY." 3 Selected Vaudeville Acts

CONSTANCE TALMADGE in "DANGEROUS BUSINESS"
Extra! Extra! Extra!
"SMILIN' THROUGH" "CLAIRE WINDSOR" in "GRAND LARCENY." 3 Selected Vaudeville Acts

GORDON'S OLYMPIA
Continuous 1:30 to 10:30
Matinee and Evening Prices
Betty Compson and Tom Moore in "The Law's Verdict"
Headliner "The Wish Shop" Lucy Gilman, Stanley Sessions, Dance Revue & Novelties

GORDON'S CAPITOL
Continuous 1:30 to 10:30
Matinee and Evening Prices
Wallace Reid and Agnes Ayres in "The Affairs of Anatol"
Bill Wolf's Broadway Revue
FREE AUTO PARKING
Jack & Dolly, King & Irwin, Bimbo & Baby, Smith & Green, Special Picture, "Queens of the North." Free auto parking

GORDON'S MODERN
Continuous 1:30 to 10:30
Matinee and Evening Prices
Wallace Reid and Agnes Ayres in "The Affairs of Anatol"
Bill Wolf's Broadway Revue
FREE AUTO PARKING
Jack & Dolly, King & Irwin, Bimbo & Baby, Smith & Green, Special Picture, "Queens of the North." Free auto parking

GORDON'S ROYAL
Continuous 1:30 to 10:30
Matinee and Evening Prices
Betty Compson and Tom Moore in "The Law's Verdict"
Headliner "The Wish Shop" Lucy Gilman, Stanley Sessions, Dance Revue & Novelties

GORDON'S GRAND
Continuous 1:30 to 10:30
Matinee and Evening Prices
Wallace Reid and Agnes Ayres in "The Affairs of Anatol"
Bill Wolf's Broadway Revue
FREE AUTO PARKING
Jack & Dolly, King & Irwin, Bimbo & Baby, Smith & Green, Special Picture, "Queens of the North." Free auto parking

FENWAY PARK
TODAY AT 3:15
RED SOX vs. CLEVELAND
Seats at Shuman's, Thorn Beach 1000

KORUMBEGA PARK
Now Open
FREE BAND CONCERTS DANCING
Reservations for Theatre Cafe Canoes

LANCASTER THEATRE
"IS MATRIMONY A FAILURE?"
Katherine MacDonald in "The Fatal Mistake." Exciting Scenes Realistic Settings. Seats Reserved at Shuman's. Free Auto Parking.
Extra!—"The Sun"—Cartoon—Review
ROY STEWART—"Heart of the North" COMINGE GRIFFITH—"Island Wives"

BOSTON AMERICAN

BOSTON'S LIVE WIRES

DEVENS FIRE DEPT.

WHAT'S YOUR LIST?

SPORTS

INDIANS PLAN REAL MASSACRE IN RAID ON RED SOX PARK

REAL BATTLE ON FOR PLACE IN THE SUN

By NICK FLATLEY.

Most of the Cleveland Indians were at Fenway Park while the Red Sox were having their final double duel with the flying Browns, so the new set of A. L. invaders know just what they're stacking up against. Life with the Speakers has not seen what you could call pleasant lately.

Once champions, then contenders, they have dropped plunmot-like into the second division, and just now aren't any farther in front of the Duffys than most of us are ahead of the rent man.

The kind of ball the Sox have uncorked against the league leaders merits something like that. If the Browns are the best club in the league, the Bostons are certainly next best. To be candid, the attic brigade were extremely fortunate not to drop five out of the six they put on here.

The second part of Saturday's double-header was the only spot where the westerners showed superiority, all the rest of the way they were matched—in pitching and fielding and hitting.

Red Sox Would Go From Here Close to First Division

If the Red Sox could play the same brand of baseball for the rest of the home stay they would go away from here mighty close to the first division, if not actually in it. Vile reports they have to bridge just anything to be frightened at—but this has been one of those seasons where nothing goes according to dope or reason. If you don't believe that consider the sad case of the Braves. You consider it—we've done it too often.

When the Cleveland outfit was here before it was all shot up by sickness. Speaker had to quit the series, Joe Wood was playing because nobody else was strong enough and there were a thousand different things the matter. Now the club is perfectly healthy, except in the percentage column. There it's decidedly feverish.

Spokes Celebrated in New York by Taking Two

The Spokes perked up a bit over in New York and celebrated by taking the last two games from the Yankees. That helped the Browns, who were breaking even here. Now they've gone over to settle it between themselves.

The Red Sox smote the Indians cruelly on their last visit, and gave them a good time on in the Ohio metropolis, as well. But now that they're down in the depths, things may change. The Duffys have a mechalant habit of smiting the leaders, crest with anything better than in different chi-sing.

Sox Should Have the Best of the Four Games

Reasonably, though, the Sox should have the best of the four games. They have played better and more aggressive baseball since their return to the Fenway than they showed previously at Invasom. Their pitching has been really good, which is what counts.

Poor flinging is the answer to the bad showing of the Indians. Apart from the box, the club has been doing well enough. The aggregate batting averages are almost .300, which pace will carry any outfit to the crest with anything than indifferent chucking.

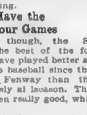
Manager Speaker is up with the leaders, as usual, hitting the apple for .362. The other Red Sox clouters, Wood, Gardner, McInnis are in the elite class, or within touching distance.

Invaders Say Pitchers Have Improved a Lot

According to the invaders, their pitchers in the past two weeks have improved a whole lot, and apparently are set to deliver from now on But that is an argument that has been exploded so often this disturbing year that it's not even logical until the returns are in.

Del Pratt of the Red Sox was the first of the outfit to reach the century mark, going by when he whacked his singe in the sixth frame of the final Brown encounter. It was a proper occasion, as the blow rescued two runs that put the Duffys in the game, which they eventually corralled. Del is having his best batting year, as a mark of .321 at mid-season proves.

YOUNGSTER MAY BE SKOKIE STAR



Johnny Farrell, professional of the Quaker Ridge Club, N. Y., is expected to make a good showing and push the veteran pros in the National Open at Skokie. Farrell is a youngster who learned his game in this country and has shattered the records of several courses in the East. He is steady and hits a long ball.

STANDING OF -: THE CLUBS :-

American League	W.	L.	P.C.	How Clubs Will Stand Tonight W.	L.
St. Louis	68	33	.593	.596	.585
New York	47	33	.573	.578	.566
Chicago	41	38	.519	.515	.513
Detroit	42	39	.519	.524	.512
Wash.	37	41	.474	.481	.468
Cleve.	36	44	.450	.457	.441
BOSTON	35	44	.443	.450	.437
Phila.	31	43	.419	.427	.413

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

ST. LOUIS 5, BOSTON 4 (1st game).
BOSTON 4, ST. LOUIS 3, (2d).
Philadelphia 5, Chicago 2.
Detroit 6, Washington 2.

GAMES TODAY

CLEVELAND AT BOSTON.
St. Louis at New York.
Chicago at Washington.
Detroit at Philadelphia.

National League	W.	L.	P.C.	How Clubs Will Stand Tonight W.	L.
New York	61	36	.644	.649	.633
St. Louis	47	33	.595	.600	.588
Chicago	41	36	.532	.538	.526
Brooklyn	40	38	.513	.519	.506
Cincinnati	40	39	.506	.513	.500
Pitts'gh	36	41	.468	.474	.462
Phila.	27	44	.380	.389	.375
BOSTON	26	48	.351	.360	.347

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

CHICAGO 4, BOSTON 0.
New York 10, Pittsburgh 2 (first game).
Pittsburgh 5, New York 4 (second game).
St. Louis 4, Brooklyn 1.
Cincinnati 1, Philadelphia 7.

GAMES TODAY

BOSTON AT PITTSBURGH.
New York at Chicago.
Brooklyn at Cincinnati.
Philadelphia at St. Louis.

BOSTON TWILIGHT LEAGUE

	W.	L.	P.C.
North Cambridge	1	0	1.000
Dorchester	1	0	1.000
Malden	0	0	.000
Medford	0	0	.000
Cornets	0	0	.000
Reading	0	0	.000
J. J. Connelly	0	0	.000
C. B. A. S.	0	0	.000
St. Joseph's	0	1	.000
St. Andrew's	0	1	.000

GAMES TONIGHT

South Boston All-Stars vs. North Cambridge Knights of Columbus at Russell Field, North Cambridge.

Reading Town Team vs. Dorchester Baseball Club at Ronan Park, Mt. Ida, Dorchester.

Cornet All Stars vs. Medford City Team at Medford High School grounds, Fulton street, Medford.

Table of Runs

DAY'S HIGH—LOW SCORES

NATIONAL LEAGUE

High—New York 23.
Low—Boston 0.

	M	T	W	M W	T	F	S	S	T
1 Boston									6
2 N. York	23								23
3 Chic.	4								4
4 Brook.	1								1
5 Pitts.	7								7
6 Cin.	11								11
7 Phil.	7								7
8 St. L's	4								4
Totals	57								57

AMERICAN LEAGUE

High—Boston and St. Louis 8.
Low—Chicago and Washington 2.

	M	T	W	M W	T	F	S	S	T
9 Detroit	6								6
10 Bost.	2								2
11 N. Y.	7								7
12 St. L's	8								8
13 Boston	8								8
14 Chic.	2								2
15 Wash.	2								5
16 Phila.	5								5
Totals	31								31

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

High—Rochester 12.
Low—Syracuse 2.

	M	T	W	M W	T	F	S	S	T
17 Sy'cuse	7								7
18 New'rk	*								*
19 Balt.	*								*
20 Roch.	12								12
21 Tor'nto	*								*
22 J. City	*								*
23 Buff'lo	*								*
24 Ro'ty	*								*
Totals	19								19

Outdoor Sports

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

By TAD

YANKEES DENY RUMOR ABOUT RUTH DEAL

New York, July 11.—Officials of the New York American club deny that there's any truth whatever to rumored deals which would send Babe Ruth and other disgruntled Yankees such as Bob White Sox. President Ruppert, Colonel Huston and Manager Huggins all laughed when questioned.

According to the story coming from Cleveland and Philadelphia, Ruth, Mays, Hoyt and Ward were to go to Chicago for Eddie Collins, Amos Strunk and other players not named, as well as a lot of money.

The trade rumor was based on reports that all is not peaceful within the ranks of the Yanks; that Ruth, Hoyt and Mays have rebelled against Huggins, and that club house fist fights are not at all uncommon. These rumors have been declared spurious, but they refuse to down.

It is not believed here that there's even a slight chance of a Ruth trade, even if any club would take over his enormous salary. But it will occasion no surprise if Mays or Hoyt are used in a deal.

HERE IS ONE OF THE MADDENS

Bill Madden of Roxbury is one of the Madden brothers who are pitching themselves into considerable prominence around the sandlots. Although both Madden boys are mound artists, it is very easy to tell 'em apart, as Bill hurls from the portside and Joe the young brother, flings with his right hand. Bill has been winning ball games for the past five years, having twirled for the Kelly All Stars, East Boston All Stars, Roxbury All Stars, St. Joseph's of Lynn. He is at present hurling for the J. J. Connelly club, along with "Binger" King and his kid brother. The Madden boys are nephews of Tommy Madden, formerly of the Red Sox who was manager of the Syracuse club of the International League.

Bill Madden.

PLENTY SPORT AT WEYMOUTH FAIR

In connection with the third annual field day of Weymouth Post, American Legion, to be held at the South Weymouth fair grounds Saturday, the committee has arranged a matinee meeting of the Old Colony Driving Club and a baseball game between the two best semi-pro teams available. There are entries from several local companies for the veteran firemen's playout, and the tug-of-war will be well contested. Eight soccer teams will also feature. At 8 o'clock there will be a ten-mile open handicap cross country run under A. A. U. rules. Entries close tomorrow with B. B Cathues. Phone Mystic 733 M or 2241-W.

Several of the youngsters were out at Commonwealth yesterday practicing for the junior championship, which starts today. With the qualification round, to see who gets within the coveted first thirty-two scorers. The best scoring of the day was reported by the Mac-Andrew brothers, both of whom busted 80, Charlie being 77 and Jock a 79. Eddie Morgan, also of the Wollaston club, turned in a card of 77.

Jock MacAndrew.

• • •

James and Edward Lally of the Country Club, and also Roy Lapham, son of the Country Club's president, are boys who are likely to make the going tough for their adversaries in the junior match play contests which start Wednesday morning. Shooting around the Clyde Park links in the early eighties is excellent golf and is proof enough that these boys have the right shots in their bag.

• • •

Dexie Wadsworth was not at all pleased with his card of 84 at Montclair yesterday. Neither were Tom Tully or Happy Hunter satisfied with their 84 and 83. But such is golf. It must be discouraging to play the hardest part of the game well and then get the easier holes fall down. However, this same Wadsworth did something which few can boast, even those who play the course regularly. He got two birdie fours at the fifth and sixth holes, being on in two and making ten foot putts for threes by only the fraction of an inch.

• • •

Many were the regrets that Chester Hill, of Plymouth and Bellaire fame, was suddenly called out of town and could not compete. The same same can be said for our genial friend Daniel Webster Gurnett, who is nursing an injured arm, as a result of a very unfortunate bit of fate. Although Gurnett is past a sixteenth year, he can still shoot golf and that accounts for his rating in the Metropolitan district of three. He once defeated Gardner White, one of Gotham's best.

• • •

Augustus Hastings did not have a marvelous start at Montclair yesterday, and made the turn in 46 shots, but he uncorked some tee shots on the inward nine which soon placed him in the select circle. Hastings, the Samoset king right off his balance, for instance, the tee shot on the tenth wound up fifty yards over in the tenth green, way down in the 14th fairway. Hastings was game and finally got his three.

• • •

Henry Mahitt played a peculiar tee shot at number four. The ball skipping over the surface of the pond for a distance of half its length. However, the second was stone dead and down went the birdie three.

• • •

Walter Comfort got some four at the home hole, his desire to win at this wind-up argument against Dezie Wadsworth being in direct proportion to the value he placed upon his right eye. He got away with a half when he could have hardly prayed for even that. His tee shot was in the rough twenty five yards in front of the tee on a side-hill lie. His second kept going until it bounded off the bank between the second and eighteenth greens and finally wound up eighteen feet from the cup, where he next to held the putt. Dezie showed his nerve in even halving the hole after such a finish.

• • •

Many were disappointed not to see J. P. C. Batchelder in the line-up yesterday, for he always has an argument with Al Shay and Sig. Mellin at these B. A. A. frays. Also, many wanted to see Batchelder do well after his game fight at Woodland last month when he continued to play under adversity, after taking an eleven at the fourth hole, which would discourage ninety-nine out of every hundred golfers from further participation.

• • •

Happy Hunter, formerly of Wollaston and now of Dedham, was a prosperous looking personage yesterday with borrowed clubs as well as a borrowed caddy and he no chalantly turned in a card of 85, just as if he never recalled his 76, a year ago in the Wollaston open.

• • •

W. G. Hill, brother of Chester Hill, thought too much of Plymouth to stick around the Hub course very long, but did stop to complete his round and pay off his caddy, even though he did made a speedy getaway.

• • •

George Martin was none too pleased, after driving close to the sixteenth green, to learn that a boy had stolen his ball and necessitated Mr. Martin's returning to the tee with the penalty of two strokes When every evidence points beyond a doubt, that such a thing has happened, there should be a rule which would permit a player dropping a ball where it logically would have been, if undisturbed, and not be penalized for the fault of some agency foreign to the match.

• • •

Francis Lally, one of the golfers of the Lally syndicate of Brookline has landed the Abenaqui job and reports tomorrow for his duties as pro until October, when the season closes at the beautiful links of the former Brookline caddies and has a thorough grounding in the fundamentals of golf.

• • •

The following are the officers for the Intercollegiate Golf Association for the coming year: President, James Ward of Williams; secretary, Nat Lovell of Yale, and treasurer, Frank Sheehy of Dartmouth.

TROJAN ALL-STARS DEFEAT COLONIALS

The Trojan All Stars of South Boston defeated the Colonial Professionals of Charlestown at Mystic Park before a gathering of 2,500 fans 6 to 2.

Connors, pitching for the Trojans allowed two hits while Sinkor, for the Colonials, was touched up for twelve.

The batting of Thornton for the Trojans who got a double and triple in two trips to the plate and the fielding of Kane, also a Trojan featured.

Joe Cook Beats Jones

London, July 11.—After twenty rounds of furious milling, Joe Coos, Australian heavyweight, was awarded the decision over Jones of Can

LYNCH KNOCKS OUT BUFF IN FOURTEEN

By ED CURLEY

New York, July 11.—Joe Lynch is once more bantamweight champion of the world. A right hook that knocked Johnny Buff flat and helpless, a towel that sailed into the ring, brought back his old title. The former king, Johnny Buff, was dethroned in as spectacular a manner as has been seen in years. It was after six seconds of fighting in the fourteenth round at the Velodrome that the change in title happened.

The returned king had beaten the occupant of the throne into sheer helplessness.

Then the thirteenth round ended Referee Patsey Haley wanted the handlers of Buff to acknowledge defeat. He did not want to see a game lad beaten up when he didn't have a possible chance of turning the tide. At no time did Buff have a look in.

The long piston left of Lynch popped so steadily into Buff's face that it speedily beat it into a gory, mangled mass. Then, when he was ready, Lynch drove over right hooks that staggered and stunned Buff and reduced him to a human punching bag.

Buff missed without a let-up and his efforts to fight back were pitiable.

The veteran left the ring very much discouraged, but he was not in Lynch's class. About 15,000 saw the fight.

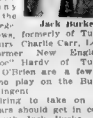
Lynch first won the crown in December, 1920, only to lose it to Pete Hermon in August, 1921. Buff took the crown from Herman in October, 1921.

JACK BURKE HAS SEMI-PROS

Jack Burke, coach of Gloucester High, has come to the front with a semi pro nine that is considered one of the best in New England This team is made up of colleges and local stars of the Glue City and to date has cleaned up all opposition in their claim to the New Eng land title.

Solly Thurston of Dartmouth, Danny Harris of the same college, Tris Andrews, formerly of Tufts, Jimmy Dudhurs, Charlie Carr, Leon Lothron, former New England League "Hoot" Hardy of Tufts, Lufkin and O'Brien are a few of the stars who play on the Burke All Star contingent.

Those desiring to take on the Burke All Stars should get in communication with Jack Burke, Natick 167-W.



Jack Burke.

Martin Fights Brown

New York, July 11.—"Pepper" Martin will oppose Mickey Brown in a ten round bout at the Queensboro Stadium Saturday night.

NOTED FOREIGN GOLFER PRAISES U. S. STARS

By JOE KIRKWOOD.

Skokie Golf Club, Chicago, July 11.—I can truthfully say to American golfers that the great open championship competition for the United States title, which is being contested here at Skokie, is the finest I have ever played in, in my travels from Australia to Great Britain, France and America.

The field is tremendous and the quality of the play excellent. The scores made on the first day of the qualifying round were quite beyond comprehension.

Imagine going out and doing a 76 and a 77 and not seen qualifying. That is what happened to a number of the boys. It required a score of 152 to get in, and that was remarkable.

Few people realize what a great enterprise American golf really is. I have traveled twice across the continent and have been astounded at the prosperity the game has had.

I look forward to my last time this year with Walter Hagen for I expect to find many interesting courses and see many fine players.

• • •

Just now the championship interests every one. I was fortunate enough to be among those who qualified the first day. I played well enough, doing 74—73—146.

• • •

Of course the big feature of the first day's play was the fine golf done by Jock Hutchison. In Hutchison America has one of the world's most brilliant players. Hutchison can do anything when he is going right. His scores of 67 and 68 for a total of 135 were miraculous.

Jock should be made the favorite I believe. In my country they are very fond of having whatever on sporting events and bookmaking is quite a pastime. You do not have that here, at least not about the golf courses.

• • •

I should think that Jock would be the short odds man at five to one, and that Walter Hagen and Jim Barnes would be next, with Chick Evans, George Duncan and Abe Mitchell next.

• • •

Duncan and Mitchell, the British players, have an added incentive to do well here.

• • •

Walter Hagen won the British cup and of course Duncan and Mitchell would bring great credit upon their country and themselves by winning your cup, but I rather think it will be successfully defended.

Hagen is very determined and the Skokie course suits him. You see Walter has the chance of being a double winner in one year. No player has yet won the British and American titles in the same year.

I think that Jock Hutchison's fine mashie shot will be a big factors. The course has been without rain for so long that recent showers have not softened it enough to prevent the balls from taking long rolls.

• • •

Barnes looks dangerous. Jim, the present champion, is a silent worker. He does not mingle with the crowd the Jock or Walter Hagen or Chick Evans, but he keeps everlastingly at his task and just now appears to be in a fine putting streak.

• • •

Putting, by the by, is the thing which is hurting Mitchell. I think he played as well up to the greens as any man in the field but he kept putting his putts and missing.

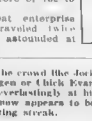
I have been surprised at the large number of really fine golfers America has gathered for this champion ship. In my rounds I have noticed as many players as possible and the professionals here all appear to have a good sound style. Of course the scoring indicated this.

There will be two more qualifying rounds and then all who get in will go out for the title test at 72 holes I predict some thrilling golf a Skokie and the winner will be a real champion for beating such a field.

HYDE PARK TEAM WANTS ACTION

The Clarendon Hill Indians of Hyde Park are fighting their way with an all 1915-year-old ball teams around the State. The team is under the management of Dennis O'Connor of No. 251 Huntington avenue, Hyde Park who wishes to book dates with teams desiring a good attraction for Saturdays, Sundays and twilights. For action call Hyde Park 1085-W

Following is the batting order of the Indians: Dehnan, Rb; Purkey, p; Alberta, ss; Ventola, 1b; Billedeaux, 2b; Bluher, cf; O'Connor, c, P. Alberta, lf; Cochran, rf.



Dennis O'Connor.

Last Evening Circulation in New England

Magazine Page

This Day in Our History—July 11, 1922

THIS is the anniversary of the duel between Aaron Burr and Alexander Hamilton, in 1804, in which Hamilton was mortally wounded. Burr later planned a separate sovereignty, was tried, acquitted and died almost without a friend, in 1836.

The Great Fire-Star of the South

ABOUT 9 p. m., when the Northern Crown and the quadrangle of Hercules are near the zenith, the blazing Antares, the heart-star of the celestial Scorpion, may be seen on the meridian above the southern horizon.

Souls for Sale

RUPERT HUGHES' GREATEST NOVEL

What Would YOU Do?

IF you were beautiful young Remember Steddon, a Massachusetts minister's daughter, whose sweetheart died before the wedding, would you try to bring up your baby among those who knew you in your own home town? Or would you run away for a fresh start with new surroundings? If you had your living to make, would you try to get into the movies? Dr. Bretherick, the family physician, advised Remember to go West. This she did, writing her parents a fictitious tale of having married and lost her "husband." She falls from a cliff and is told that the accident caused the death of her unborn child. Remember arrives in Los Angeles and determines to "pay the price" for a chance in the movies, but is refused. She is coached by Director Clavmore, who finds flashes of talent. She induces the director to give her little friend Terry Dack a chance. This struggle of a young girl to work out her own salvation is stirringly told in Rupert Hughes' greatest novel. Go on with the story.

DAZZLED as she was, she could see the gun in Mem's hand that held before her a black pistol with a glint outlining its ugly muzzle.

She whirled and stared into the murky eyes of Claymore. It was not fear, but an infinite disgust, that she saw there, as his arms left off embracing her and rose slowly into the shameful posture of abject surrender.

Claymore was quite enough in attempt no resistance, though he almost perished of chagrin if [illegible] dared the insolence of the masked stranger who thrust his free hand into every pocket, twisted the watch from the chain, stole the chain and wallet and the loose silver and cursed because there was no more to steal.

Claymore had next to witness the rifling of Mem's person, the clutching for caresses that were not there, the groping about her bosom for a brooch, the wrenching of her one poor ornament with a ring from her finger, the snatching of her wrist bag.

The blackguard had the venom to say:

"I ought to bean yous both for not havin' something fit to pinch. You ain't worth the wear and tear on me conscience."

He held the blubbed pistol over Claymore's head a moment, then forbore to strike, and dropped from the step with a last warning:

"Sit pretty now and keep 'em up till I git goin' or I'll—"

His oar shot around the curve, but they sat petrified for a time. In the black dark he might be [illegible]

But at length Claymore brought down his aching arms. They were too much ashamed of themselves to return to their late post about Mem's shoulders.

Claymore was afraid to speak lest he betray himself. He stared the car and turned back down the canon.

It was another realm from the one they had ascended in such romance. The enchantment was shattered. The majesty was a Brocken phalanx; the dim yuccas sarcastic candles of a black Sabbath.

The sea waited for the road wriggling toward it reluctantly, in an infinite laughter of contempt.

Claymore spoke when the silence grew unbearable:

"I tried to see something in that dog's eyes or his manner that I could identify him by, but I couldn't."

"Were you thinking of describing him to the police?" Mem asked.

"God, no! I just want to beat him to the police privately. We can't afford to start explaining how we happened to be out there."

It was a little too crass to word Mem blushed in the dark. It was shameful to have gone on such an errand. It was somehow a little more shameful to have been thwarted and frustrated. A perverse remorse filled their souls with confusion; a remorse because of a wrong rejected, a disgust for an unaccepted temptation and for being so temptable.

A woman never quite forgives a man for not dying for her at the first opportunity. She probably never quite forgives him for dying, either.

No the clever man evades the situation where a choice is required, as the virtuous man evades temptation while it is yet afar off.

For weeks afterward Mem shuddered at the picture of what would have happened if Claymore had attacked the footpad and been shot to death. She would have been left alone in the titanic labyrinth of Topanga Canyon with a dead body to explain and her presence there to excuse. Yet it was not quite satisfactory that he should survive after surrender.

She was acquired a habit of translating life into scenarios and continuities of ingenious complication and more or less thrill, and she spent days and nights juggling with possible conclusions to this adventure.

She had been dizzy with the swirl of Claymore's lovestorm and his inarticulate demands, when the gruff demand of the thug shivered her whole being as a boat that scuds before a gale and rounds a headland is smitten with an opposite blast.

The road, returning along the sea, was more populous than before with dark cars stranded in shadow. In the distance Venice with its countless lights lay like a constellation fallen in a heap upon the ocean's edge.

"I'll marry you as soon as I can get a divorce," said Claymore.

When they reached it it was a cheap tinsel affair darkly crowded. They left it and turned into Washington Boulevard, winding toward Los Angeles. Vast stretches of dark field were broken by brilliantly lighted sheds where fruits and melons were for sale, now and then a roadside tavern, now and then a moving picture studio.

The Green Mill was seen with green wheels studded with green bulbs. Dancing was the chief industry there.

Inside the classic portico of the Goldwyn studio work was evidently going on for the huge lot was alight. The Virginian mansion of the Ince studio dreamed in snowy beauty. A little farther rose the curious whimsy of the Willat studio with its fantastic architecture; next were the long buildings where Harold Lloyd made his comedies.

They crossed Wilshire into Hollywood through a dark forest of oil derricks invading the very heart of the thronged bungalows.

Claymore, brooding deeply in his earnest soul, felt that he owed Mem some atonement. He meant it nobly, but it sounded crude when he shocked the car in front of her little home and took her hand and said:

"If you will let me marry you, I'll see that my wife divorces me."

These divorces of convenience marked the new-fashioned way of accomplishing an old-fashioned righteousness. He wanted to make her "an honest woman."

But the times had passed for that. Woman had come into the right to lose her own soul on her own responsibility. No man can make her an honest woman by any deed of his.

Mem laughed nervously.

"No, thanks." It was as uninspired as possible, but then it is not easy to make a brilliant answer to a stupid suggestion. She felt that she must improve on it a bit, but she helped it little when she added: "Just as much obliged. Good night."

She left him and went to face her mother. She had not the courage to tell of the robbery. She covered the nakedness of her ringless finger with her other hand and, yawning ostentatiously, sneaked off to bed.

And that was the end of her love story with Claymore. It had been a queer one in no respect as a love story. But as an education it had been invaluable.

He had taught her to know herself and the volcanic emotions within her, and how to release them at command. She was far from being a great or a complete artist, but she had the ambition to be one; she had some of the resources, and she knew what the others must be.

It seemed an ingratitude, almost a treachery, to take Claymore's inspiration and tuition and give him in return only a few kind words and an evidence of her frailty before temptation.

But while she could command herself to weep and to throb with assorted love, she could not scold herself into a genuine passion.

She felt degraded in the eyes of Claymore, and hoped that she would not see him again until the memory had blurred. But she was still more tormented with the problem of the thug who had found her in Claymore's embrace.

She would never know who he was, because his face had been masked. But he had studied her. He would know her anywhere, and if she became famous he would sneer as he saw her published face. His would sneer, and he would doubtless talk.

That was a dismal night in Mem's chronicles. She was humiliated before her own soul in a dozen ways and before the eyes of her best friend and the anonymous, faceless raider.

She could not sleep for accusing self away. The critic within her soul knew condemning her, and nothing was more odious than the fact that she had been exposed.

Also, she could not sleep for the fever in her parched eyes. The last day at the studio had been spent in the furious circle of the lights. They had almost burnt her vision away, and she had been unable to face them in one of the final close-ups without gushing tears and stabbing pain.

During the night she had a mild onset of "Kliegl eyes" and had nightmares of blindness. Her career would be blasted at once.

As she lay staring into the dark the windows and the furniture began to wake from the black and take on definition. The world in the dawn was exactly like the film as she had seen it developed in the dungeons of the laboratory, a sudden faint revelation of outlines, a gradual clarity, and finally all the details.

She rose wearily from her bed, flung on a wrap, and stole to the window. The little garden and the orange tree were being developed likewise by the chemistry of the sunrise.

She felt an impulse to walk about, and, thrust[illegible] bare feet into slippers, also went through the door as stealthily as an escaping thief.

The morning was as yet only paler moonlight. She was surprised to find the mountains rising from the horizon. It seemed odd that a screen should be removed overnight. It was a thing that had been [illegible] to conceal such bulk.

As she watched, the veil was withdrawn from nothingness. The mountains rolled up their mighty billows. They were as if created anew by the original edict or by that long squeeze the geologist imagine.

As they emerged sullenly from the void, the rest of the world opened shop. Flowers began to waken; vines took thought of further explorations; birds began to whet their beaks, little butchers sharpening their knives for the market.

Somewhere a bird was singing. It is good poetry to praise the song of birds. But this one sounded like a squeaking wheel. Yet it would be ridiculous to liken an unoiled wheel to the pipe of a half-awake[illegible] bird.

In a vacant lot at the back, rabbits were sitting up and shivering their noses in a posture of amazing stupidity. Across the walks across the grass little herds of snails were returning to their corrals. They had the look of having been out a night and their knapsacks were tipsily awry. And they left shining wakes wherever they went, drunkards leave footprints in snow.

The flowers were putting on their colors like robes, or like makeup that might be removed. It was the light that restored their beauty of hue.

Light! They were its creatures and its voices. And she was a child of light. Darkness was her fear and all her speech was reflected radiance from the sun or from some of the little sums that the mankind had devised for amusement and convenience.

Copyright, 1922, by Harper & Bros

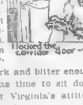
To Be Continued Tomorrow.

WHEN A GIRL MARRIES

By ANN LISLE

"YES—Neal," I stammered.

"I tried to—help. But how much further I can go"—I stopped abruptly with a sudden realization that the break between Virginia and me is the last thing in the world Neal suspects. It would be useless to him. And just now it would be particularly bad tidings.



The return from the honeymoon will be dark and bitter enough when Phoebe has time to sit down and realize that Virginia's attitude remains unchanged.

But anger and disapproval on Virginia's part can be met and fought.

Phoebe and Neal will force themselves to forget the crushing snub administered when Virginia refused to talk to them over the telephone on their wedding night. They stand ready to rise above their hurt at her words of cold and unforgiving silence. They are ready to make every concession for peace in the family.

But if Virginia ignores them, what can they do?

How can they meet the ruthlessness of the cut direct?

If her attitude hurts Neal's pride and hurts him again for Phoebe's sake—what must it mean to the little sister to whom Virginia has been mother as well as sister so many years?

"It will be all right as soon as Babbsie, the diplomat, gets to work," Neal sighed, with complete faith. "You won't let my little Phoebe be snubbed and ignored and left out in the cold by Virginia Dalton for very long, will you, Sir?"

"I'll do my best," I declared, desperately.

Now I am committed. Now I can never tell Neal that I have incurred Virginia's distaste and that she regards me as one of the people she doesn't care to know.

But even if I conquer my own pride and make some advances to the "sister" who has snubbed me so, how will I dare discuss her attitude toward Phoebe?

When Neal and I went out to the front office of Pat's private suite we found that Pat himself had joined Phoebe and Rosa Cordova. His manner left nothing to be desired. I had a restful feeling of being able to let go of the reins which controlled our complicated family situation. For Pat's charm and tact and natural sweetness can be counted on to give the outsider a pleasant view of our relations.

"How many of you folks are dining with us tonight?" he asked hospitably.

So cordial was his tone, in fact, that I'd have doubted the evidence of my own eyes if Phoebe and Neal also hadn't glimpsed it.

But anger and disapproval on Virginia's part can be met and fought.

Phoebe and Neal will force themselves to forget the crushing snub administered when Virginia refused to talk to them over the telephone on their wedding night. They stand ready to rise above their hurt at her words of cold and unforgiving silence. They are ready to make every concession for peace in the family.

But if Virginia ignores them, what can they do?

How can they meet the ruthlessness of the cut direct?

If her attitude hurts Neal's pride and hurts him again for Phoebe's sake—what must it mean to the little sister to whom Virginia has been mother as well as sister so many years?

"It will be all right as soon as Babbsie, the diplomat, gets to work," Neal sighed, with complete faith. "You won't let my little Phoebe be snubbed and ignored and left out in the cold by Virginia Dalton for very long, will you, Sir?"

"I'll do my best," I declared, desperately.

Now I am committed. Now I can never tell Neal that I have incurred Virginia's distaste and that she regards me as one of the people she doesn't care to know.

But even if I conquer my own pride and make some advances to the "sister" who has snubbed me so, how will I dare discuss her attitude toward Phoebe?

When Neal and I went out to the front office of Pat's private suite we found that Pat himself had joined Phoebe and Rosa Cordova. His manner left nothing to be desired. I had a restful feeling of being able to let go of the reins which controlled our complicated family situation. For Pat's charm and tact and natural sweetness can be counted on to give the outsider a pleasant view of our relations.

"How many of you folks are dining with us tonight?" he asked hospitably.

So cordial was his tone, in fact, that I'd have doubted the evidence of my own eyes if Phoebe and Neal also hadn't glimpsed it.

If you are Weak, Anaemic Nervous or Run-down

WINCARNIS

Helps to Restore Renewed Vitality, Vigor and Endurance

Two sizes, $1.10 and $1.95
At all good druggists

Saving for Vacation

The Boston American will pay $1 for every letter published on "How I Am Saving Money for My Vacation." Writers should confine themselves to not more than 150 words. Address "Vacation Editor," Boston American.

Winter Vacation

I am taking some Summer boarders to earn money to take a Winter vacation to the city.

ADDIE GRAVES.
Plymouth, N. H.

Olives Free for Recipes

New England housewives are requested to send in recipes for appetizing dishes made from green olives. A large bottle of big green queen olives will be sent each winner printed here. Address Olive Editor, Boston American 8, Boston, Mass.

Sardine and Olive Sandwiches

Chop together 1 box of good sardines and about 20 olives, stuffed or plain. Season with a little vinegar or lemon, pepper and salt to taste. Place between lettuce leaves on either white or rye bread.

BEATRICE ROSENTHAL.
No. 76 Holworthy street, Roxbury

Chicken Salad Sandwiches

One and a half cup. of boiled chicken, one-half cup of celery, one-half cup of olives, one-fourth cup of walnut meats; chop each of the ingredients fine before measuring. Mix to a paste with salad dressing and spread between thin slices of bread.

MRS. EMMA CLIFTON.
No. 97 Bowdoin street, Medford, Mass.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Boston American will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment in My Life." Address Embarrassing Moments, Boston American.

Forgot Her Skirt

One night while dressing in a hurry to attend the movies with my husband I hastily put on my coat and hat and we started. You can imagine my embarrassment when he asked me where my dress skirt was.

R. E. H.

Smart Sayings of Clever Youngsters

The Boston American will pay $1 for published smart sayings. Address "Smart Sayings," Boston American.

Brother's Home

The fact that his supposedly adored big brother was returning from college that day was carefully concealed from little Jimmy until he had come home from school.

After he had gone up and washed his hands and the older boy was cosseted in the pantry, his mother said, "Jimmy, I have a surprise for you."

"I know," replied Jimmy quietly. "Brother's home."

"Why, how did you know?"

"Well, my money box don't rattle any more."

BERT STERN.
No. 53 Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut Hill.

THE BEST JOKE I EVER HEARD

The Boston American will pay $1 for "Best Joke" published. Address "Jokes," Boston American.

Not Her Coffin

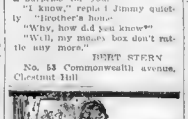
Jones, to next door neighbor, "Well, how's your wife this morning?"

"No better; awake all night."

"That's her coughin', I reckon."

"No taint, it's my new henhouse," as he continued to pound nails.

MRS. LAWRENCE PEATFIELD, ...o. 1 Elm street, Ipswich.



Make iced tea in the morning

Pour from the leaves when fresh, place in the refrigerator to cool. Serve in tall, thin glasses with ice, sugar and a slice of lemon.

LIPTON'S ICED TEA

DAILY SHORT STORY

By R. F. Hamill

THE night was blustery and cold, and the man who hurried along the wind-swept street felt a thrill of satisfaction as he came in sight of the brownstone front of his house. He was glad that he could come from the club without waiting for the business meeting, as he had intended. He wondered if his wife would be surprised to see him so early.

He watched the big man just ahead of him, who hurried as if he, too, were anxious to get within the circle of his hearth. Suddenly Mr. Wilberforce gave a little cry of surprise. The man ahead had turned in at his own gate!

Mr. Wilberforce's heart jumped within him. Was this why his wife had seemed rather glad that he was to stay to the business meeting? Always before when he had phoned that he would be late she had seemed to regret it. He clenched his teeth. On the balls of his feet he followed the strange man through the gate, around the house. The intruder seemed sure of himself, not once did he look behind him.

The back of the house was dark when Mr. Wilberforce arrived there. The intruder had been admitted very quickly. Softly he crept up the stairs of the back veranda. A light showed beneath the door of the kitchen. Mr. Wilberforce cursed grimly.

"A fine place to receive the villain," he growled.

He placed his ear close to the door of the kitchen. From within came sounds of whispered endearments and the sound of touching lips.

Mr. Wilberforce straightened up suddenly. His face was tragic in the dull light of the moon.

"I have lost her," he muttered. "Just when I was so sure of her, I've lost her."

Quietly he turned the door knob. The door had been locked from the inside.

The flash of metal glinted in the moonlight. Mr. Wilberforce inserted the key noiselessly, turned it and guided through the half open door. So engrossed in their own affairs that they heard nothing, the lovers were unaware of his presence. He smiled grimly to himself as he carefully closed the door and moved softly behind the protecting cupboard.

The woman was speaking.

"I know I am not doing right, John darling. Mr. Wilberforce has done everything for me that I could ask."

"But you owe it to yourself to have your own love, little girl," said the stranger.

RENUNCIATION

Mr Wilberforce looked searchingly at the stranger as he spoke. For the first time he saw that he wore a uniform. He was not bad looking, and he seemed strong.

"I can't go with you now, but if you'll promise to be good and wait I'll go anywhere with you at the end of the week."

"But why wait till then? What's the matter with you coming along with me tonight, or tomorrow any way?"

Wilberforce could stand no more. He coughed to announce his presence then stepped boldly out before the two.

The lovers started up; the man angrily, the woman shame-faced and pale.

Facing them, Wilberforce spoke.

"Mary," he said, "I've heard everything. If you really love this man, who is, I believe, Sergeant Clancy of the police, I have nothing to say. You may leave when you are ready."

Then he went on into the library to tell his wife that they had lost the cook.

He'd Decided

Johnson: "Have you decided what you are going to call the baby?" Brown: "Yes; I'm going to call him whatever my wife names him."

Green Olives are wholesome and healthful

They're plump and delicious. They're meaty and salty and tangy. And green olives are good for you, too! The olive oil in them is wholesome and healthful. They are the finest of appetizers. When your appetite craves green olives, eat all you want. Buy a bottle or two today.

AMERICAN IMPORTERS of Spanish Green Olives
200 Fifth Avenue, New York

Spanish GREEN OLIVES

Kellogg's SHREDDED KRUMBLES

deliciously flavored WHOLE-WHEAT

Kellogg's SHREDDED KRUMBLES

ALL WHEAT READY TO EAT

W. K. Kellogg

Get them started right!

Nothing is so vital to the health and physical and mental well-being of a child as the food it eats! Don't neglect it! Robust children are the result of proper nourishment! Many foods that fill American tables today can never produce a strong, rugged race because life-sustaining elements have been destroyed.

In Kellogg's delicious whole-wheat KRUMBLES—with the full, enticing whole-wheat flavor for the first time in food history—you have the most perfectly balanced health food ever made! KRUMBLES contain every food element the body demands! KRUMBLES build strong, rugged bodies through making red blood and bone and tissue!

Every child should eat KRUMBLES every day! It is important that every member of your family should eat KRUMBLES because KRUMBLES renew the strength of workers and sustain the aged as nothing else can! All grocers sell KRUMBLES!

The only whole-wheat food with a delicious flavor!

THE THIMBLE THEATRE

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

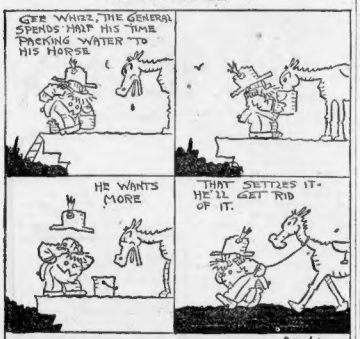
Now Showing—"The Gratified Wish."
To-morrow—"The Problem Solved".

THEN THE FUN BEGAN

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

THE GENERAL

Registered U. S. Patent Office.



Kabibble Kabaret

Copyright 1922 International Feature Service Inc.—Registered U. S. Patent Office.
BY HERSHFIELD

DEAR MR. KABIBBLE... MY HUSBAND WONT BUY ME EVERYTHING I WANT - IF I SHED TEARS DO YOU THINK HE WILL WEAKEN ? —MRS. O—
WEAKEN—YES HE MAN LAUGH HIMSELF SICK OVER IT!

BRINGING UP FATHER

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

DAILY IN THE BOSTON AMERICAN AND IN COLORS IN THE BOSTON SUNDAY ADVERTISER

By Geo. McManus

POLLY AND HER PALS

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

The Only Place to Cool Off

JERRY ON THE JOB

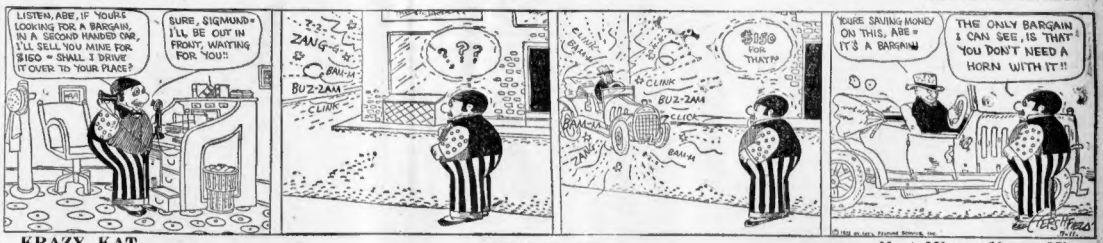
Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Efficiency, Thy Name Is Givney

ABIE THE AGENT

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

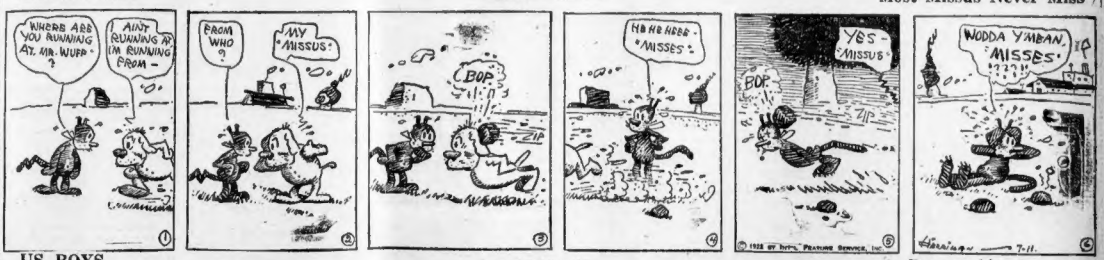
Warned in Advance



KRAZY KAT

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

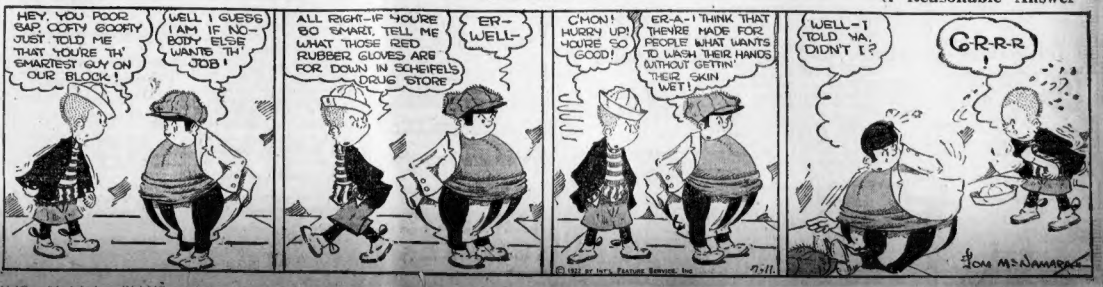
Most Missus Never Miss



US BOYS

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

A Reasonable Answer



Rails, Oils and Steels Lead Fairly Strong Market; Call Money off to 3½%

FINANCE —AND— BUSINESS

By W. S. COUSINS

Copyright, 1922, Cosmopolitan News Service.

Evidences have been multiplying during the last few weeks of an impending debacle inside of Germany, the result of which will not, however, be confined to that country. More than ever, the progress and prosperity of the world are tied up with the rate of progress in the rehabilitation of the "sick" countries of Europe.

Too much stress, however, should not be laid upon the approaches of things as indicated by the fluctuations of the mark, for it can be said without question that German currency has been pretty largely doctored by quack economists and speculators.

The whole matter, of course, goes back to Versailles and the reparations settlement, which, by the way, was not a settlement and which prominent financiers on both sides of the water are trying to reduce to a settlement. When this is done, conditions should improve.

* * *

European cables bring fairly reassuring statements of economic and financial conditions in England and France; this despite the gradual decline of the French franc, which is largely due to the realization of delay in the future payments on account of reparations. There is little or no interest in The Hague conference and the unsettled conditions are conducive to speculations on a larger scale.

French, Belgian and Italian currencies have been collapsing with the mark, while sterling exchange has been holding steady. Gilt edged securities have declined on the London Stock Exchange.

The London markets are closely following the progress of the American cotton crop, realizing that any shortage in raw materials will seriously affect their home cotton industry.

* * *

For the first time in over a year, the British government has resumed shipments of gold to private American consignees, and the current week will see about £5,000,000 in British gold shipped to us. This is doubtless in preparation for a payment on the interest account of the British war debt to the United States on October 1. The total amount of accrued interest is $125,000,000, but it is not exected the whole amount will be paid in gold.

This suggests the necessity of the British government acquiring an additional supply of dollar exchange in this market during the next two or three months.

* * *

Complete reports just filed by the carriers with the Interstate Commerce Commission show that the railroads in the United States in May had a net operating income of $61,980,600, which on an annual basis represented a return of 4.36 per cent. on their tentative valuation. In May last year, their net operating income amounted to $36,943,248, or at the annual rate of return of 2.60 per cent., while in April this year it was $50,271,865, or 3.93 per cent.

New York Curb

By Cosmopolitan News Service.

Prices on the New York Curb at 2 p. m. were:

Amn Metal	45¼
Anglo-Amn Oil	18¾
Beechnut Packing	28
Boone Oil	14
Boston & Wyoming Oil	88
Candelaria Silver	34
Car Lighting & Power	70
Cities Service	221
Cities Service B	22¼
Carib Syndicate	8
Consolidated Copper	45
Durant Motors of Indiana	14
Gilliland Oil	5
Glenrock Oil	1 5-16
Goldwyn Pictures	7½
Hayes Wheel	20¼
Imperial Oil (Canada)	150
Indiana Pipe Line	101
International Petroleum	22⅛
Libby, McNeill & Libby	2⅞
Maracaibo Oil Exploration	19
Merritt Oil Corporation	9⅜
Mexico Oil Corporation	1⅝
Mexican Seaboard Oil	30½
Nipissing Mines	5⅞
Prairie Oil & Gas	618
Radio Corporation of America	4⅛
Salt Creek Producers	18½
Sapulpa Refining	4⅛
Simms Petroleum	8½
Skelly	12
S O of Indiana	111¼
S O of Kentucky (new)	96
S O of New York	410
Tob Prod Exp Corp A	79½
Tob Prod Exp Corp (when issued)	87
Tonopah Divide	79
Tonopah Extension	1⅝
Un Retail Candy Stores	8¼

Boston Curb

The range of prices on the Boston Curb from opening until 2:45 p. m. was:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
Ahumada	4⅛	4⅛	4⅛	4⅛
Bagdad Silver	12c	18c	12c	18c
Bay State Gas	8c	8c	8c	8c
Boston Ely	80c	82c	75c	75c
Boston & Mont	16c	16c	14c	16c
Can Copper	17c	17c	17c	17c
Chief Cons Min	4⅛	4¼	4⅛	4¼
Cons Copperminea	40c	43c	35c	35c
Crystal Cop (new)	83c	90c	83c	85c
Daddy	4c	5c	4c	5c
Denbigh	5c	5c	5c	5c
Eureka	29c	30c	28c	28c
First Nat Cop	60c	60c	60c	60c
Gadsden Copper	90c	90c	90c	90c
Imperial Cons	3c	3c	3c	3c
Mutual	19c	19c	14c	16c
New Rilla Min	49c	49c	49c	49c
Ruby Cons	43c	44c	43c	44c
Seven Metals	3c	3c	3c	3c
Texana Oil	4c	4c	4c	4c
Un Verde Ext	27¼	27¼	27½	27¼
Verde Mines	32c	32c	30c	30c

GOLD FROM BRITAIN TO PAY ON WAR DEBT

New York, July 11.—Shipment of about $2,500,000 gold, brought to J. P. Morgan & Co., on the Cedric, is thought to be another shipment to meet $125,000,000 on British war debt to the United States due in October.

Bar Silver Unchanged

London, July 11.—Bar silver 35⅞d, unchanged; gold bars 92s. 10d., up 3d.

INTERNATIONAL PAPER COMPANY
New York, June 28th, 1922.
The Board of Directors have declared a regular quarterly dividend of one and one-half per cent. (1½%), on the preferred capital stock of this Company, payable July 15th, 1922, to preferred stockholders of record at the close of business July 7th, 1922.
OWEN SHEPHERD, Treasurer.

STEEL REACHES PAR ON BIG BOARD

Rails, oils and steels led a fairly strong New York market with call money at 3½ per cent. after a renewal rate of 4 per cent.

U. S. Steel touched par several times, up ⅝, strong on its unfilled tonnage showing.

Studebaker set a new year's high, up 2⅝ at 135⅝. General Asphalt did the same, up 3⅛ at 69. New York Central touched its 1922 high when it sold at 96, up 1⅝.

National Lead made a record for all time, up 2½ at 102¾.

American Ice, on rumors of doubling its 7 per cent. dividend, soared 5⅝ to 111¼.

Corn Products at 105¼ was up 2½.

Gains of between 2 and 3 points were made by Gulf States Steel at 83⅝. Standard Oil of California at 107¾, California Petroleum at 64½, Barnsdall A at 34½, and International Paper at 52.

American Sugar sagged 1⅝ to 79.

Many stocks made point or better gains. Among them were New Haven, Pan American A, Mexican Petroleum, Union Pacific, Cuba Cane preferred, Pacific Oil, American Smelting American Woolen, Phillips Petroleum, Baldwin and Brooklyn Rapid Transit.

Boston Notes

HORNBLOWER & WEEKS—"Mexican Petroleum stocks together with domestic oil stocks do not yet appear well bought, and this will continue to produce irregularity in industrial list as a whole."

NEVADA CONSOLIDATED mill fire will temporarily cut output around 60 per cent.

ATCHISON freight movement in June was 11 per cent. over June total a year ago.

POND CREEK COAL is selling to yield over 6 per cent., exclusive of extra dividends. James M. Glassman & Co. say they "expect to see it sell very much higher before many weeks."

CERRO DE PASCO, Anaconda, Utah, Granby and Kennecott are Boston coppers favored by Munds & Winslow.

AMERICAN LOCOMOTIVE and Baldwin have both received engine orders from the New Haven.

COALERS report substantial aid from freight rates reduction.

FREIGHT RATES cut will soon make a better showing for many rails, it is generally believed.

IRON AND STEEL price advances are believed to be near at hand, to be warded off only by settlement of coal strike. Affected issues should benefit.

TENNESSEE COPPER is expected to make an improved showing with the completion of its flotation mill.

UNITED VERDE EXTENSION copper output in June was largest for any month since the February opening with the exception of April.

RAILROAD PASSENGER earnings decline should be checked by vacation travel. Many small country lines used to make enough in summer to carry them the year around, but advent of autos has changed situation.

ARCADIAN will begin sinking in New Baltic shaft by Saturday. South of New Baltic it is now opening better ground.

MOHAWK and Wolverine are hampered by difficulty in securing workmen, and copper output is around 75 per cent. of normal.

SENECA is also seeking more workmen.

CALUMET & HECLA officials look for a slight gain in tonnage.

RICHARDSON, HILL & CO. look for a resumption of the general advance in the Fall.

JAMES M. GLASSMAN & CO.—Stock market invariably goes to extremes and until such a period has been reached on upward side we shall continue to advise purchase of better class of securities.

NO PAR TAX LAW IS DECLARED INVALID

New York, July 11.—Decision affecting a large number of corporations in New York State and denying constitutionality of the amendment to the State Tax Laws putting an arbitrary value of $100 a share on "non-par value" stock for taxation purposes has just been handed down by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, Third Department.

FEDERAL LOANS TO ASSIST GRAIN MEN

Washington, July 11 (By International News Service).—Government loans amounting to $56,500,000 to finance orderly marketing of cotton, wheat and tobacco during the coming season are announced by the War Finance Corporation. Since January, 1921, the corporation has authorized loans aggregating $363,538,000.

BAGDAD
Write for latest developments
JAMES J. BENELISHA & CO.
Members Boston Curb Exchange
Established 1905
27 Exchange St., Boston
Telephone Main 7691, 7692

NEW YORK STOCKS

Prices on the New York Stock Exchange from the opening until the close had the following range:

Stocks	Open	High	Low	Close
Adams Ex	62	62	62	62
Ajax Rubber	15¾	15⅛	14⅞	14⅞
Alaska Gold	⅝	⅝	⅝	⅝
Alaska Juneau	1⅝	1⅝	1½	1½
Allis-Chal	50⅛	50⅛	50⅛	50⅛
Allied Chem	68¾	69½	68⅝	68¾
Allied Chem pr	109	109	109	109
Am Ag Chem	37⅞	38¾	38¼	38¾
Am Beet Sug	46¾	46⅛	46⅛	46⅛
Am Brake Shoe	60¾	62½	60⅛	62
Am Can	54	55	53⅝	53⅞
Am Cotton Oil	26⅜	26⅛	26⅛	26⅛
Am Drug Syn	⅝	⅝	⅝	⅝
Am Franco	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛
Am Hide & L	4½	4½	4½	4½
Am H & L pr	68¾	71	68⅛	70¼
Am Ice	108	111¼	108	110½
Am Ice pr	88	89	88	89
Am Int Corp	42½	42⅛	42⅛	42⅛
Am Linseed	34½	34½	34½	34½
Am Linseed Oil pr	55⅞	56	56	56
Am Loco	112	113	112	113
Am Radiator	94	94½	94	94½
Am Safety Raz	6	6¼	6	6¼
Am Ship & Com	19¼	19⅜	19¼	19⅜
Am Smelter	60⅜	61⅜	60⅜	61⅛
Am Smelt pr	98	98	97⅞	97⅞
Am Steel Fdy	36⅞	37	36⅞	37
Am Sugar	80	80	79	79
Am Tel & Tel	120⅜	120⅞	120½	120⅞
Am Tob B	139	139	139	139
Am Tobacco	142⅞	142⅞	142⅞	142⅞
Am Wa Wks & E	16⅜	17	16⅛	16⅞
Am W W & E pr	42⅞	43	42⅛	43
Am Wool	89⅞	90⅛	89⅞	90⅛
Am Wool pr	108	108	108	108
Am Writ Pap pr	30⅛	30⅛	30⅛	30⅛
Am Zinc	7½	7½	7½	7½
Anaconda	52⅜	52⅜	52⅜	52⅜
At Fruit	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝	2⅝
Atchison	101	101⅝	101	101
Atchison pr	89⅞	89⅞	89⅞	89⅞
At Birm & Atl	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝
At Coast Line	108	108	108	108
At Gulf	47⅛	48⅛	47⅛	48⅛
At Gulf pr	27	27	27	27
Austin Nichols	28	28⅞	28	28⅛
Balt & Ohio	51	51½	50⅛	51½
Balt & Ohio pr	62¼	62¼	62¼	62½
Baldwin	113¾	115⅞	113⅝	114½
Baldwin pr	114	114	114	114
Barnet Leather	56	58	56	58
Barnsdall A	32½	34½	32½	34
Barnsdall B	30	30⅛	30	30⅛
Batopilas	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Beth S pr	113½	113½	113½	113½
Beth Steel	74½	74⅞	74¾	74⅞
Beth B	76½	77	76⅛	76⅜
Booth Fish	7⅝	7⅝	7⅝	7⅝
Brooklyn Rap Tr	27½	28½	27½	27½
Brook R T ctfs	23⅛	23¾	23¾	23¾
Brook U Gas	109⅝	110	109	109
Brown Shoe	49⅝	50⅛	49⅝	50⅛
Brown Shoe pr	92	92	92	92
Burns Bros	131⅛	131⅛	131⅛	131½
Burns Bros B	46	46¾	44¾	45
Butte Sup	29¼	29¼	29¼	29¼
Caddo Oil	12⅝	13	12⅝	13
Callahan Zinc	8¼	8⅜	8⅛	8⅜
Cal Pete	61⅜	64½	61½	63½
Can Pac	139¾	139¾	139½	139¾
Carson Hill Min	11	11	11	11
Cent Leather	38⅞	39⅛	38⅞	39⅛
Cent Leather pr	71½	73⅛	71½	73¾
Cer de Pasco	36⅛	36⅛	36⅛	36⅛
Chandler	71	71	70	70
Ches & Ohio	68	68½	68	68
Chile Cop	22¾	22½	22¼	22¾
Chino Copper	28¾	30	28¾	30
Chi & Alton	10¼	10¼	10¼	10¼
Chi & Alton pr	18⅛	18⅛	18⅛	18⅛
Chi & Gt West	9	9⅛	9	9⅛
Chi & Gt West pr	21½	21½	21½	21½
C M & St P	28	28⅛	28	28⅛
C M & St P pr	43⅜	44	43⅛	43⅝
Chi Northw	77	77	77	77
C R I & Pac	43½	44¼	43½	43½
C C C & St L	74	74	74	74
Col Fuel	31¼	31¼	31¼	31¼
Col G & E	88	88	87½	87¾
Col Graph	4⅛	4⅝	4⅛	4½
Col Graph pr	16½	17½	16½	17½
Con Gas	119	119¾	119	119¼
Con Textile	11½	11¼	11	11
Coca Cola	70¼	71¼	70¼	71¼
Cont Ins	81½	81½	81½	81½
Corn Products	103⅞	105¼	103⅞	104¾
Cosden	46⅛	48½	46⅛	48
Crucible	74¼	75⅞	74¼	75
Crucible pr	93	93	93	93
Cuban Am Sug	22¾	24	23¾	23⅞
Cuban Cane Sug	16½	16⅛	16⅛	16¼
Cuba C Sug pr	35¾	36⅛	35¾	36⅛
Davison Chem	44⅛	46	44⅛	46
De Beers	20¾	20¾	20⅛	20¾
Dupont	141	142	141	141½
East Kodak	73⅛	73⅛	71½	72½
Elec Storage	44½	44⅝	44⅝	44⅝
Elk Horn	20⅛	20⅛	20⅛	20⅛
End Johnson	82	82	81½	81½
Erie	16⅛	16¾	16⅛	16⅜
Erie 1 pr	23½	24	23½	24
Famous Players	82	82½	82	82⅝
Fisher Body	116¾	116½	115	115
Fisk Rubber	16⅛	15⅞	16⅛	15¾
Freeport Tex	23⅛	24⅛	23½	23⅞
Gen Asphalt	66	68⅞	66	68¼
Gen Asphalt pr	102	105⅛	102	105½
Gen Cigar	77⅛	77½	77	77
Gen Motors	14½	14⅝	14⅜	14⅜
Glidden C	16⅜	16⅜	16⅜	16⅜
Goodrich	39⅞	40⅜	39⅞	40¼
Gt Northern pr	80	80⅛	79⅜	79⅜
Gt Northern Ore	39¾	40⅛	39¾	40⅜
Gulf States Steel	80¼	83½	80¼	83½
Hendee	23	23½	23	23½
Houston Oil	77	77⅜	77	77⅜
Hudson Motor	22⅜	22⅜	22¼	22⅜
Hupp	19⅛	19⅛	19⅛	19⅛
Hydraulic Steel	10¼	10⅞	10½	10⅞
Indiana Ref Co	9	9	9	9
Inspiration	40⅜	40¾	40⅜	40¾
Int Cons	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Int Cons pr	5⅛	5⅛	5⅛	5⅛
Int Nickel	16⅜	17⅛	16⅝	17
Int Paper	49	52	49	51⅛
Invincible	14½	14¾	14½	14½
Iron Products	44½	44⅛	44⅛	44½
Island Oil	⅝	⅝	⅝	⅝
J Kayser	43	43	42½	43
Kan City Sou	25⅛	25⅛	25⅛	25⅛
Kan & Gulf	4⅛	4⅛	4⅛	4⅛
Kelly Sprfng	48⅜	48½	48⅛	48½
Kelsey Wheel	95½	95½	95½	95½
Kennecott	35⅜	35⅜	35⅜	35⅜
Keystone	15⅜	15⅜	15⅜	15⅜
Kresge	136	136	136	136
Lack Steel	76⅛	76⅛	76⅛	76⅛
Laclede Gas	79	79	79	79
Lake Erie & W	32⅛	33½	32	32
Lake Erie & W pr	63	63⅛	63	63⅛
Lehigh Valley	65	65¼	64⅞	64⅞
Lima Loco	105⅛	105⅛	104	104
Lima Loco pr	109¼	109¼	109¼	109¼
Loews	15	15⅛	15	15
Lorillard	153	153½	153	153½
Louis & Nash	131⅛	131⅛	131	131
Mack T	58¼	101¼	58¼	101¼
Mallinson	33⅜	35⅛	33⅛	34⅛
Marine	18⅛	18⅞	18⅛	18⅛
Marine pr	74	74⅛	74	74⅜
Marland Oil	42⅝	43	42⅛	42⅛
Max Mot A	66⅛	67	66⅛	66⅞
Max Mot B	22⅞	23½	22⅜	23
McIntyre Porc	15½	16⅛	15½	15⅜
Mex Petrol	163	163⅛	161½	163⅛
Miami Cop	29⅛	29½	29⅛	29½
Mid States Oil	13¾	14	13⅜	13⅞
Midvale	35⅛	35⅞	35⅛	36⅛
Mo Pacific	22⅝	22⅝	22⅛	22⅛
Mo Pacific pr	54½	55⅞	54½	55⅞
Mont Ward	22½	23	22½	22½
M K & T	18	18¼	18	18
M K T pr	40	40⅛	39½	40⅛
Nat Acme	18⅛	18⅛	18	18
Nat Biscuit	161⅛	161⅛	160	160
Nat Conduit	2⅜	2⅜	2¼	2¾
Nat Enam & S	63⅞	64⅛	63⅞	63⅞
Nat Lead	101⅛	103	101⅛	102¾
Nat Lead pr	111⅜	112⅝	111⅛	112¼
Nevada Cons	16⅜	16⅝	16⅜	16⅛
New Haven	30⅛	31⅛	30	30⅛
N Y Central	96	96⅛	96	96⅛
Norf & West	110	110⅜	110	110⅜
Nor Am	64	64½	64	64
Nor Am pr	43⅜	43⅜	43⅜	43⅜
Northern Pac	76½	77⅛	76½	77⅛
Ohio P & R	3	3⅛		3⅛
Ont Silver	7⅛	7⅛	7	7
Orpheum	18⅛	18⅛	18	18⅛
Otis Steel	12⅝	12⅝	12⅝	12⅝
Pac G & E	68⅛	68⅝	68	68
Pac Mail	15⅛	15⅛	15⅛	15⅛
Pac Oil	56⅞	57⅛	56⅛	57⅛
Pan Am Pet	71	72⅛	71	72⅛
Pan Am Pet B	65	66⅛	65	66
Pan P & R	7⅞	7⅞	7⅞	7⅞
Penna RR	44	44	43⅞	43⅞
Penn Seabrd Stl	9⅛	9⅛	8⅞	8⅞
Peoples Gas	83⅛	83⅛	83	83
Pere Marquette	32⅛	32⅞	32⅛	32⅛
Pere Marquette pr	69	69	69	69
Philips Pet	49¼	50⅛	49¼	49⅛
Pierce Arrow	18⅜	19	18⅜	19
Pierce Arrow pr	37	37	37	37
Pierce Oil	7⅞	8	7⅞	8
Piggly Wiggly	42⅛	42⅛	42⅛	42⅛
Pitts Coal	64¼	64⅛	64¼	64¼
Pitts & W Va	37½	38⅜	37½	38⅛
Pond Creek Coal	21⅜	21⅜	21⅜	21⅛
Posum Cereal	84	84	78	78
Press Steel Car	76¼	76⅜	76⅛	76¼
Prod & Ref	41½	42	40⅞	41⅞
Pub Serv	84¼	84½	84	84
Pullman	119⅞	120	120	120
Punta Sugar	48⅛	48⅝	48⅛	48⅛
Pure Oil	29⅝	30⅛	29⅝	30⅛
Ray Con	16⅛	16⅛	16⅛	16⅛
Reading	75½	76⅛	75¼	75⅛
Rels & Co	17½	17½	17½	17⅛
Reming Type	33⅜	36⅛	33⅛	36⅜
Replogle Steel	32	32⅛	32	32
Repub Iron & Stl	73⅛	73⅜	72	72
Rep Iron & St pr	91½	91½	91⅛	91½
Royal Dutch	56	56⅝	56	56⅛
Reynolds Spring	44⅛	45	44⅛	45
Reynolds Tob B	46⅛	46⅛	46⅛	46⅛
St L & S F	28⅞	29½	28⅞	29½
St L & Sow	29⅛	29⅛	29⅛	29⅛
Santa Cecil Sug	4⅛	4⅛	4⅛	4⅛
Saxon Mot	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛
Seaboard Air L	7½	7¾	7½	7¾
Seaboard Air pr	12⅛	13	12⅛	13
Sears Roebuck	77	77	77	77
Sears Roebuck pr	108¼	108¼	108¼	108¼
Seneca	13	13	13	13
Sinclair Oil	32	33¼	32	32¼
Southern Pac	89⅞	90¼	89⅞	90¼
Southern Ry	24¼	24⅝	24¼	24½
Southern Ry pr	57	57½	57	57½
Sloss-Sheffield	46	46	46	46
Spicer	19¼	19¼	19¼	19¼
Stand Oil Cal	105	107⅜	105	106¾
Standard Oil	184½	184½	184¼	184¼
Standard Oil pr	116½	116¾	116½	116¾
Sterling	54	54	52¾	53⅜
Stewart-War	43⅛	44	43⅛	44
Stromberg	49⅛	49⅛	48	49
Studebaker	133½	135⅜	133⅛	134¾
Studebaker pr	116	116	116	116
Sub Boat	7⅞	7⅞	7⅞	7⅞
Superior Oil	7	7	7	7
Sweets Co	3¼	3⅛	3¼	3⅛
Tenn Copper	10½	10½	10⅛	10½
Texas Co	46⅝	47½	46⅜	46½
Tex Gulf Sulp	46⅛	46⅛	46⅛	46⅛
Texas & Pacific	28¾	29½	28¾	29
Tex P C & Oil	28	28	27⅞	27⅞
Third Ave	21¾	22½	21¾	22½
Tob Prod	79¼	79¼	78⅞	78⅞
Transcont Oil	15	15½	15	15⅜
Trans Williams	38¾	38⅛	38⅛	38⅛
Union Oil	21⅞	22⅝	21⅞	22¼
Union Pac	141	142	141	141½
Union Pac pr	75⅛	75⅛	75	75
Union Tank pr	107	107	107	107
United Alloy	37½	37½	37½	37½
United Drug	73½	74	73½	74
Un Retail Stores	67½	68¼	67⅛	67⅛
U S C I P	31½	32⅛	31½	32⅛
U S Food	6¾	7	6¾	7
U S I Alcohol	56¼	56½	56¼	56½
U S R & Imp	68½	68⅞	68½	68⅞
U S Rubber	61¾	62½	61⅜	61⅞
U S Rubber pr	106⅞	106⅞	106⅛	106⅞
U S Steel	99¼	100⅛	99¼	100
U S Steel pr	120⅞	121	120⅛	121
Utah Copper	63½	63¼	63¼	63⅛
Vanadium	46⅛	47	46⅛	46⅛
Va Caro Chem	31¼	31	30⅛	30½
Va-Caro Chem pr	66	66	65⅜	65⅛
Wabash	12⅛	12⅛	12⅛	12⅛
Wabash A pr	32	32	31½	31⅛
Weber & Heil	13⅞	12⅞	12⅛	12⅛
West Elec Co pr	109⅛	109⅛	109⅛	109⅛
West Pacific	19	19	19	19
Westinghouse	58⅛	58⅛	58⅛	58⅛
Westing'e Air Br	92	92	92	92
Wheel & L E	14	14	14	14
Wheel & L E pr	25½	25⅛	25½	25⅛
White Eagle	27¼	27¼	27¼	27¼
White Motor	49	49	49	49
White Oil	8⅝	8¾	8⅝	8⅞
Wickwire	16	16	16	16
Willys-Overland	8½	8½	8⅛	8½
Willys-Over pr	44	44	44	44
Wilson	42⅛	42⅞	42⅛	42⅞
Woolworth	162½	163½	162½	163½
Worthington	48⅛	48½	48½	48⅛
Wright Aero	8½	8½	8½	8½

MAKEEVER BROS.
ESTABLISHED 1902
262 WASHINGTON ST.
Tel. Main 2933—Boston
It is the consensus of opinion that good stocks will again advance. Those of proven value are the only ones to buy: ERIE, PERE MARQUETTE, NEW HAVEN, WABASH, BROOKLYN RAPID TRANSIT, TEXAS OIL, CUBA CANE SUGAR, GREENE CANANEA, INTERNATIONAL NICKEL.
Send for Our Bulletin which discusses the above and others.

RAILS FIRM IN LATE BOSTON TRADING

Rails were firm in late Boston trading, with Boston & Maine D off 1½ at 70 the lone exception. The A issue was up a point at 40 and the B had the same gain at 58. Maine Central soared 4 points to 45. Boston and Albany was up 2 at 147. Calumet & Hecla rose 5 to 275. Mohawk sacrificed 2 at 63 and Quincy, 2½ at 44.

Amoskeag at 112½ and Eastern Steamship at 71 were off a point.

Island Creek Coal, which has benefited by the coal strike, as it operates in non-union field, failed to show pessimism over prospective settlement of the coal mine war. On the contrary it was actively traded in and up a point at 110. Pond Creek was up fractionally.

Torrington, up 1½ at 45, set a new 1922 high in lively trading. American Telephone was another active issue, up fractionally.

Michigan Copper touched a low of 75 cents as a result of its $1 assessment, contrasting with the year's high of $7.50.

Galveston & Houston Electric, which made its first appearance on the Boston board in about a week Monday, sold off a point at 34.

On the curb there was unusual activity, led by Mutual, which dropped to 14, off 8 points, and then rallied slightly. Gadsden was up 9 at 90.

Boston Stocks

Prices on the Boston Stock Exchange from the opening until the close had the following range:

Stocks	Open	High	Low	Close
Ahmeek	61	61	61	61
Allouez	25	25	25	25
Am Pneu Serv	3	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛
Am Sugar	79¾	79¾	79¼	79¼
Am Tel & Tel	121	121½	120¾	121
Am Woolen pr	108½	108½	108	108
Amoskeag	113¼	113½	112¼	112¼
Anaconda	52½	52½	52½	52½
Arcadian Cons	3½	3½	3½	3½
Boston & Albany	147	147	146½	147
B M 1 pr Cl A	40	40	40	40
B M 1 pr Cl B	58	58	58	58
B M 1 pr Cl C	50	50	49½	49½
B M 1 pr Cl D	70½	70½	70	70
Boston Elevated	82½	83	82	82
Boston Elev 1 pr	117½	117½	117½	117½
Boston Elev 2 pr	102	102	102	102
Cal & Arizona	62	62	61	61
Cal & Hecla	270	275	270	275
Copper Range	43½	44	43½	44
Davis-Daly	7½	7½	7½	7½
East Butte	10½	10½	10½	10½
East Steamship	71	71	71	71
Edison Electric	176	176	176	176
Galv Houston El	34½	35	33	35
General Electric	168	168	168	168
Gray & Davis	17½	17½	17½	17½
Helvetia	1	1	1	1
Hood Rubber	50	50	50	55
Int Cement Corp	34	34¼	34	34¼
Int Cotton Mills pr	65	65	65	65
Int Products Co	4⅛	4½	4⅛	4½
Island Creek	110	110	109½	109½
Island Oil	75c	75c	75c	85c
Isle Royale	23	23	23	23
Keweenaw	2½	2½	2	2½
Maine Central	45	45	45	45
Mass Cons	3⅛	3⅛	3	3
Mass Gas	76½	76½	76	76⅛
Mass Gas pr	66	66	66	66
Mayflower-O C	4⅛	4⅛	4⅛	4⅛
Michigan Cop	80c	1	75c	75c
Miss Riv Power	23¾	24	23¾	24
Mohawk	63	63	63	63
National Leather	8	8	7⅛	7⅛
New Cornelia	16⅞	16⅞	16⅞	16⅞
N E Oil Corp	2	2	2	2
N E Telephone	117	117	117	117
Nipissing	6⅛	6⅛	6⅛	6⅛
North Butte	12⅛	12⅛	12⅛	12⅛
Norwich & Wor	97	97	97	97
Old Dominion	24½	24½	23⅛	23½
Pond Creek	21½	22½	21½	22½
Quincy	44	44	44	44
Reece But Hole	15½	15½	15½	15½
Rutland RR	49	49	49	49
Shannon Cop	82c	82c	82c	82c
South Utah	10c	10c	10c	10c
Superior Copper	4½	4½	4½	4½
Swift & Co	101½	101½	100¾	101½
Swift Internat	19½	19½	19½	19½
Torrington	44½	44½	44	44
Trin Cop Corp	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Union Twist Drill	11	11	11	11
United Drug 1st pr	46	46	46	46
United Fruit	141	142	141	142
U Shoe Mach	38¼	38¼	38	38
U Shoe Mach pr	26	26	26	26
U S Smelting pr	47⅛	47⅛	47⅛	47⅛
U S Steel	99⅛	99⅛	99⅛	99⅛
Utah Apex	2½	2½	2½	2½
Utah Metal	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛
Ventura Oil	32⅞	32⅞	32⅛	32⅞
Waldorf	29	29	29	29
Waltham Watch	8⅞	9	8⅞	9
Waltham Watch pr	37	37¼	36	36
Walworth Mfg Co	12½	12½	12½	12½
Warren Bros	32¾	32¾	32½	32¾
Warren Bros 1 pr	35	35	34¼	34¼
Winona	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝
Wolverine	12	12	12	12
Wyandotte	60c	60c	60c	60c

GOVERNMENT BONDS.

Liberty 3½s	100 14	100 36	100 14	100 36
1st 4s 1932-47	100 14	100 14	100 14	100 14
1 4¼s 1932-47	101 14	100 40	100 14	100 14
2 4¼s 1927-42	100 00	100 00	100 00	100 00
3 4¼s 1928	100 04	100 04	100 04	100 04
4 4¼s 1938	100 14	100 26	100 14	100 14
Victory 4¾s	100 40	100 40	100 40	100 40
Vic reg 4¾s	99 90	99 90	99 90	99 90
Lib reg 3d 4¼s	99 04	99 04	99 04	99 04

BONDS.

At Gulf W I 5s	62½	63	62½	63
Hood Rub Co 7s	98¼	98⅜	98¼	98¼
Mass Gas 4½s 1931	91	91	91	91
Miss Riv Pow 5s	92½	92⅝	92½	92⅝
Punta Sugar 7s	105	105	104½	105
Swift & Co 5s	97⅛	97⅛	97⅛	97⅛
Warren Bros 7½s	111½	111½	111½	111½

CENTRAL POWER TO DOUBLE ITS CAPITAL

Central Power & Light Co. has notified commissioner of corporations of increase in authorized capital stock from $2,500,000 to $5,000,000, represented by 30,000 shares preferred and 20,000 common. Increase accomplished by 15,000 additional shares of preferred and 10,000 common ($100 par).

RUMANIA TO TRY WHEAT MONOPOLY

Bucharest, July 11.—Rumanian government has made wheat a temporary monopoly and offers bonus equal to 50 cents an acre, for new sowings. Export tax of $1 to $3 is placed on beans, peas, lentils and similar products.

COTTON FUTURES KEEP UP ADVANCE

New York, July 11.—Cotton futures kept up their advance. Late prices were: October 22.02 up 19; December 21.88 up 17; January 21.48 up 11.

METROPOLITAN TRUST STOCK IS INCREASED

Metropolitan Trust Co., of Boston, has increased its capital stock from $500,000 to $670,000.

G. A. Eastman & Co.
Inc.
Investment Securities
Established 1901
"THE MARKET BAROMETER"
Free copy sent upon request.
9 State Street
BOSTON
Private Exchange Congress 8436

BOSTON-MONTANA
Stockholders will receive interesting information in regard to this property by communicating with us.
Our Mr. Sutcliffe is en route to Butte, Montana, to inspect his mining interests and will also visit the Boston-Montana property.
If interested, send us your name and address at once.
TEMPLE H. FAY & CO
53 STATE ST., BOSTON 9

EASTERN S. S. TO HAVE FIVE IN FLEET

Eastern Steamship Lines, Inc., have placed an order with the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation to build two steel freight ships intended for use in the Boston-New York freight service.

The two ships will cost $575,000, are to be delivered one on January 15 and the other on January 30, 1923, and will be oil burners; length over all 243 feet, 1,600 tons deadweight capacity, 13 knots speed and 130,000 cubic feet cargo capacity. Cost of the ships will be met from treasury cash.

These two vessels, with the steamships Norwalk, H. F. Dimock and Herman Winter, will give Eastern Steamship five first-class freighters and enable the company to make daily trips between Boston and New York and three trips a week between Portland, Me., and New York.

Eastern Steamship is now operating its Boston-New York service at full capacity, both as to passengers and freight.

Wall Street Notes

CHAIRMAN GARY of U. S. Steel lays unfilled tonnage advance to "increased demand for the corporation's products generally."

DR. W. A. VAN DER GRACHT, former head of Roxana Pete, says world faces oil shortage and higher prices must come.

PRINCE & WHITELY—"Advantage should be taken of any temporary unsettlement in market to make purchases."

J. S. BACHE & CO.—"It appears to us that buying on declines will be better than the speculative selling."

E. F. HUTTON & CO.—"On any weakness we consider it good time to pick up standard stocks."

A. E. MASTEN & CO.—"Our opinion is that speculation will mark time until pending labor troubles are settled."

GOODBODY & CO.—"All the bad news seems to be known and the market may, therefore, stiffen a little. Does not seem ready for sustained move yet."

W. J. WOLLMAN & CO.—"We continue to favor purchase of market on dips and believe many selected dividend issues are being quietly absorbed by investment funds."

STUDEBAKER pool is on the job and the next few days should tell whether or not prediction is true that this stock has seen its high on the present move.

SUBMARINE BOAT is talked of for a substantial rise, and can be watched as having speculative possibilities.

GULF STATES STEEL and Sloss-Sheffield will benefit if merger plans are put through.

MIDVALE, Republic and Inland steel merger gets its first Federal hearing July 19. An O. K. is confidently expected.

NEW YORK CENTRAL backers are becoming widely enthusiastic, and this road's mere name in merger talk is sufficient to start up issues of any other with which gossip connects it.

U. S. CAST IRON & PIPE is to put a new pipe on the market. Demand for high pressure pipe is said to be growing fast.

FEDERAL SUGAR REFINING CO. finds undertone of sugar market continues very strong. Sugar stocks should have another upward swing.

CORN PRODUCTS stockholders are looking for increase in dividend. Pool is operating in this stock, and it has a powerful personnel.

IN LOW-PRICED RAILS a number of pools have been formed this month. There has been no hint that they've abandoned field, so it is reasonable to expect further bullishness in these carriers.

REYNOLDS SPRINGS is said to be in a way to pay dividends on common. The stock has sold over a wide range since appearing on the big board a while ago, but ought to be a good speculative buy on recessions.

L. L. WINKELMAN & CO. predicts $150 a share for Standard Oil of Indiana. Stock has profit and loss surplus of over $142,000,000 compared with outstanding common capitalization of $137,360,455.

If the Wishes of Your Friends Counted!
In buying stocks, wishes count for nothing.
Judgment and knowledge is what is required.
Strange though it may seem, however, it is a fact that most people buy stocks, then investigate afterwards.
Cultivate the habit of investigation first.
Send for Our Analytical Survey of Forty-Eight Stocks
Withington & Co.
27 State Street, Boston
Private Branch Exchange, Main 5382

Long Earrings Lead Jewelry Trade Novelties

Providence, July 11.—Long earrings lead in favor in the imitation jewelry novelty trade.

Leading manufacturers here and in nearby Bay State centres are turning them out in sets with bracelets. Some women have demanded 12 or 15 sets to match as many dresses, and the trade is working at top speed to meet the demand.

WATERBURY BONDS BOUGHT IN BOSTON

Waterbury, Ct., has sold $300,000 of 4¼ per cent. water loan bonds, dated July 1, 1922, and maturing in each of years 1923 to 1952 inclusive, to Putnam & Co. and Estabrook & Co. at $300,330. The other bidders were: Finch Bros., $300,000; R. L. Day & Co. and R. M. Briggs & Co., $300,000, and Lamport, Barker & Jennings at $300,210.

MUNICIPAL SERVICE BUYS INTO RAILWAY

Municipal Service Co., represented since incorporation by Baker, Young & Co. of Boston and Philadelphia as fiscal agents, has purchased controlling interest in common stock of York Railways Co., which does street railway and light and power business of York, Pa.

BIG N. Y. CENTRAL OFFERING IS SOLD

New York, July 11.—J. P. Morgan & Co. announced that books have been closed on the public offering of $25,000,000 of the New York Central Railroad Company's refunding and improvement mortgage 5 per cent. bonds. The bonds were offered at 94½, to yield about 5.30 per cent.

DEMAND STERLING SHOWS FIRMNESS

London, July 11.—Demand sterling showed firmness, fractionally lower at 4.44. Other demands were: Francs (French), .0806½; francs (Belgian), .0774; lire, .0451½; guilders, .3880; German marks, .0020½; Canadian dollars, .98¾; Argentine pesos, .3566.

NEW INCORPORATIONS IN GREATER BOSTON

These concerns have filed articles of incorporation at the State House:

American Appliance Co., Cambridge, 10,000 shares of no par value.

Natoli Magneto Corporation of America, Boston, $200,000.

CITIES' FINANCING PEAK MADE IN JUNE

Cities' financing reached what will most likely be peak for 1922 in June, when aggregate par value of $154,273,633 permanent State and municipal bonds were marketed. This brings total for 1922 up to $713,070,097.

QUINCY ELECTRIC TO ISSUE MORE BONDS

Quincy Electric Light & Power Co. has been given permission by the Department of Public Utilities to issue 1,000 shares of new capital stock at $140 a share and $250,000 of 5½ per cent. first mortgage 25-year bonds.

DISCOUNT RATE CUT BY BANK OF ITALY

Rome, July 11 (By International News Service).—The minimum discount rate of the Bank of Italy was reduced to 5½ per cent.

Alberta Issue Sold

The $3,500,000 Province of Alberta five-year 5½s, offered by Dillon, Read & Co. and associates Monday at 100 and interest, have all been sold.

Points in Monday's Market

Total sales—New York, 634,200 shares; Boston, 10,338 shares.

Most active issue in New York—Studebaker, 32,700 shares.

Most active issue in Boston—Michigan, 1,302 shares.

Total sales—January 1, 1922, to date—New York, 150,526,900 shares.

Total sales—January 1, 1922, to date—Boston, 5,365,755 shares.

Corresponding period last year—New York, 98,773,100 shares.

Corresponding period last year—Boston, 2,146,962 shares.

20th Edition
Standard Oil Compendium
Containing complete, up-to-the-minute and authentic data, reports and financial statements of all companies in this group.
Indispensable to critical investors
Copies dispensed, gratis, only to legitimate buyers of oil securities.
Write for S. C. 4
L. L. WINKELMAN & CO.
MEMBERS
Consolidated Stock Exchange of New York
New York Curb Market
62 Broad Street, New York
Telephone: Broad 6470
Direct Private Wires to Branch Offices and all Principal Markets

RAILS REVISING THEIR EXPRESS CONTRACTS

New York, July 11.—It is stated a majority of the railroads have agreed on a new form of contract for express business to take the place of existing contracts, which will expire March 1, 1923.

A few roads dissent, including the New York Central, the Delaware & Hudson, the Wabash and the Kansas City Southern. These companies, unless they reconsider, will apparently have the alternative of forming independent companies or handling express traffic by means of fast freight service.

Practically all express business in the United States is now in the hands of the American Railway Express Company, with the exception of business over the Southern Railway and the Mobile & Ohio, which is handled by the Southeastern Express Company.

The new contract, it is understood, will provide that all roads which move express traffic in carload lots shall receive 85 per cent. of the revenue from this traffic. This division will apply to a large volume of business handled in solid trains of express cars. Another clause will give the roads more voice in regard to expenses incurred by the express companies.

It is further provided that when the express companies' return exceeds 6 per cent. on their investment the excess shall be divided equally between express and rail companies, and if the return is more than 8 per cent. the share of the roads in the excess over that figure will be 75 per cent.

A rough estimate places the gain to the railroads through additional revenue and saving of operating expense at $10,000,000 annually.

$1,000,000 B. & M. ISSUE IS APPROVED

Augusta, Me., July 11.—Boston & Maine Railroad has been authorized by Public Utilities Commission to issue $1,000,000 bonds, proceeds to be used to pay in part balance of indebtedness due Director General of Railroads for money expended for betterments and additions to the property of the company and its subsidiaries during Federal control.

PRICES ARE HIGHER IN GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, July 11.—Prices were higher in the grain market. Quotations were:

Wheat—July, 1.14¼ to 1.14⅝; September, 1.12¼ to 1.12½; December, 1.14¼ to 1.14⅝.

Corn—July, 61¼; September, 63⅝ to 64; December, 63½ to 64⅝.

Oats—July, 34⅝; September, 37¼ to 37⅜; December, 40⅛ to 40⅜.

GRAIN YEAR FOR RUSSIA REPORTED

Moscow, July 11.—Reports from South Russia show rye harvest has begun and indicate unexpected high yields. Though too early to say there will be a big harvest, it is certain this year will be a grain year and that famine is ending.

STOCK EXCHANGE IN LONDON IS STEADY

London, July 11.—Stock exchange trading was steady. Consols were 57⅝, unchanged: British war loan 3½s 95¼; 5s 99⅞, up ⅛; 4½s 95¼ up ⅛; 4s 101½, up ⅛; French 5s 38½, unchanged; Russian 5s, 12, off 1; 4½s, 10, unchanged; 4s, 6½s, off ½; Rio Tinto 26½, up ½.

B. & M. WORK FOR AMERICAN LOCO

Concord, N. H., July 11.—A number of locomotives, which under normal conditions would have been repaired at railroad shops here, have been sent by Boston & Maine Railroad to American Locomotive Works.

Goodrich Bonds

New York, July 11.—Admitted to list of New York Stock Exchange $20,000,000 B. F. Goodrich 1st mortgage 6½s, 1947, when issued.

How Our Stock Market Service Can Help You
The service which we issue each week contains:
(a) A lengthy biographical story concerning a Leader in the Industrial World—a "Financial Giant."
(b) Two 3000-word analyses of leading listed stocks.
(c) Fifteen to twenty analyses of leading listed securities.
(d) Market discussions of industrials, railroads, oils, motors and mining stocks.
(e) Valuable statistical tables.
Many find this Service of help to their market operations. It may help you.
Send for Free Copy
G. F. Redmond & Co.
Inc.
19 Congress St., Boston
Telephone Congress 6700
25 Broad St., New York
Direct Private Wires to
NEW YORK CLEVELAND
DETROIT CHICAGO

TITLE TEST ANSWERS

TWOFOLD AND ONE. Fold—A farm-yard or the farm-house itself. (Prov. Eng.)
—Century.

(Prov. Eng.) A farmstead; a boundary. —Standard.

CORRECT TITLE—LONE DOG. Dog—A name of various mechanical devices, tools and pieces of machinery. —Century.

An implement or part of machinery, particularly any small piece bent at a right angle. A hooked or pointed piece by which a log or other cant is fastened to a sawmill carriage; a dog-hook. —Standard.

Note—The "lone dog" may be seen in the lower left-hand corner of the drawing.

MOVIE WORLD NEWS AND GOSSIP

By FRIEDA DAVIS
"OUR LEADING CITIZEN"
Paramount Production
Dan Bentley...Thomas Meighan
Katherine Fendle...Lois Wilson
Oglesby Fendle
William P. Carleton
Col. Sam De Mott
Theodore Roberts
Cale .....Guy Oliver
J. Sylvester Dubley
Laurence Wheat
Blagdon .....James Neill
Story and Continuity by George Ade
Directed by Alfred E. Green

"OUR LEADING CITIZEN," at Loew's State Theatre this week, is a thoroughly satisfying production. George Ade has provided a good story and Thomas Meighan gives a capital characterization in the title role. The action drags a trifle here and there, particularly in the middle, but the main theme is substantial and has a distinct American flavor.

It is a typical Ade story of a small town in the middle West. Dan Bentley is a lawyer by profession but a fisherman by instinct. The entire situation is made clear by the fact that they sell him "Lazy Dan." It is not until Katherine Fendle upbraids him that he realizes that he can do something besides fish. Therefore he sets out to become Wingfield's leading citizen and thereby provides a climax for the story.

Meighan is the only one who could have played the role of Dan Bentley. He has the slow nonchalance and the easy drawl that such heroes are made of. Lois Wilson, who is seen as Katherine Fendle, is the good girl. Her wholesomeness and pleasing personality have given her a start in pictures. Her lack of acting ability is holding her back. In "Our Leading Citizen," she betrays this lack more strongly than ever.

Where Theodore Roberts finds time to appear in all the films he does is beginning to be one of the mysteries of the age. No picture from the Famous Players-Lasky studio is complete without him. He is in evidence once more and even manages to get new meanings into his cigar.

"HER NIGHT OF NIGHTS."

THE Universal production, "Her Night of Nights," starring Marie Prevost, is the companion picture on the bill at the State. It is one of the prize fluffities of the season's film output.

POLA NEGRI COMING

WHEN Pedro Lasky left these shores for a trip abroad it was primarily in the interest of signing up authors. The latest news is that he at the same time persuaded Pola Negri to come to this country to make a picture under American management. Miss Negri's films have been released here under the Famous Players-Lasky banner.

Mr. Lasky was approached in London by a writer who said he had a story written expressly for this star. The producer read it over, decided no one but Miss Negri could play the role, and bought it on the spot. She will arrive in New York next month.

MARY PICKFORD DOLLS.

MARY PICKFORD is going into the toy business. She has applied to Washington for a copyright on a Mary Pickford doll, which she hopes to have on the market by next Winter.

The doll will be an exact replica of the "America's sweetheart," herself. A model was made of Miss Pickford's face, and she has posed for innumerable portraits, which will all go to the manufacturer of the dolls. The proceeds of their sale will go to charity work through the "Good Cheer Fund."

THEDA BARA'S STORY.

THE STORY which the Selznick Corporation has bought for Miss Bara's return to the screen is "The Woman Who Lived." They are contemplating buying two more stories for this star, whose contract evidently will be longer than was anticipated.

GOLDEN WEDDING OF NAVY ADMIRAL

Newport, R. I., July 11.—Rear Admiral and Mrs. Brownson, U. S. N., celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home here. Two receptions and a dinner were given in their honor, and a host of friends showered them with presents and congratulations.

Deaths in Boston

Following is a list of deaths reported in Boston ending Monday, July 10:

James Evard, 67 years, 20 G street, South Boston, July 6.
Joseph Hurd, 62 years, 29 Westminster street, Roxbury, July 7.
Evelyn Conrad, 6 years, 9 Wallington street South End, July 9.
Joseph Jacobs, 62 years, 16 Castle Gate road, Roxbury, July 4.
Viola Agostino, 2 days, 96 Main street, Everett, July 7.
George E. Richards, 62 years, 407 Dudley street, Dorchester, July 8.
Annie Sullivan, 3 years, 16 Loring street, South Boston, July 7.
Ruth Dorothy Cook, 1 year, 17 East Canton street, South End, July 9.
Mary Campbell, 3 years, 196 Grove street, Melrose, July 10.
Natalie Gildea, 2 years, 14 Wabon street, Roxbury, July 8.
Matilda C. Hark, 68 years, 606 Columbus avenue, South End, July 8.
Mary A. Cassidy, 61 years, 103 Hampshire street, Roxbury, July 10.
Lucy W. Baxter, 90 years, Hotel Hemenway, Back Bay, July 8.
Ruby Willey, 9 days, 202 West Newton street, South End, July 8.
Martin Reed, 1 month, 20 Ryder street, South End, July 11.

BISHOP HICKEY RETURNS TO U.S.

Providence, July 11.—Bishop William A. Hickey of the Catholic diocese of Providence, was greeted by a tremendous crowd in the State Armory here on his return from an extended tour of Europe—the first he has made since he became bishop three years ago.

A delegation of 200 priests and 600 laymen, representing almost every parish in the State, met him at the station when the train arrived. He was escorted to the armory by two bands.

Former Governor James S. Higgins presented the bishop with a limousine, which, he said, was given him "by the common people of the State." Governor Sana Bouti and Mayor Gainer greeted the bishop, as did Monsigner Peter E. Blessing, vicar general of the diocese.

HANGARS SHIPPED FOR AIR PORT

Work on Boston's air port is being pushed by the army. The large steel compartments to be used for hangars have been shipped from Fairfield, O. To put these hangars in position and erect storage for this oil and gas to be used will cost in the neighborhood of $25,000.

It is hoped within two months to have this air port fully equipped for the army planes.

GAS EXPLOSION SCARES COMMUTERS

Scores of persons, hurrying home from work, were startled by a gas pipe explosion on track 7 in the South Station train sheds. According to officials sparks from an engine caused the pipe, which is beneath the tracks, to explode. The tracks on both sides of the blast were clear at the time. Damage was estimated at about $10. Extra guards, stationed about the big train shed because of the strike, were rushed to the scene to keep the crowd away.

NEW YORK UNIT WILL TRAIN AT AYER CAMP

New York troops are coming to Camp Devens for Summer training. It was announced at the headquarters of the First Corps Area.

They will be encamped from August 6 to 20. The troops will consist of 1301st M. T. Cavalry; one squadron of cavalry; 51st machine gun company; headquarters of the 51st Cavalry brigade. These units will be composed of 77 officers and about 1200 men.

VETERANS TO SELL COOKIES ON STREETS

More than 200 veterans of the World War, the majority of them boys who have recently been discharged from government hospitals, have volunteered to sell cookies on Thursday and Friday for the Volunteers of America Service Cookie campaign. This drive is to raise funds to give vacations in the country to more than 3,000 mothers and children from the tenement districts of the city. A feature of the drive will be the noon-day auction and band concerts on Boston Common.

FREEZES HIS TOES FLEEING FROM HEAT

Keshelus, Wash., July 11.—Ace Rubin of Findlay, O., came West early this month to escape the heat. He is suffering from two frozen toes after being lost in the mountains.

USE FOR RESULTS — CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING — READ FOR PROFIT

TRAVEL GUIDE

CUNARD ANCHOR

BOSTON, LONDONDERRY, LIVERPOOL
ELYSIA ..... Aug. 5
R. Y. CHERBOURG, SOUTHAMPTON
MAURETANIA July 15 Aug. 12 Sept. 9
AQUITANIA . Aug. 1 Aug. 22 Sept. 12
BERENGARIA Aug. 5 Aug. 26 Sept. 19

BOSTON TO LIVERPOOL via Queenstown
SCYTHIA
New 33,000 Tons
SAILS JULY 21, 5 P.M.

N. Y., QUEENSTOWN, LIVERPOOL
CARMANIA . July 13 Aug. 17 Sept. 14
SCYTHIA . . July 20 Aug. 31 Sept. 28
LACONIA . . . . Aug. 3 Sept. 7 Oct. 5

N. Y., LONDONDERRY, GLASGOW
ALGERIA . . July 12 Aug. 23 Sept. 20
COLUMBIA July 29 Aug. 30 Sept. 16

N. Y., PLYMOUTH, CHERBOURG, HAMBURG
CARONIA . . . . July 29 Aug. 31 Oct. 5
SAXONIA . . . . Aug. 2 Sept. 2 Oct. 14
128 State St., Boston 1. Tel. Congress 4000

BOSTON TO BATH
Cedar Grove and Gardiner, Me., and Other Kennebec River Points
Boothbay Harbor and the Islands
Passenger and Freight Service Ly. Boston Mon., Wed., Fri. and Sat. 6 P. M.
We carry free car to Maine as long as boat is running.
Kennebec Navigation Co.
Foster's Wharf, Boston Main 6613

New York Fall River Line
Special Boat Train to Fall River Wharf. Parlor Cars and Coaches.
Ly. South Sta., Bos'n { Eastern } 7:00 P. M.
Ly. Fall River . . . { Standard } 8:00 P. M.
Due New York . . . . { Time } 6:00 A. M.
City Ticket Office, 67 Pro[illegible] Street

NEW YORK $5.19
Via Rail and Boat
Outside rooms with running water for $1.00.
Latest connecting train from So. Station 5:15, daylight saving time. Also leave Providence 4 P. M.
COLONIAL LINE 196 Wash. St., Boston Phone Conp. 2793

BAY STATE LINE NEW YORK
STATEROOMS $1.00, $2.50 and $3.00
Direct Steamers Sailing Daily Every Evening
Leave Providence 5 P. M. Standard Time. Pickups and statements at Rail Station. Back Bay and Consolidated Offices.

BUSINESS PROPERTY TO LET SPACE TO LET
For safe, storage, automobile trade; all or part; low rent; all improvements; low rental. Back Bay ends.

TRUCKING
O. W. BURKE CO., 2 Mill, moving and packing, would like load of furniture for a trip to Cleveland or N. Y. this week. Call Jamaica 1500; low rate.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES
LUNCH ROOM rather small but good; owner says $500 takes it. FRANK R. SPEAR, 683 Main st., Malden.

OFFICE FURNITURE
BARGAINS in Desks, Tables and Chairs, L. J. PEABODY, 110 Cortese St.

DEATHS

BACON—In Arlington, July 9, John M. Bacon.
Funeral services at his home, 36 Everett st., Arlington, Wednesday, July 12, at 2:30 p. m. Relatives and friends invited. Burial at convenience of family.

CONATY—In Roxbury, July 10, Mary A., daughter of the late Thomas and Catherine Conaty.
Funeral from her late home, 166 Hampden st., Wednesday, July 12, at 8:15. Services at St. Francis de Sales' Church at 9 o'clock. Relatives and friends kindly invited.

EVANS—In South Boston, July 10, James, beloved husband of Miss Broderick Evans, and brother of Miss Delia Sullivan. Notice of funeral Wednesday, July 12, at 8:15, from his late residence, 9 O st., thence to St. Augustine's Church at 9 a. m. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

GALLANDER—In this city, July 8, Mary A. (Gallagher), wife of Frederick Gallander. Funeral from the chapel of J. H. Higginson & Co., 1 Dunster st., Cambridge, Sunday, July 12, at 2 p. m. Relatives and friends invited.

MURRAY—In Woburn, July 9, Mrs. Bella M. Murray, wife of Hugh D. Murray.
Funeral from residence, 76 Montvale ave., Wednesday, July 12, at 2:15. Services at St. Charles Church at 10 o'clock.

RHEA—In Somerville, July 9, Thomas, aged 67 years.
Funeral from her late residence, 89 Clarendon st., Wednesday, July 12, at 8:15 a. m., thence to Holy Name Church at 9 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited.

STEBBINS—In his residence, 80 Day st., West Somerville, July 8, Nathaniel Stebbins, 75 years.
Funeral services at the Chapel, Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Wednesday, July 12, at 2 p. m. Interment at the convenience of the family.

SYLLANE—In West Roxbury, July 9, James Sullane, husband of Miss [illegible].
Funeral Wednesday from the home of his brother, 40 Mt. Vernon st., West Roxbury.

WOLF—July 10, Edward Wolf, at his home, 12 Dolliver st., Dorchester, beloved husband of Edith M. Wolf.
Funeral notice later.

BOSTON AMERICAN
Published daily (except Sunday), Summer St., Boston 5, Mass., by NEW ENGLAND PUBLISHING COMPANY.
Entered as second class matter at the postoffice at Boston, Mass. Also at the Postoffice Department, Washington.
Domestic rates (Subscription by Mail, Postpaid): One Year, $6; Six Months, $3; One Month, 60c. Foreign Rates: One Year, $8; Six Months, $4; One Month, 75c. One cent extra per copy in the Boston Postoffice. Subscriptions payable strictly in advance.
The Boston American assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertisements, further than to print in a subsequent issue in which the typographical error occurs. Advertisers will please notify the management immediately of any error which may occur.
MEMBER ASSOCIATED PRESS.
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published herein. All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

Advertise Your Wants in the Boston American
Tel. 5180 Main

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

REAL ESTATE WAVERLY
WAVERLEY—7-room house, hot water heat, range, set tubs, electric lights, gas, cellar, concrete floors, open plan, fully decorated; good lower rent. $6,000. Owner, 24 Waverley ave. Tel. Belmont 94, evenings or all day.

REAL ESTATE—BROOKLINE
FOR SALE—Single house, 9 rooms, bath, hot water heat, tile, $8,900. Brookline 1908-W.

REAL ESTATE—CAMBRIDGE
2 FAMILY houses in the sections of Magnolia, Cambridge and Dorchester; also 2 Huron ave.; all improvements; to be sold at once for immediate delivery. CODMAN, 260 Main ave., Cambridge.

FOR SALE—House North of Harvard sq., 9 rooms, modern improvements; price $8,000. Apply to owner, 73 W. WILLARD, Central sq., Cambridge.

REAL ESTATE—MATTAPAN
SINGLE house of 8 rooms, modern improvements, quartered oak dining room, home on land readily made into garage, Mattapan section, price $4,900. Tel. Milton 319 W.

FOR SALE—8-room house, bungalow style, electric lights, gas, hot-water heat, bath, set tubs, lot 50 x 100; good repair; Washington and Mattapan. Call OWNER, Milton 2778 R.

REAL ESTATE—NANTASKET
NANTASKET
A GAME site, high elevation, near boat and trains, located back of Farnum Park; for terms call on Nantasket Realty.

REAL ESTATE—SOMERVILLE
SOMERVILLE
NEW SINGLE
OF 6 ROOMS; all modern and up-to-date, corner lantern, beach floors, room for garage; will sell on easy terms; convenient to 4 car and 2 steam lines; price $8,500, easy terms. CARTER BROS.

TWO-FAMILY, 10 rooms, 5-3, steam and elec., corner, being renovated; about 7 yrs. old, covered piazza; price $7,400. $950 cash. CARTER BROS., 510 Medford st., Somerville; phone [illegible]-0710.

SOMERVILLE
$950 DOWN and the balance of $60 per month buys a brand new 2-family house of 5 rooms and bath; hot water heat, electric light, open plumbing, all brass pipe, copper boiler, permanent sidewalks, set tubs, terrazzo, tape plastic, large lot of land, a fine easy running proposition. BEATLEY & KNOWLES, 440 Broadway, Somerville.

REAL ESTATE—WAKEFIELD
$6000 FEET OF LAND—$75
$10.00 DOWN—$5 MONTH
Wakefield-Reading Fair Grounds—bearing and building. Lake Quannapowitt. Go to Wakefield the 3[illegible] Will take you to the fair and return. JOHN McINTOSH, 53 Devonshire St., Boston. Tel. Congress 4000. Special Tel. 701-R.

APARTMENTS—ALLSTON
APARTMENTS of 4 and 5 rooms in rear of Boston Automobile Exchange, Cambridge st.; 15 minutes to Scollay sq.

APARTMENTS—BELMONT
FURNISHED, 2 rooms, gas range, electric light, use of bath; rent $20. Belmont 2793.

APARTMENTS—CAMBRIDGE
CAMBRIDGE
1 FOOR and 1 two-room suite; janitor service. 1 Mass. av.

APARTMENTS—CHARLESTOWN
1 4-ROOM flat; gas, toilet; $18 per month. CHARLES RIVER REALTY CO., Boston. Main 4164.

APARTMENTS—REVERE
FOR SALE OR TO LET—6 rooms and bath, 56 Malden st., Point of Pines. Revere; tel. Arlington 18.

APARTMENTS—ROXBURY
5 and 6 ROOM SUITES
LARGE HALLS and STORES, all modern building, 1700 Columbus av., near Egleston sq. Elevator service. Key in Tailor Shop; phone for appointment. H. WOLFMAN, Owner.

TERRACE ST., 135—4 rooms and toilet, $15; 5 rooms, $16 month. Apply to MACLEAN Realty Co., 50 Bromfield st.

APARTMENTS—SOUTH END
SUITES of 3 and 5 rooms; steam heat, electric lights, newly renovated; small families. 10 Concord sq. Beach 1262.

FURNISHED APARTMENTS
PLEASANT ST., 67, Cambridge—2 furnished housekeeping rooms, bath, bed, double couch.

FURNISHED SUITES
Summer rates; South End. RICHARDSON, 638 Tremont st.; Beach 1262.

Furnished Rooms

FUR. ROOMS—MISCELLANEOUS
HOTEL WASHINGTON
1060 WASHINGTON ST.; 350 rooms, 150 have private baths; running water, $1 up; also suites, 2 and 3 rooms, for tourists and [illegible]. Tel. Beach 4000.

FURNISHED ROOMS—BACK BAY
52 WORCESTER ST.—2 furn. rooms, housekeeping; also single rooms; [illegible]; reasonable.

LARGE square rooms and kitchenette; hot and cold water. Copley 1103-J.

FURNISHED ROOMS—CAMBRIDGE
FURNISHED ROOMS, 2 connecting, for men with kitchenette. Tel. 0780-R University.

FURNISHED ROOMS—DORCHESTER
FURNISHED suite, 2, 3 rooms, entirely new; all conveniences; rent $18. Tel. Dor. 3[illegible].

FURNISHED ROOMS—EVERETT
CLARK ST., 108—2 nicely fur. light h'k'g rooms, gas and coal stove; rent $12.

FURNISHED ROOMS—EAST BOSTON
FURNISHED housekeeping and bedroom; all improvements for light housekeeping; reasonable.

WEBSTER ST., 117 — Furn. rooms for light housekeeping, bedroom and kitchen; heat and bath.

FURNISHED ROOMS—ROXBURY
FURNISHED housekeeping and bedroom rooms, bath floor. Tel. Roxbury 4172-M.

WARREN ST., 1[illegible]—Furnished rooms, very reasonable. 2268-J; bathroom.

MORELAND ST., 101—Nice front parlor, with kitchenette, gas range; rent $15.

MT. PLEASANT, 29—Large room; housekeeping; use of bath; also room; tel.

TOLMAN PL., 8—(W Warren; desirable furnished room; 2 persons; bath; rent reasonable.

WARREN ST., 238—2 furnished housekeeping rooms, with kitchen. Roxbury 4172-M.

WARREN ST., 240, Suite 2—Rooms and board; reasonable; also single rooms.

3 FUR. rooms, gas, heat, piazza, set tubs, ready for light h'k'g. 2268-J.

FURNISHED ROOMS—SOUTH END
PELHAM ST., 20—3 rooms for light housekeeping; 2 persons; bath; rent $18.

TREMONT ST., 656-658—2 rm. suite, also front room, piano, kitchenette; sq. room, newly renovated, private; housekeeping if desired; cont. h. w.

WORCESTER ST., 57—Homelike, Every room a dream; $5, $6, $7, $8 a week. Men only. Telephone in every room. Private bath.

WORCESTER ST., 80—2 housekeeping rooms, $7 a week; also 3 rooms; take for rent.

PARLOR, suites, sides and kitchenettes; price street. F. M. CONSADOLIN, 48 Tel.

BOARD AND ROOMS
HOME for young men and room for student or young business girl; reasonable. Tel. Beach 2[illegible].

ROOM with board 37 week; single rooms $2 up week; meals 30c. 20 Dartmouth st.

SUMMER RESORTS
3 FURNISHED rooms for remainder of season, $100. Call Ocean 962-R.

FOR SALE
EUREKA Vacuum Cleaners, 16 demonstrating cleaners, nearly new, running gasoline, will sell at $25.00 each. Call at room 1005 Little Bldg., or tel. Beach 1626.

MALE HELP WANTED

WANTED
Mechanics and Helpers
PERMANENT EMPLOYMENT
The Committee of Federated Crafts notified the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. that their men would leave their places of employment at 10 A. M., July 1st, 1922.
This is not a strike against the railroad, it is a strike waged against a reduction in rates of pay ordered by the United States Railroad Labor Board effective July 1st.
Men are wanted to take their places at the following rates:
Machinists, Boilermakers, Blacksmiths, Sheet Metal Workers, Electrical Workers, Carpenters, Pipe Fitters, Upholsterers, Cabinet Makers, 70c per hour.
Machinists Helpers, Boilermakers Helpers, Blacksmiths Helpers, Sheet Metal Workers Helpers, Electrical Workers Helpers, 47c per hour.
Car Inspectors and Repair Men, 63c per hour. Ox Welders, 75c per hour.
APPLY AT ROOM 479
Fourth Floor, South Station, Boston, Mass.
Office Open Daily, 8 A. M. to 6 P. M.
W. T. SPENCER, Superintendent, Boston Division
F. S. HOBBS, Superintendent, Midland Division

Boston & Maine Railroad
MEN WANTED
Permanent positions for competent men whose work is satisfactory as Machinists, Boilermakers, Blacksmiths, Electricians, Sheet Metal Workers, Coach Repairmen and Plumbers—70 cents per hour.
Gas Welders (Acetylene)—75 cents per hour.
Car Inspectors, Carpenters and Painters—63 cents per hour.
Machinists' Helpers, Boilermakers' Helpers, Blacksmiths' Helpers, Electricians' Helpers and Sheet Metal Workers' Helpers—47 cents per hour.
APPLY TO
Room 309
North Station, Boston
To Take the Places of Men on Strike

Boston & Maine Railroad
Signal Men Wanted
Men having knowledge of both electrical and mechanical signal maintenance—70 cents per hour.
To Take the Places of Men on Strike
Permanent positions for competent men whose work is satisfactory.
Apply to
Room 215
Old Fitchburg Station, Boston
OFFICE ALWAYS OPEN

MARRIED MEN
WE have an unusual opportunity with a large concern with advancement and future; only men who are working now and desiring a change need write. Address [illegible], Boston, Mass.

Vulcanizers Wanted
APPLY 980 Columbus av., Roxbury.

SALESMEN
MEN for special outside work; selling experience not necessary; pay week with experienced men; good pay. See Mr. HARWOOD at 60 & 62 Summer st., 300 Washington st.

Shoeworkers—Attention
SHOEWORKERS are advised that there is a strike on in Cincinnati, Ohio, declared by the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. C. L. BAINE, General Secretary-Treasurer.

SAUSAGE MAKERS
WANTED, CLAUS BIE Rothery st.

SHOEMAKER
EXPERIENCED operator on Pulling Over Machine in lasting department; steady work. F. P. SMITH SHOE CO., Chicago.

TRUCK drivers and helpers wanted at once. LAKE VIEW ICE CO., Wellesley.

WANTED—Two all around roofers, only mechanics need apply. Call Monday morning, 8:00. 111 Dartmouth st.

CHAUFFEUR wanted. Apply MARTIN'S EXPRESS CO., 4160 Washington st., Roslindale.

WANTED
BOX MAKERS
Buttrick Lumber Corporation, WALTHAM, MASS.

JEWELRY REPAIR MAN
MUST have some experience in stone setting; a steady position to the right man. See MR. WHEELER, A. Stowell & Co., 24 Winter st.

EXPERIENCED mattress makers wanted. Apply NEW ENGLAND BEDDING CO., 321 Congress st.

MALE HELP—MISCELLANEOUS
7 AUTO LESSONS $5
FULL CHAUFFEURS' COURSE
CivIL ser. license guaranteed. VINCENT, 4 Allston st., near Arlington sq., open eves.

CHAUFFEUR COURSE $14; 7 lessons $5. A thorough instruction course, free to first Tel. Beach 3365; 44 Warren st.

MOTION PICTURE OPERATORS taught. EASTERN M. P. AGENCY, 18 Boylston st., Room 1.

MALE SITUATIONS WANTED
THIRD-CLASS engineer; all-round; reference. P. 156, Boston American.

HELP WANTED—FEMALE
STITCHING ROOM HELP
EXPERIENCED wanted; steady work; good pay. THE RITE SHOE CO., INC., 616 Washington st.

PIANOS & MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS

Piano Bargains AT HENRY F. MILLER'S 385 Boylston St.
Barely 60 days before school begins. Buy now at cash discount prices. A small deposit secures your instrument. Here are the greatest lists of piano values we have ever offered. You must see them yourself to appreciate what this means.

Coombs	Upright	$75
Estey	"	85
Haynes	"	95
Schumann	"	109
Marshall & Wendell	"	115
Cable	"	125
Bacon	"	138
Wood	"	145
Prescott	"	145
Franklin & Baker	"	156
Mason	"	185
Hamlinpiano	"	190
Haller & Davis	"	195
Huntington	"	195
Cable	"	175
Chickering	"	490
Mahogany	"	490
Hallet & Davis	Grand	395
Chickering	"	490
Mahogany	"	490
Steinway	"	595

PLAYER PIANOS at $275, $295, $495
SQUARE PIANOS $50 to $75
Henry F. Miller & Sons Piano Co.

UPRIGHT PIANOS
$25 $50 $65
as low as $5 down $1 weekly
88-note player $175
80 rolls music free
New pianos half price
Best Piano Bargains
In Boston
Used Chickering Uprights, $60, $65, $70. Haller, Cable, Kranich & Bach, Vose, Ivers & Pond, Mason & Hamlin and many others, $75 to $150. Several new pianos $150, $175 and $200, slightly imperfect, sold only in New England. A visit to my place will convince you.
J. P. COLLINS
100 Summer Street, Boston
Largest piano dealer in the world

NORRIS 181 TREMONT ST.
AUTOPIANO
CONSIDERED the best player piano made; construction most durable, action most responsive, tone most musical. Sold only by CHAS. S. NORRIS, 181 Tremont st. We are agents for Victrolas.

WE OFFER 50 used upright pianos, standard makes, $50 to $150; 20 player pianos from $200; now is the time to make a saving; see us before you decide. CHAS. S. NORRIS, 181 Tremont st.; all makes to rent. Warerooms open every evening.

PIANOS, $10 down, $5 monthly; 50 Upright pianos, standard makes, $75 to $150; terms $1, $2 to $3. $1.50 weekly. BROWN, 33 Allston st., 2 blocks from Harvard.

FEMALE HELP WANTED

WANTED GIRLS
From 18 to 35 years of age, for general factory work.
Hood Rubber Co.
Watertown, Mass.

Lining Makers
Fancy Stitchers
Perforators
Vampers
Patent Leather Repairers
THOS. G. PLANT CO.
Cor. Centre and Bickford Sts.
JAMAICA PLAIN.
Boston, Mass.

FARMERETTES
20% in Cens. on the tobacco farms! 60-minute films furnished for country theatres; good chance for girls to earn some money during vacation. Write FILM EXCHANGE, 1 Beacon st., Room 1, Boston, Mass.

MARKERS AND SORTERS
EXPERIENCED hand and machine operators. TAYLOR RUSH LAUNDRY, 30 Dalton st., Somerville. Tel. Somerville 1000.

LADIES, gentlemen, we will train you for positions as demonstrators; $25 per week and railroad fare. 100 Boylston st., Room 407.

WANTED—Women for sorting paper. Apply 386 Commercial st.

AGENTS, CANVASSERS, SALESMEN
WANTED—Man with Ford car or rig to introduce Guaranteed Poultry Specific; $100.00 per month and expenses. Spare time, $5.00 per day. Permanent position for man or woman; large manufacturing concern; established 1892. W. T. RAY, LEIGH CO., 254 Liberty st., Freeport, Ill.

SALESMEN—Men to sell to dealers; special particulars; earn $2,500 to $10,000 yearly; we start you in business and furnish you experienced city of traveling. NATIONAL MERCHANDISE CO., Desk 2886, Chicago.

CLOTHING
BIG BARGAIN SALE
STUDEBAKER BUILDING
Suits and Top Coats
PANTS 65c.
WOLF COHEN & CO.,
203-209—WASHINGTON ST.—203-209
2 BLOCKS FROM SCOLLAY SQUARE
CAR STERLING ST. OPEN EVENINGS

10c Children's Bloomers 10c
heavy cord, sateen; sizes 2 to 10. Other remarkable bargains. Sweaters, hosiery, shirts, etc. Room 66, 161 Summer st., Boston.

STORAGE
A MODERN country warehouse with low rates for our fireproof and cold storage for furniture, pianos, etc. Tel. Beach 1626. THE WASHINGTON CO., 1005 Little Bldg., Washington st., Boston.

RUG STORAGE WAREHOUSE
548 Washington st., tel. Beach 1626. Rooms $1 a month and locked.

AUTOS FOR HIRE
MITCHELL, 7-pass., $2 hr., invaluable on errands, careful driver; tel. Dor. 3097-M.

Automobile Exchange
A CLEAN SWEEP
Due to the fact that we have added part of our building and must accommodate customers to another quarters
OUR ENTIRE STOCK OF USED TRUCKS (OF ALL MAKES AND DESCRIPTIONS) MUST BE SOLD AT ONCE
It's better business to sacrifice these trucks now than pay storage charges and hold for a higher market. You Can Buy a Truck at Your Own Price. No Reasonable Offer Will Be Refused.
Ford Trucks $50 and Up
Vim Trucks $75 and Up
Other Trucks, various makes, $100 to $300
Act quickly to avoid disappointment. These values will sell on sight.
VIM MOTOR TRUCK CO. OF N. E.
1100 Commonwealth Ave. Telephone: Aspinwall 1424
Providence Branch 91 Broadway, Providence, R. I.

SACRIFICE SALE
1921 Essex Sedan—Can be seen by appointment only Friday, July 14th, and Saturday A. M. July 15th. See MR. JEWETT, 810 Commonwealth ave. Phone Brookline 5300.

MAXWELL TOURING
FOR SALE cheap, privately owned and driven; R.35. Call Milton 919-R, or 1068-W.

STREET SWEEPER, 1921, 1-ton, garage cavities, $1,750. BABSON'S, 1254 Columbus ave., Boston.

1921 OVERLAND coupe; new cord tires motor in fine shape. Bredbeck 1271-W.

DODGE; late model 5 pass.; 6 new cord tires; Winter and Summer tops; $850. Dorchester 1161-R.

BUICK little 6, 1917, 5 passenger, in good condition; best offer. Somerville 4201-R.

TRAILER for sale, 1922, $400 cash. BOSTON TRAILER CO., 36 Bromfield st.

MOTORCYCLES AND BICYCLES
NEW 1922 Indian, 7-H, $310 cash. HOSTON CYCLE CO., 18 Warren st., [illegible] open eves.

DANCING

Wm. H. O'Brien ..... 280 Hunt. Ave.
Private—Class ..... 27 Ivy St. Suite
10 A.M. to 10 P.M. ..... Open All Summer ..... "ROSELAND"

PROF. LERNER ..... 3404 Main. Av.
Class every night
EXPERT INSTRUCTOR—Guarantees modern dancing in 10 lessons by my method or no pay. Private lessons by appt. Class for beginners Tuesday and Friday evenings. Class every night. Private lessons by appointment.

Stage Dancing for $25
PROF. LESLIE teaches Soft-shoe, Buck-and-Wing, Waltz Clog, Trick and Fancy Dancing. 1021-R, Milton.

LOOMIS TEL. BACK BAY 7236
Private, modern and exclusive.

HEINEMANN HOUSE—Open all eves., prof. lessons; class Tuesday and Friday evenings.

ICE CHESTS AND STORE FIXTURES
For Grocers, Markets, Restaurants
Whitman Co.—Sullivan Sq.

CASH REGISTERS
National Cash Registers
RECEIPT, bought and sold. F. C. KNIGHT, 1 Milk st., Room 1, Richmond 3196.

DIAMONDS, WATCHES & JEWELRY
ALSTERLUND Jewelry Co.
Diamonds, 9[illegible] Gold, Silver, Platinum
Watches, Jewelry, Silverware
Open Evenings. 57 Bromfield st.

MAIL ORDER—PARCEL POST
ELECTRIC STOVES for camp or home; ENQUIRY 1270 W. Beach 1[illegible].

FURNITURE
BABY carriages sold 50c on the dollar. BEACH BAY FURNITURE CO., Broadway Bridge; Broadline 8581-M.

LOST AND FOUND
LOST—AIREDALE DOG
Old Bedlington Jack Hill strain of Newton Centre, a little over two weeks ago. Answers to name of Ted; liberal reward. GEORGE GROW, 324 Columbus av., Boston. Tel. 2625, Bay 7600.

$25 REWARD
LOST on S. R. & L. R. R. opening pictures of Roman Empire & 1921 America. Finder please call Beach 1[illegible].

LOST—On Forest Hills train at Dudley st. Elevated station, Thursday, July 6, 1922, a purse. Phone Roxbury 2255—W. Reward.

LEGAL AND PUBLIC NOTICE
JUSTICE OF THE PEACE AL GOREY
NOTARY. Always handy, 24 Centre sq., Dorchester. 1265 Columbus av., phone Parkman 6[illegible].

What School?
A Service to Help You Choose
THE Information Bureaus of the Boston American will be glad to help you settle this question satisfactorily. From them you may secure, without any cost, complete and reliable information. Use the coupon below.

INTERNATIONAL BUREAUS
HOTELS, RESORTS, TRAVEL AND EDUCATIONAL
NEW YORK BOSTON HARLEM BOSTON DISTRICT WASHINGTON CHICAGO MINNEAPOLIS SEATTLE SAN FRANCISCO OAKLAND LOS ANGELES SPRINGFIELD ATLANTA

Boston American, 80 Summer St., Boston

Please check below the kind of school desired, and indicate in space following preferences as to location, religious denomination, etc.

....Accountancy School	....Fashion Drawing School
....Advertising School	....Garment Designing School
....Architectural and Mechanical Drawing School	....Girls' Boarding or Finishing School
....Art School	....Interior Decorating School
....Automobile School	....Language School
....Business College	....Law School
....Catholic School for Boys	....Millinery School
....Civil Service School	....Motion Picture School
....Conservatory School	....Music Conservatory
....Dancing School	....Nautical School
....Domestic Science School	....School of Salesmanship
....Drawing School	....School of Stammerers
....Dressmaking School	....Technical School
....Electrical School	....Telegraph School
....Elocution, Literary and Dramatic Art	....Vocational School
....Engineering School	....Wireless School

Your Name .....
Prospective Student's Name .....
Street Address .....
City .....State .....
When Student Plans to Enter .....
Remarks .....

No sacrifice is too great to maintain the right.—Thomas W. White, Massachusetts supervisor of administration.

BOSTON AMERICAN

Largest Evening Circulation in New England—July 11, 1922

Total amount for maintenance of the Public Works Department of the city of Boston for the year of 1920 was $6,523,065.

Transfer of Alonzo R. Weed

His Removal From Public Utilities Department Embarrassing to Case Against Edison Company

The removal of Alonzo R. Weed from the Public Utilities Department to a place upon the Superior Bench is most embarrassing to those who are trying the case of the City of Boston, the Boston American and others against the Edison Electric Illuminating Company.

Mr. Weed was the most experienced man on the Commission. He had been long a member of the Gas & Electric Light Commission and for years was chairman. He is an able man who has served the public long and faithfully.

We do not blame him for accepting what he believes is a more desirable position. It is more desirable in that it pays more money and that it is a position for life, while membership on a Public Utilities Board is uncertain. It is as full of uncertainty as a rocking boat. The moment the public service corporations which the Public Utilities Department is empowered to regulate find a man a little too independent, they begin to reorganize the Board and get him out that way if they can. If they cannot do that then they do what they did in the case of Perley Hall and, we fear, Alonzo Weed. They transfer him to the Superior Bench and get rid of him that way.

The Superior Bench will gain, of course, what the Public Utilities Board will lose by the transference of Mr. Weed from the Board to the Bench. But he was far more useful to the public and had far more power as the most experienced member of the Public Utilities Board. This board ought to receive the salaries of the judges of the Superior Bench. They ought to receive the pensions and the dignity, for its individual members are dealing, with finality, with very much more important matters than the Justices of the Superior Court, as important as their work is, and none recognise the importance of the judges more than this newspaper.

But nothing of the sort will be done because the corporations want to continue to be able to monkey with the Board which is supposed to control them.

What a farce private ownership and public regulation is after all! How long will it be before our people realise the fact and take control of all their public utilities and get rid of the political corruption and the extortion and all the other undesirable features which inevitably attend the private operation of public utilities?

League of Women Voters

Mrs. Maud Wood Park, a distinguished Boston woman, who is president of the National League of Women Voters, on her visit to Boston, tells us that the League is growing rapidly. She cited for example the recent increase of more than 8,000 members on the Pacific Coast alone.

We are very glad to know that the League of Women Voters is growing. Women need to organize and hold the power of organisation for some years yet. They cannot hope to do immediately what men have learned to do during 150 years. Therefore, in order to keep their influence, they need to stand together in organizations which will assure them proper information and guidance for a few years at least until they have found themselves in their new field.

Simplified Spelling

It is reported in the press that there is under consideration by the authorities at Harvard a plan for introducing simplified or phonetic spelling.

We hope it is true. The spelling of English words is very arbitrary, uncertain and difficult. A great deal too much of our time in life both as children and as grown-ups is taken in learning to spell. We ought to know how to spell by merely knowing how to pronounce.

Some years ago the idea was pretty generally abroad. Theodore Roosevelt as President endorsed it, and even used the phonetic spelling in his writing, for example, "through" became "t-h-r-u."

Some of us never acquire the ability to spell the way the English words are now spelled. It is an annoyance to them throughout their lives.

Reciprocity With Canada

We hope that the conference scheduled at Washington between Secretary of State Hughes and Premier King of Canada will result in some movement toward reciprocity with Canada. New England very much needs a freer trade with Canada and Canada very much needs freer trade with New England.

In the Taft Administration, we did offer reciprocity to Canada, but the industrial interests of Canada by the use of large sums of money in places where the corrupt practice laws are scarcely known, defeated the plan. It ought, however, to be taken up again.

How to Fix Your Money

Copyright, 1922, Star Company.

Having inflated currency beyond the wildest dream, so that postage cost 60,000 rubles ($30,000), Russia has a plan for deflating back to normalcy.

Bills outstanding, each marked ONE HUNDRED MILLION rubles, would have been worth fifty million dollars in old days. They are to be replaced with 10,000 ruble bills. Similar action will be taken with bills of other denominations.

Thus Russia hopes to cut down her internal debts 10,000 fold. The rubles now circulating amount to THIRTY MILLION MILLION rubles, or thirty thousand billions, a figure to stagger our most patriotic profiteer. More definite Russian news is that Lenin is better. Without him Russia would be like a watch without a mainspring.

A Gilt-Edged Investment

The Voice of New England

British Propaganda

Editor Boston American:

Seeing so many letters in your valued paper relative to British Propaganda, I wish to add another. At the Teachers' convention, we had a representative from England whose address was very condescending to us Americans; told us what we should and should not do as regards our school business. I wonder what would happen in England, if I, for instance, should be sent over there for such downright, "sticking my nose in," where it was not wanted? There must be a stop put to those agents of England in this country. A forceful ejection would, to my mind, suit the problem, if our government will not act quickly.

A TEACHER.

The True Orangeman

Editor Boston American:

Permit me to reply to the report published in the Boston American of July 6th regarding the Orange Pograms in Derry and Belfast, Ireland, against the Catholic citizens of these cities. The statement that Catholic citizens are being ruthlessly murdered by Orangemen in the employ of the British Government is an example of Irish propaganda. The average American knows very little of the beliefs and practices of Orangemen. Though deriving their name from one William Prince of Orange once reigning ruler in England and president of the Dutch Republic, the name does not imply, "And they are not in any way allied with England." Orangeism is universal, there being many fine lodges in Massachusetts and we in the memory of William Prince of Orange and of his noble defense of the Protestant religion and the free speech and Freedom of worship which we Americans enjoy so fully. The Great Orange Order was created to maintain and advance the work of Freedom which William of Orange so nobly began. The principles of Orangeism were first planted on these shores by such men as Captain Miles Standish, he himself being a Royal Black Knight of the Orange Order.

Evidently this report was originated by wholesale bigots against Protestantism and the Orange Order and is in itself a lie.

With reference to Orange Council held in Belfast in 1919 where, it is stated plans were laid for the carrying out of these imaginary Pograms against Catholics, this is also a false report.

D. M. STUART,
An American Orangeman.
Fall River.

Barre (Vt.) Strike

Editor Boston American:

While I have been reading your reports of the strikes and labor problems in Manchester, N. H., and other places, I have been wondering if the American Kaisers, with their open shops and so-called American plan, were giving the people some of the democracy they fought for. According to reports in the papers, it seems to me that our police force, deputies, detectives, the government, the army and the Supreme Court are only for the protection of scabs and strike-breakers, grafters, tyrants and patriotic profiteers in the glorious land of the brave and the free. For cruelty and barbarism the people have never been cursed with anything worse than wage slavery. And now, sir, I wish to inform you that Barre, Vt., is no paradise. Since we went into the war for democracy, we have been suffering with all kinds of paralysis, from infantile to moral and industrial. Since April 1 we have been tied up with a strike in the granite industry, a protest against a reduction of wages and the high cost of living and the so-called American plan. The slave masters want the open shop. They have jobs for strike-breakers, but not for union men. They had about 35 deputies to protect a few dozen strike-breakers, and watch the most peaceable and law-abiding people to be found anywhere. And the State of Vermont paying for such dirty work with the people's money. The abolition of American rights and freedom, high cost of living, high taxes, long hours of labor, starvation wages and policemen's clubs! Is this the kind of democracy the brave American boys fought for?

JOHN T. CALLAGHAN.

MR. BRYAN, HIGH PRIVATE, WE THANK YOU!

By Dr. Charles Fleischer

WE ought to think well of our presidents—and be thankful for them.

They make a better average of intelligence, morality and personal calibre than any list of an equal number of any nation's rulers.

By the same token, we ought to be thankful that some men never got nearer the presidency than their own ambitions and a defeated party's nomination has brought them.

A case in point is William Jennings Bryan.

He is the nearest approach to perpetual motion and emotion at flood which American politics and American oratory have produced.

A man of undoubted intelligence and unquestionable morality, his mentality is self-limited by his wearing of intellectual "blinders," and his goodness is made obnoxious by the very cockiness of his morality.

And his metaphysical philosophy, religion or whatever Mr. Bryan would call his combative medievalism—it reminds one of what Josh Billings said of a certain brand of preachers, "he wishes they didn't know so many things rather than know so many things that ain't so."

Doubtless Mr. Bryan means well; but consider our country's escape from his presidency and please believe that a merciful Providence still watches over our Republic.

Think of a man with the range of experience and the gamut of opportunity which have been Mr. Bryan's, devoting himself, in what ought to be his prime, to fighting Darwinism and the scientific spirit.

Practically all organized intelligence now takes evolution for granted, whatever can or can not be proved regarding the descent or ascent of man.

If Mr. Bryan prefers to make a monkey of himself rather than admit ape-ish relationship in his pre-Admite ancestry, none can deny him the pleasure of thus giving present personal proof of the Darwinian Theory.

Apparently now, in his judgment, man's headpiece has been misplaced and misused, for the latest pronouncement of this self-appointed mentor of his people is that we are overestimating the mind's part in life and underestimating the heart's part.

"One of the chief sins of the present day is mind worship," says he.

Pity 'tis, 'tisn't true! Without meaning to lessen the influence of sentiment and emotion and even of a seeing faith, one could wish that mind were reverenced more and the light of the intellect were followed wherever it might lead.

For, in the last analysis, there is no conflict between mind and heart. They are friendly rivals in the search for truth, and check up each other's discoveries.

(Copyright, 1922, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

If This Is Your Birthday

You Are LUCKY

IF today is your birthday you should be pre-eminently successful in business because your mind is one that naturally reduces all problems instantly to their essential factors and you proceed to act in the light of the facts regardless of the consequences.

The ensuing year will be one of great activity for you. Your capacity for work will increase with success, and you will do more and earn more with each successive quarter.

A child born today will be affectionate and intelligent and unusually fortunate in life.

Famous Persons Born This Day:

John Quincy Adams—6th President of the U. S.

Austin Corbin—Railroad president.

John Wanamaker—Merchant.

Edward J. Phelps—Diplomat.

(Copyright, 1922, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Once-Overs

Copyright, 1922, by International Feature Service, Inc.

EVER BEEN TAUNTED BY THOUGHTLESS FRIENDS?

Did you ever cook an excellent meal, just enough for your own family, and do it when hard, continuous labor had made it impossible for you to eat till then?

If so, imagine how you would feel to have a board of persons, for whom you cared nothing, in fact, did not know well, drop in on you for dinner.

To make it worse, perhaps, they just gobbled the dainty viands, not noticing that you had to refrain from eating so that there would be enough, and all the time they kept smacking their lips and exclaiming, "how good."

Were you ever placed in the position of longing for the country as a regular diet. You had lived in the country all your young days and knew just how happy and healing the beautiful colorings and the fresh breezes could be.

You could not get there. You longed for it. You strained every nerve to make it possible to get that cooling draught as a part of your life.

Then someone comes along exhuberant because of the delightful inspiration gotten in the place you wanted to be—could hardly live without—and that one, thoughtless of your position, raves about it.

SEEN AND HEARD

"ROCKWOOD HALL" will be the name of the large community auditorium in the new high school in Everett, now under completion, if the desire of Everett's citizenry is carried out. Thus named in honor of PRINCIPAL WILBUR J. ROCKWOOD, the hall will be lasting proof of just how much Everett folk think of one of the best-loved educators in New England. Principal Rockwood, because of a serious illness brought on from overwork, has been absent from his flock much of the past year. He is resting up for the coming year at his Summer home on the shores of the Bay of Fundy. The proposed name is particularly fitting in view of the fact that the new school was won from the city fathers by the insistent appeals of Mr. Rockwood.

Yes, sir, it's being done every day. Double chins removed. Here's the lowdown on it from the Beauty Parlors. Cut little pieces of skin behind the ear, stick on court plaster, pull down the hair to hide the scar. Explanation: The healing of the skin together, in turn drawing the flesh of the double chin back. Easy? You bet. Only don't do it yourself, for world-famous physicians in New York are getting $5,000 a throw for the operation, and have the afternoons off at that.

It's nothing for a congressman to swear at reporters. Nothing for school teachers, ministers, bank presidents or Republican presidents to blankety-blank at reporters' questions. CHARLES GARLAND, the philanthropic young millionaire who figured in the limelight recently, never once swore during weeks of barrages of reporters' questions. Yet when his horse kicked the side of the barn out and fell through the decayed floor planking, Charles rushed to his aid, flung aside his terrific Eastern and Oriental control and said grandiloquently: Oh, damn. "One touch of nature makes the whole world kin."

The farmer has raised the price of milk
Because his pasture's dry;
But the average fella who totes an umbrella
Can't see the reason why.

A Dancers pear tree, planted in 1631 and still bearing fruit, attracted many delegates of the National Education Association. The tree was planted by Governor John Endicott, and today is the property of the ninth descendant of the Governor. George Washington, Abraham Lincoln and Daniel Webster bit many a pear from it.

Weymouth and Quincy are probably the only two cities in Massachusetts where women are allowed a 5-cent fare. This happens through enterprise of Granite City merchants, who pay street railway 25 cents for 15-trip card of shoppers' tickets, which they sell to female patrons for 75c

GARRETT P. SERVISS ON WEIGHT AT EQUATOR

By Garrett P. Serviss

"Please explain why a person weighs half as much half way to the equator. There has been much difference of opinion, and I would be very grateful if you would explain it.—Miss I. S., Roxbury, Mass."

I AM very glad to find so many young women interested in such thoughtful questions. To begin, I must correct your information about the amount of the loss of weight suffered by persons who go toward the earth's equator.

If it were as much as you state there would be a rush of extra heavyweights equatorwards, to the detriment of anti-fat foodstuffs; while the famous visitor from Mars, whom we are always invoking, if not actually expecting, might go home with a wonderful story of a world whose population was arranged in latitudinal zones, the big fellows being concentrated along the equator, the medium-sized ones in the middle latitudes, and the lightweights about the poles!

The loss of weight instead of amounting to one-half, is, in reality, a very small fraction. In fact, if you should start at the North or the South Pole and go to the equator you would find that the total loss of weight amounted to only about 1-190 of its original amount. That is to say, if you weighed, with a spring balance, ninety-five pounds when you were at the Pole, you would by half a pound lighter when you reached the equator.

But I hope that your curiosity extends to the cause of this loss of weight—and I have no doubt that it does. The cause is two-fold—centrifugal force, due to the earth's surface and its centre of gravity, due to increase of the earth as the globe as the equator is approached. This increase of girth, or "bulging" of the earth in the equatorial portion, is itself a result of centrifugal force.

The centrifugal force is greater at the equator than anywhere else because the circumference of the earth being largest there, the tangential velocity at the surface is greatest. Right at the poles there is no centrifugal force, because there the surface has no tangential velocity. I must leave you for the present to find out for yourself the definition of "tangential velocity," but you can see practically what is meant if you reflect that, standing on the pole, you would simply be turned round by the earth's rotation once in twenty-four hours, while if you stood on the equator the rotation would carry you forward about a thousand miles an hour, and you would be something like a stone whirled at the end of a string, for your forward motion would have a tendency to shoot you off the earth.

And, indeed, if with you on the equator the earth should start rotating at a speed of about 1,700 miles an hour instead of 1,000 you actually would be detached, for the centrifugal force would be equal to the earth's attraction, i. e., to your weight, and you would weigh nothing, so that the earth could not prevent you from flying away, like an angel.

But then the funny thing is that a 300-pound person would fly away just as easily as you, because the diminution of weight would have the same proportion for all bodies, from which we might argue that weight is not the sole criterion of an angel.

—Medbury Says—

He Will Tell a Girl Something While Dancing That He Wouldn't at a Table

There is a new song out called "Say It While Dancing," and this is a good idea. Many a man can tell a girl something on a dance floor that he's afraid to say at the table. If he has anything very important to ask her he waltzes over by the check room so that if she gets sore he is right near his hat.

If she becomes insulted and starts to wrestle with him, nobody will bother them. The other patrons will think they're dancing.

A man never really knows a girl until he marries her, but if he dances with her a couple of times he can get a pretty good idea.

The way some couples act on the floor you can't tell whether they're dancing or choking each other.

One guy was talking to a dame so fast and handing her such a line of bull that by the time the orchestra stopped playing she was almost asphyxiated.

Some birds hand out the durham so fast that it won't be long before the girls will have to wear gas masks.

Every man likes to whisper things into a girl's ear, providing he can find it.

One bird tried to whisper something into his girl's ear and when he got through he had six hairpins sticking in his mouth.

But he didn't care because the doctor told him he should take lots of iron.

He was trying to slip honey from her lips and he got stuck for the drinks.

It's all right for the girls to wear hats but they shouldn't make them out of barbed wire.

It's true that you see a lot of business men taking their stenographers to cages in the evening and dancing with them, if they can't get through with their dictating in the day time they've got to finish it at night.

You don't get sore if you happen to run into your husband talking earnestly to his stenographer, may be he's giving her an important letter.

It's bound to be business even if its monkey.

If he's holding her hand and pressing his cheek against hers don't let that worry you either, he's just adding a personal touch to the letter.

He might even kiss her. She carries the letter in her head and he has to seal the envelope.

After all, dancing is made up of three things, walking, talking and baking.

JOHN P. MEDBURY.

(Copyright, 1922, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)